Pennsylvania's Gov. Tom Ridge and son Tom donated foods to the "Inaugural Food Harvest" collection point at the PDA booth in the Farm Show last Saturday during a tour of the show prior to the governor's official opening ceremony in the Large Arena. Gov. Ridge and First Lady Michele Ridge initiated the food drive last year at the inaugural events to help the 23 regional food banks in the state. Gov. Ridge Opens Farm Show, Keynotes International Dinner

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Addressing the Pennsylvania Farm Show International Day Dinner last Friday night, Pennsylvania's Gov. Tom Ridge told the 1,300 attendees in the Harrisburg Hilton and Towers, the farm show is an great opportunity to celebrate the presence of international guests and pay tribute to the families in Pennsylvania agriculture.

"We have quality products for the planet," Ridge said. "But not only do we produce products from many segments of agriculture that we hope will be of the qualtiy you seek, the men and women who produce these products are of the quality you seek as well. We get together with you (international visitors) not only as potential customers but as friends.

"This farm show is also a wonderful tribute to the agriculture families in Pennsylvania. We are proud to be the keystone of the nation's bread basket. The farming life is the back bone of our commonwealth and that's why this annual farm show is so very

A new shoo fly pie baking contest was held this year at the Pennsylvania Farm Show. The winner was Debra Martin from Conestoga in Lancaster County. She received a $500 first prize. The $100 second place award went to Doris Kreider, Bird in Hand, Lancaster County, and the $50 third place prize went to LaVern Hunsicker, Lehighton, Carbon County. Lou Ann Good of the Lancaster Farming staff plans to visit the home kitchen of the winner in the near future. Watch for her mouth-watering report. $28,000 Sets Record Price For Farm Show Sale Of Champions

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A Pennsylvania Farm Show record was made Thursday when Bill Campbell, CEO of Hoss's Steak and Sea House, purchased the grand champion steer of the 1999 event for $28,000.

The previous record was set last year by Hoss's, i.e. Campbell, for $27,000.

Justin Claycomb of Bedford County exhibited the 1,280-pound grand champion steer, that had a market value of $793.60 according to the buyer's sheets distributed prior to the sale.

Buyers sheets are distributed just as at any other sale, except for the junior livestock sales the market price is included. Buyers don't

Jersey Cow Is Farm Show Supreme

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A 5-year-old Jersey cow owned by Bryan and Patricia Huff of Wind Ridge Farm in Cochranville on Tuesday was named supreme champion of the Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg.

The Farm Show supreme dairy cow title is presented to the best grand champion out of the grand champions representing the six breeds exhibited at the Farm Show.

The grand champions are brought into the Large Arena of the Farm Show Complex after the conclusion of the individual breed shows.

The three judges who judged the six breeds during the day score the grand champions of the breed they did not judge, and the three judges' score cards are tallied and a supreme champion selected.

The judges for the shows were Christine Wood of Littlestown who judged Holsteins and Milkin

CATTLE: Compared to Tuesday, slaughter steers sold fully .50 and instances 1.00 higher. Most producers who braved the ice-storm and hazardous roads brought Choice and Prime cattle; and buyer demand for those types was very good. Slaughter heifers were firm to .50 higher and a light run of Holstein steers sold 1.00 higher. Slaughter cow trading was uneven, the fleshy cows sold weak to .50 lower, while the leaner types (over 85 pct) were as much as 2.00 lower. Slaughter bulls sold weak in a very light test. Supply included 38 percent slaughter steers and 44 percent slaughter cows.

SLAUGHTER STEERS: High Choice and Prime 2-4 1135-1465 lbs 63.00-65.50. Choice 2-3 1135-1475 lbs 61.75-64.00; 1500-1570 lbs 57.00-62.50. Select and low Choice 2-3 1095-1500 lbs 57.50-61.75; 1520-1670 lbs 52.00-56.50. Select 1-3 1045-1420 lbs 54.00-58.00.

Delmarva Broiler

ATLANTA, GA.
JANUARY 13, 1999

DELMARVA BROILER/FRYER MARKET. FEDERAL-STATE

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was slow to instances fair. Offerings were adequate to fully adequate and were generally more readily available on the heavier sizes. Live supplies were at least moderate; weights were usually noted as desirable to heavy. Processing schedules were moderate to heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 56 to 70 cents. Trade sentiment was mostly steady. In the parts complex, supplies of bone-in breasts and wings were snug at most plants. Boneless skinless breasts were irregularly balanced. Drums were no more than adequate; however, other leg items were fully adequate.

USDA-MO Dept Ag Market News

DAILY NATIONAL GRAIN SUMMARY

Grain and soybean bids continued to decline, pressured by ongoing slow export business, profit taking on the Boards, and carryover weak- ness from yesterday. Wheat 3 to 11 cents lower. Corn 1 to 2 cents lower. Sorghum 4 cents lower. Soybeans 3 to 5 cents lower. USDA's increase in wheat ending stocks yesterday continued to weigh on wheat bids, especially for soft red wheat. CCC's early week purchase of wheat has been the only sale this week. Light overnight sales of corn and beans to Taiwan failed to push bids higher. Rainfall in Argentina overnight and the Brazilian currency devaluation also put pressure on bids. Some profit taking was noted on the Board

Proven pumping power that won't pump your wallet dry

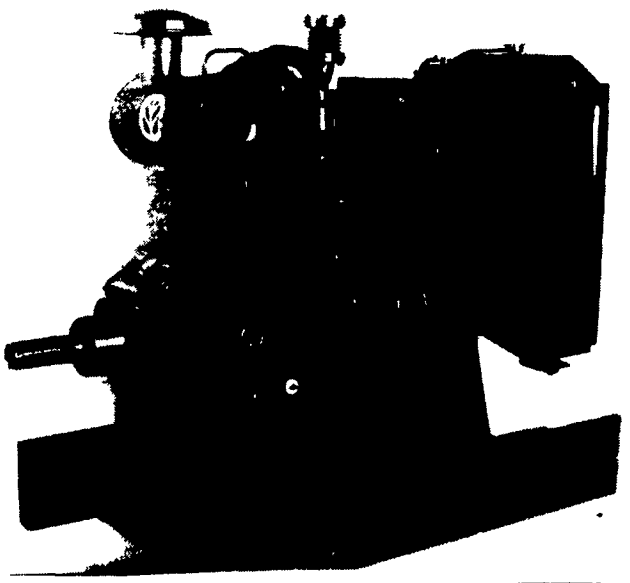
Come In And See It On Display At Our Open House



If you think high power means high price in stationary engines, it's now time to think again.

7000 and 8000 Series Stationary Engines for irrigation

These new power units beat the competition with:

- More horsepower at a lower speed.
- Better fuel economy.
- Rugged, cast iron cylinder heads and block.
- Easy-to-reach, single-side service points
- Renewable cylinder liners.
- Lower price, too!

Come see the engines that are proving they can pump your well without pumping your wallet dry

The OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC THIS WEEK WITH

IT'S A BOY!

January 20 was regarded by the ancients as a propitious day for the birth of men Or should we say boys? George Burns certainly found longevity and success from that birthday, as did the Italian film master Federico Fellini U S astronaut Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin took his January 20 propitiousness all the way to the Moon and returned to write about it in his autobiography, Return to Earth Twin Peaks director, David Lynch, found his heights through movies (Blue Velvet) and television Star Trek's doctor, "Bones" (DeForest Kelley), and jazz drummer Jimmy Cobb also share this Capricorn birthday

Fame is but the breath of the people.

TIP OF THE WEEK

EASY CHICKEN CUTLETS

- 4 boneless, skinless chicken breast halves
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/2 cup bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- salt and pepper, to taste
- 1 package frozen spinach (not chopped)
- 1/2 cup spaghetti sauce
- 4 slices provolone

Pound chicken to about a 1/2-inch thickness Dip into egg, then into bread crumbs Sauté chicken in olive oil until browned and cooked through (about 5 minutes per side) Season with salt and pepper Meanwhile, steam spinach and drain well Arrange chicken cutlets in baking pan and top each with spaghetti sauce Add a layer of spinach over the sauce, then a slice of cheese Bake at 350° F for about 10 minutes, to melt cheese.

Makes 4 servings.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER PROVERBS

Wet January, a wet spring.

Dry January, plenty of wine.

January blossoms fill no man's cellar.

If the Sun shines on St. Vincent's Day (Jan. 22), we shall have more wine than water.

The Building you want. The Lease you need.

Telmark has been leasing equipment for over 30 years. Did you know that we've been leasing new buildings for that long too? Consider:

- Tax deductibility and accelerated write-offs: Lease payments are income tax deductible over the term of the lease compared to 20-year depreciation of farm buildings and 39-year depreciation of commercial buildings. Could reduce tax liability this year.
- Low upfront costs: Beginning costs as little as one monthly lease payment.
- Flexible lease term: Building lease terms start aggressively at five years but may be as long as ten, twelve, or fifteen years.
- Customized payment schedules: Lease payment schedules are specially designed to match your cash flow.

First: Talk with a qualified builder to determine your needs and building cost.
Then: Call your Telmark representative for your financing.

OPINION

Measuring Agricultre's Economic Contribution To The Economy

With the expansion and increasing complexity of agribusiness, and the heightened interdependence among activities that produce food and fiber products, it grows more difficult to view the agriculture industry solely from the perspective of production agriculture. The activity at the Pennsylvania Farm Show this week certainly proves the point of this interdependence of farming and the urban community.

Writing in the September/October edition of Farm Economics, published by Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences, Keith Jones and Milton Hallberg, department of agricultural economics and rural sociology, said producers are obtaining more inputs from off-farm sources and performing fewer activities or processes that lead to a final product. Many producers have internalized these activities and processes and have integrated them to the degree that it becomes extremely difficult to isolate them. In view of this, the Exonomic Research Service characterizes the national food and fiber system as the total economic activity associated with providing the food, clothing, tobacco, flowers, and other agricultural products that consumers and government purchase.

Based on a full accounting of the interindustry transactions yielding impact multipliers, more useful conclusions about agriculture's contributions are apparent. In particular, for every one-dollar increase in direct output of the agricutural industry, an additional eighty-cent output is generated throughout the rest of the economy; for every additional job generated directly in agriculture, 1.8 additional jobs are generated, and for every one dollar increase in personal income, an additional dollar fifty in personal income is generated throughout the rest of the economy.

We are reminded again that changes in agriculture's segment of the economy has a huge effect on the entire economy. That's another reason (the first reason is that everyone eats) why we need to keep agriculture strong in eastern U.S. and in the entire nation for that matter.

Now Is The Time

Lancaster County Agricultural Agent

To Check Firewood for Insects

A pile of firewood is an ideal place for insects and spiders to hibernate through winter, according to Dr. Timothy Elkner, Lancaster County Horticultural Agent. Always wear gloves when reaching into a woodpile Many inhabitants of your woodpile are capable of biting. Although there is a little chance of being bitten by a poisonous insect, any bite will still be painful. Besides spiders, other pests living in woodpiles include wood borers, beetles, carpenter ants, termites, bees and wood roaches Store firewood outdoors in open areas, as far away from the house as practical.

Stack firewood off the ground to reduce wood rot and pest problems. Never stack wood against your house. Cover the woodpile with plastic or sheet metal roofing to keep the wood dry. Bring only enough firewood into the house to be burned immediately. Firewood stored inside the home over an hour may warm up enough for the insects to emerge from within or under the bark and start their spring activities early. Do not store firewood in a heated garage or basement for the same reasons.

To Control Yard and Garden Diseases

A little work now will save yourself lots of trouble next summer, according to Dr. Timothy Elkner, Lancaster County Horticultural Agent. Use the warm weather spells this winter to reduce the chance of plant disease problems in your yard or garden next year.

Most of the infectious diseases that occur on landscape and garden plants are caused by fungi that have specialized structures that allow them to survive the winter. As warmer spring temperatures occur, these fungi seek the assistance of wind and rain to find their plant host and continue their life cycle. Sanitation or cleaning up is important to break this over wintering disease cycle.

Sanitation consists of activities aimed at removing or reducing disease organisms. Practices such as tilling, removing infected leaves and cutting out sick or dead branches will help reduce the amount of disease that may develop. diseases that over winter on perennial plants include peony leaf blotch and iris leaf spot.

These diseases survive the winter on old leaves and stems. Sanitation involves removing stems and leaves before new growth appears in the spring. Warm winter days are ideal times to practice sanitation in your garden if you did not clean up in the fall.

To Prune Disease Trees

Dr. Timothy Elkner, Lancaster County Extension Horticultural Agent, reminds us sanitation measures are not only important for flowering perennials, but are also important for woody plants such as trees and shrubs.

Black knot is an easily recognized, widespread disease on cherry and plum branches, eventually causing these branches to die Diseased branches must be cut out in order to stop this disease. It is often easiest to prune deciduous woody plants after the leaves have fallen. The symptoms are more visible.

Warm winter days are again ideal for controlling this and other diseases in your landscape. Remember, when pruning diseased portions of plants, always make cuts in healthy tissue below the infected area to ensure that all the diseased tissue has been removed By spending some time working outdoors during this winter, you may spend next summer enjoying your yard rather than working to control plant diseases.

Feather Prof.'s Footnote. "Patience and perseverance have a magical effect in making difficulties disappear and obstacles vanish."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WAS JESUS A RADICAL?
January 17, 1999

Background Scripture:
Matthew 18:1-4; 20: 17-28
Devotional Reading:
Galatians 5:13-15

Do your realize that he word radical when used as an adjective can have two very different meanings? Today we tend to think of only one meaning: extreme, drastic, or beyond moderation. But radical can also mean fundamental, essential or basic. In fact, the term originates in the Latin word radix, which means "root." (Thus the name radish derived from the fact that it is a root.) Originally, then, a radical was a person who went to the root of things.

In regard Jesus was certainly a radical. What makes his teachings and his life so authoritative is that he always went to the root of things. He dealt with internal realities rather than external appearances. He was not concerned with ritual so much as righteousness, with words so much as deeds. Even when he said, "You have heard that it was said, "You shall not commit adultery." But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman lustfully with her in his heart," he is emphasizing the fundamental, basic realities of true religion. (Matt. 5:27, 28).

A RADICAL 'GREATNESS'

I firmly believe, however, that Jesus was also a radical in that other sense of the word. What he proposed was not a myriad of moderate changes, but a drastic, even extreme change in spiritual values and actions. His language was uncompromising: "If your right eye causes you to sin, pluck it out and throw it away." His actions–driving the money-changers from the Temple–were no less drastic. His call to discipleship still seems fanatical and he suffered a radical's death on a cross.

Truly, Jesus came to help us see ourselves,the world and life with radically different eyes. When he was asked, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?", no one in the crowd that day could have anticipated his radical answer. "And calling to him a child, he put him in the midst of them, and said 'Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Whoever humbles himself like this child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven." (Matt. 18:1-4).

Two thousand years later these words may not sound so extreme, but they are if we really take them to heart. He is proposing not just some changes in our concept of 'greatness,' but a virtual revolution in our basic attitudes toward all the things that really matter. He is not a fixer who comes to make minor repairs in our lives, but one who wishes to make extensive renovations.

A DIFFERENT 'GREATNESS'

This radical new view of "greatness" was something emphasized throughout his ministry. Once was not sufficient for the disciples to get it right. In fact, they struggled with it for the rest of their lives as we do today. Despite our exposure to his teachings and example, we still have trouble with it. The reason: because it is so radically different from what the world teaches us.

As Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, "the mother of the sons of Zebedee came to him with her sons and kneeling before him she asked him for something...Command that these two sons of mine may sit, one at your right hand and one at your left, in your kingdom." Although the other disciples were indignant, Jesus was not offended and seized the opportunity once again to drive home his revolutionary teaching on greatness: "...whoever would be great among you must be your servant" (20:28).

Jesus was speaking not only about 'greatness,' but also his whole concept of live:" .. the son of man came not to be served but to serve, and give his life as a ransom for many." Now as then it is a radical, yes even extreme concept of what life is for.

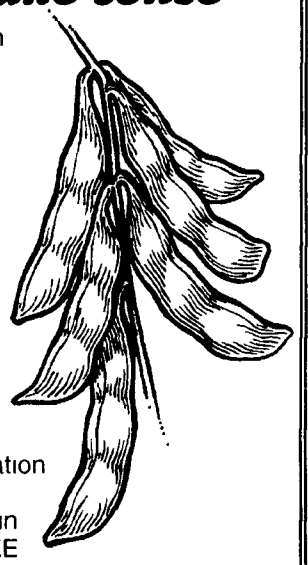
Sell your beans?
"It just doesn't make sense"

1. Why loose the 18% high energy oil in your own beans?
2. Why let the soybean processor take the valuable lechicin?
3. Why forfeit 50% of the metabolizable energy over SBM?
4. Why pay storage, trucking and shrink?



Be sensible!

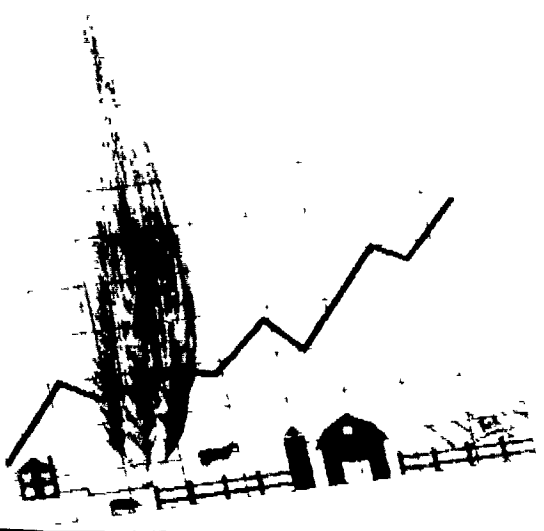
Ag Symposium - 1999

Pennsylvania Agriculture in the 21st Century

A SYMPOSIUM ON PROFITABILITY

Pennsylvania Agriculture — PA Department of Agriculture — Products for the Planet

Thank you for your interest in the 1999 Symposium on Pennsylvania Agriculture in the 21st Century. This will be a symposium on the tremendous opportunities available to Pennsylvania agriculture with an eye on profitability and economic success This is an exciting time to be discussing our preparation for the next century Agriculture continues to be Pennsylvania's leader industry, employing more than 1 million Pennsylvanians in agriculture occupations and contributing over $44 billion to the economy every year Pennsylvania agriculture finds itself in a highly competitive marketplace at home and around the planet The agricultural community must continue its historical quest for excellence and growth in a very complex and rapidly changing environment



It is imperative that all persons in production agriculture, public agencies, agribusiness, universities, and agricultural organizations, work in partnership to encourage and promote agriculture in all of its aspects throughout Pennsylvania into the 21st Century This year's symposium presents an excellent forum for us to share ideas about the new opportunities in agriculture and begin the dialogue to develop a cooperative framework for continued success and profitability into the next century

LAST WEEK	2574	1822
LAST YEAR	2405	1752

CATTLE: Compared to last week's closing prices, slaughter steers closed mostly steady to weak. The market almost fully recovered from early week losses. Strength was gained from a strong dressed beef market and weather that has slowed the movement of Midwestern cattle into this area for the second week in a row. Western direct slaughter cattle trading gained 1.00 this week at 62.00 live and mostly 99.00 dressed. Local slaughter heifers and Holstein steers ended the week steady in a fairly light test. Slaughter cows closed steady to 1.00 lower, with the full decline placed on the leaner type cows late in the week. Slaughter bulls sold steady to 1.00 higher, but were not well tested after Monday. Supply was made up of around 42 percent slaughter steers, 8 percent slaughter heifers, 41 percent slaughter cows, 4 percent bulls, with the balance made up of feeder cattle.

Yorktown Spinners Top 1999 Sheep To Shawl Contest

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) – With Pennsylvania's First Lady Michele M. Ridge presiding the small arena of the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show was alive Monday evening with the sounds of sheep and shears at the 1999 Sheep to Shawl Contest.

When it was over, the Yorktown Spinners of York County had spun their way to victory, followed by "Penn-Wheels" of Montgomery County, and "Weave Made It" from Bucks County, taking third place for its creation.

Immediately following the contest the shawls were auctioned with the first place shawl selling for $1,425, the second place shawl for $550, and the third place creation for $225. The Yorktown Spinners donated $1,050 of the proceeds to the York County 4-H Sheep Club.

Chairperson of the competition is Karen Varner of Hershey, Dauphin County. Karen Strawbridge of Campbelltown, Lebanon County; Jean Flaxenberg, Elverson, Chester County; and Dick Plotts of Lock Haven, Clinton County, served as judges for the competition.

During the competition, members of the audience were invited to try their hand at carding, spinning and weaving. Blue Grass music was performed by Allen and Paul Kern. Scottish music was presented along with a demonstration of tartans and kilts by the Quittapahilla Highlanders of Lebanon County.

In finishing first, the team captured the "Weaver's Award" for creativity of the design, use of color and skill, and the "Spinner's Award" which recognizes the quality of workmanship and the spinner's team spirit and cooperation. The Spinners also received the "Team's Choice Award" as voted by other teams competing in the contest. Natlan Good, the winning team's shearer also won the "Shearer's Award" for careful handling of the sheep and exceptional skill.

Creating a shawl is an intricate process. Each time is composed of a shearer, a weaver, and three spinners who compete to craft a quality homemade shawl from start to finish. Three judges evaluate and score the teams on the basis of shearing, spinning, design of the shawl, weaving, speed and team identification.

The shearing portion of the competition is judged for speed, lack of small nicks to the wool, lack of cuts to the sheep, uniformity and shearing. The spinning portion is evaluated based on the individual spinning of the members and how it relates to the design of the shawl. They are also judged for fleece preparation, which may done by all team members.

The team is then scored on the design and appearance of their finished shawl. Judges look for originality in design, difficulty of the weave, color coordination between the warp and weft, softness and drapeability and the execution of the finished fringe.

Judges look for evenness and check for errors in the completed shawl, which must measure 22 inches wide and 78 inches in length.

Finally, teams are evaluated on speed and awarded a bonus for finishing their shawl first. Speed coupled with quality is the goal of all teams. Teams are encouraged to create a theme that makes their team unique and makes it easy for the audience to recognize all of the members of one team. They are judged for originality of theme and their overall appearance.

In order to participate in this contest, the team members must be Pennsylvania residents and have competed or exhibited at two events prior to the Farm Show.

The purpose of the Sheep to Shawl contest is to promote public awareness of the contributions made by the sheep and wool industry to Pennsylvania agriculture and to provide an opportunity for craftspeople in the state to showcase their skills. Originally established as the Northeastern Regional competition, the "Sheep to Shawl' contest has been held annually at the Farm Show drawing up to 5,000 spectators.

Earlier in the evening, Secretary of Agriculture Samuel E. Hayes Jr., crowned Ashley Shollenberger as the 1999 Pennsylvania Lamb and Wool Queen.

The competition is sponsored by the PA Sheep and Wool Growers Association and is supported by the PA Department of Agriculture and the PA Farm Show Commission.

Fred Brown, center, was presented the Ira Coble award for outstanding 4-H leadership during the youth beef show at the Pennsylvania Farm Show. Brown has been a longtime 4-H leader in Huntingdon County. With Brown is his wife Vicki Brown, and making the presentation is Samuel Hayes, Jr., state ag secretary.

$28,000 Sets Record Price For Farm Show Champions Sale

have to take possession of the animals. Instead they can sell them to a pre-approved packer at market price. The result is that the buyer pays the difference between the market price and the price bid.

Campbell has been a consistent and generous supporter of agricultural youth programs since the Steak and Sea House family style restaurant chain began to grow.

Hoss's now sponsors, along with other organizations seeking to support agricultural youth organizations, the Fore FFA Golf Tournament, held at Fox Chase Golf Course in Lancaster County to raise money for the FFA Foundation, a supporting organization of the statewide FFA youth group.

Not only did Campbell, on behalf of Hoss's, set a Farm Show record for the price paid, but he immediately told the sale officials that the steer was being donated to the Southeast Pennsylvania Food Bank.

Auctioneer of the sale of the grand champion steer was Harry Bachman of Annville, a long-time supporter of 4-H and FFA and also a commissioner of the Farm Show, who interrupted the bidding process to call state Secretary of Agriculture Samuel E. Hayes Jr. to the microphone.

In a brief statement, Hayes said, "We can't let this century go out without setting a new record." At the start of the sale, he had urged a similar message, requesting of the many buyers who braved a winter storm to attend the morning sale to find a way to demonstrate the health of the agricultural industry in going into the 21st century.

After a round of applause from the audience, the bidding resumed and quickly rose above the previous record.

Including the grand champions, the sale of champions grossed $165,905 on the sale of 125 lambs, 59 steer, and 163 swine. The market value was $67,724.40.

Of the gross, $15,544.05 was directed back into the scholarship fund.

After other expenses, such as sale expenses, a 1 percent paid directly to the respective youth organizations (4-H and FFA), livestock checkoff programs, the youth received a total of $145,729.12.

The grand champion market lamb was exhibited by Heidi Svonavec of Somerset County, who also serves as the Pennsylvania lamb and wool queen, and was purchased for $2,100 by Hoss's.

The 235-pound grand champion market swine, exhibited by Rick Jones of York County, had a market value of 58.75 (currently swine are experience record low market prices) and sold for $2,200 to Hatfield Quality Meats.

The reserve grand champion market lamb was exhibited by Lucas Svonavec and sold for $1,300 to Kessler's Inc. and Fulton Bank in a joint purchase.

Both Heidi and Lucas respectively exhibited grand and reserve grand champion lambs last year.

Lancaster County sold for 2,200 to Old Guard Insurance.

The reserve grand champion market swine exhibited by Lori Lynn Connelly of Centre County sold for $2,200 to Hoss's.

In addition to the record-setting price paid on the steer, the Farm Show Sale of Champions also featured the first sale of the top place art entry in the first annual Farm Show juried art exhibition.

The art work done by Janet Dean of New Tripoli depicts a landscape that includes the Dietrich family dairy farm in New Tripoli.

It was purchased by Bank of New Tripoli representative Henry Gruber, husband of Farm Show Commissioner Beverly Gruber, for $1,700.

Lucas Svonavec holds his reserve grand champion market lamb and is joined with representatives of buyers Kessler's Inc. and Fulton Bank. Gov. Ridge Opens Farm Show Keynotes International Dinner important.

"Here we have the opportunity to recognize the deeds of the past and plant the seeds of tommorow. We celebrate our agriculture heritage and tradition and the future success of our 50,000 farm families and the 600,000 Pennsylvanians who are employed in the production and processing of food. We also look to the future with our young 4-Hers and FFA members who along with other young people bring their prize livestock, produce and handicrafts for competition."

During his keynote address, Gov. Ridge also unveiled the winning oil painting that was part of the new art exhibit that will benefit the Pennsylvania Farm Show Scholorship Foundation. The winner was Janet Dean, from Lehigh County, who found her winning picture along a country road near Hawk Mountain, in the northern part of the county. She entitled the work, "Farm Haven." Five hundred pieces of artwork were submitted for the show.

As part of the program, the annual state agribusiness awards, the wine award, and the farm/city awards were presented.

Weaber, Inc., Lebanon County, was recognized as the large company agribusiness achievenment winner, and The Winery at Willcox, Elk County, were named in the under $5 million class. The Winery also won the grand prize in the wine competition.

Gov. Ridge opens the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show.

In the Farm/City awards, representatives from the Altoona-Blair County Chamber of Commerce; the Mifflin County Farm/City Council; and the Franklin County Farm/City Council, received recognition from Gov. Ridge and Pennsylvania Ag Secretary Samuel Hayes Jr.

"Pennylvania has the largest rural population of any state in the nation," Gov. Ridge said. "As suburbs continue to grow, there is an increasing gap between our rural and urban neighbors. The Farm/City program works to bridge these gaps and create a better quality of life for future generations.

"Pennyslvanians need to recognize that farm/city partnerships are essential. Without our farms and farm families, city and urban families would have no food, and without businesses from our cities and towns, farmers would not have markets and processing facilities for their products."

On Saturday, Gov. Ridge opened the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show, and unveiled the 1999 Gubernational Inaugural Food Harvest. Joined by his son Tom

Janet Dean of New Tripoli in Lehigh County won the "best of show" award in the new juried art exhibition at the farm show. The oil-on canvas depicts the image of a farm as seen from a nearby road with the scenic Hawk Mountain in the distance was unveiled at the International Day dinner last Friday night. The painting, and prints from the original, will be offered for sale to benefit the Pennsylvania Farm Show Youth Scholorship fund. In the photo, from left. Gov. Tom Ridge, Dean, and Ag Sec. Milking Systems and Milking Procedures - Article 31

The milking machine is your most used machine on the farm! It is the one machine that has the greatest impact on where your income comes from - - udders and teat ends! Therefore, it is important to install a functional milking system and maintain it in good working order

1 Service the system regularly to check - -

Pump output	System leakage
Line sizes and restrictions	Line blockages
Vacuum regulator	Pulsator action
Vacuum levels	Cleaning action

2 Maintain the system in good working order

Change inflations	Clean air filters
Clean lines	Replace seals and gaskets
Maintain oil levels	Adjust belt tensions

3 Monitor how the system functions. Check - -

Vacuum levels	Pulsator action
Milkout	Teat condition (see below)
Cleaning action	Stray voltage

4 Teat condition

- Maintain soft healthy teats.
- Choose effective teat dips, preferably ones that contain a teat conditioner

  Teat dips do not have to be labeled So, buyers beware!

  Choose only those dips that have been tested and proven effective under controlled field studies done on large numbers of animals Many reliable companies will willingly share this data. Rely on testimonials and lab tests at your own risk

- Dry dipped teats before sending cows out into cold, windy conditions
- Use soft, properly fitting inflations and change them regularly
- Maintain milking system in good condition and operate it properly to prevent teat injuries
- Some teat sores, such as mammilitis are very contagious milk these cows last

Milking is one of the most important jobs on the dairy farm It affects how much milk cows will produce how healthy their udders will be, how many cows will have to be culled involuntarily, how safe the milk is, and how profitable the herd will be It is important that the job be done properly, and the following ideas are offered as a guide

Milking Procedures

1 Remember, cows are creatures of habit, and milking is a maternal instinct
   - You don't force milk out of cows, they give it to you willingly
   - Therefore, be consistent and work in harmony with the cows
   - Make milking a pleasant experience for them - - and for you
   - Insist that ALL workers use good habits, and are consistent and gentle
2 The goal is to have a gentle, rapid, complete milk out in a sanitary manner
3 The teats should be clean, dry and sanitized when the units are attached
4 Udder preparation starts in the barn - - with clean stalls!
5 About 1/2 to 1 minute before the milking machine is to be attached, make your first trip to the cow and perform the following tasks
   - Do one of these practices, as appropriate for your situation

     Predip the teats and wipe them with a disposable paper towel Best

     Dry wipe teats of clean udders with your hand Next best

     When udders are dirty, clean the teats with a towel (not a sponge or rag) that has been dipped in an udder wash solution containing a sanitizer Keep as much water as possible off the udder Dry the teats and proceed to the next step, below
   - Squirt a few streams of milk from the udder and observe its quality
   - Predip the teat fully Good coverage of the teat is VERY important! Generally it is easier to get complete coverage of the teat by dipping, compared to spraying

     At the end of milkout, milk letdown and milk flow cease For a brief time,when the inflation is in the rest phase, the vacuum inside the teat can be slightly higher than the vacuum outside the teat Whatever the inflation sucks in or washes off the side of the teat, when it climbs up the teat, can be sucked into the teat at a time when there is no milk flow to flush it out

     To reduce the risk of unsanitized contaminants being sucked into the teat at the end of milkout and causing coliform mastitis, it is VERY IMPORTANT to milk DRY TEATS, and to FULLY COAT the ENTIRE teat with an effective predip
   - Give the dip about 30 seconds of contact time before wiping it off
   - The cow is now properly prepped and stimulated
6 Return to the cow about 30 seconds after predipping and do the following
   - Wipe the predip off the teats with a clean, disposable paper towel
   - Attach the milker unit, admitting as little air as possible so as not to disturb vacuum levels and intertere with the milking of other cows
   - Adjust the units for fast, uniform, and complete milk out
7 Remove the unit as soon as the cow is milked out Avoid overmilking
   - Train cows to milk out on their own without being massaged
   - Release the vacuum before removing the claw assembly Avoid admitting a lot of air because it can cause vacuum fluctuations and teat end impacts
   - Post dip teats as soon as the units are removed 8 Be careful not to add milk of treated cows to the bulk tank

Gov. Ridge Opens Farm Show

and Sec. Hayes, a visit was made to the PDA booth to make a donation of food to the Food Harvest.

Created by Gov. Ridge and First Lady Michele Ridge in 1995, the Food Harvest works to increase the availability of food for Pennsylvania's 23 regional food banks. Three specially marked bins are in the Farm Show Complex to collect items for the Food Harvest.

Gov. Ridge also toured the FArm Show's exhibits, stopping to meet with agricultural youth participating in the Farm Show. During the opening ceremonies in the large arena, Hayes noted that under Gov. Ridge's leadership, there have been a number of positive developments fdor Pennsylvania agriculture.

"In August, Gov. Ridge unveiled the 'products for the Planet' campaign, which is a new initiative underscoring his commitment to promoting and delivering high-quality Pennsylvania agriculture products to the world," Hayes said. "These efforts have resulted in exports of Holstein heifers to Lebanon and Puerto Rico; beef livestock genetics to Poland; fine hardwoods to Mexico and Italy; and a new market for fresh poultry in Japan."

The Pennsylvania State Police mounted drill team performed during the opening ceremonies. The 20-member team performed a choreographed drill identical to one conducted for the State Police Rodeo that was held last in 1976 at the Farm Show. Created in 1905, the team was the first of its kind in the nation. The original team consisted of 228 men and 228 horses and was the primary transportation for the state police at that time.

Following the opening ceremonies, Gov. Ridge stayed to watch the Pennylvania High School Rodeo Association Championship Rodeo. In July, the Farm Show's rodeo was recognized as America's Top Rodeo/Livestock Event of 1998 by Events Business News Magazine.

USDA Offers Pork Producers $50 Million Direct Payments

WASHINGTON, DC – Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman, Wednesday, outlined ways the U.S. Department of Agriculture will assist struggling small hog producers with approximately $50 million in direct cash payments. Last Friday, Vice President Al Gore announced that the Department would make such payments.

"This Administration is committed to doing everything we can and using every authority we have to help struggling American family farmers." Glickman said. He estimated that 80-90 percent of American producers, or nearly 100,000, will be eligible for the payments. Producers will receive up to $5 per slaughter-weight hog (or the equivalent for feeder pigs and other swine) marketed during the last six months of 1998. Producers will only be paid on up to 500 market hogs (or an equivalent number of feeder pigs), so the maximum payment will be $2,5000 per operation.

In an effort to target limited resources to smaller producers, no payments will be made to operations whose 1998 gross income exceeded $2.5 million, as is true for USDA's crop disaster assistance programs. Glickman said producers are eligible if they marketed fewer than 1,000 hogs during the last six months of 1998, and are still in operation today. Producers are not eligible for payments on hogs marketed under fixed-price or cost-plus contracts.

Producers should apply for direct payments at their local County Farm Service Agency office from February 1-12, 1999. Payments will be made about two to three weeks after the end of the sign up period.

Shorthorn; David Castrogiovanni of Montrose who judged Ayrshire and Brown Swiss breeds; and Bill Taylor of Marcellus, N.Y., who judged Jerseys and Guernseys.

While the Huffs own the supreme champion, the honor was also enjoyed by other family members, especially Janet and Elizabeth Jenkins of Toughkenamon. Janet Jenkins is Patricia Huff's mother and Elizabeth is Patricia's sister, and the families work together somewhat on the Huffs' farm where they milk 70 head of registered Jerseys.

It was the 22nd year that the Jenkins-Huff family has exhibited at the Farm Show and the fourth grand champion Jersey and first supreme champion they won.

The supreme cow, CLV Grave Miss Fatima, was a repeat Farm Show grand champion Jersey. She won the grand champion title last year but didn't make the final selection until this year.

Ironically, while a just-freshened cow can sometimes show edema of the udder during a show to hindrance, Miss Fatima calved a week prior to the show and still won.

Apparently, she comes from good stock. Her dam was the grand champion of the 1990 Farm Show and Miss Fatima won two Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show titles.

She also has proven herself as a dairy producer. For her last lactation, while a 4-year-old, she posted a 305-day record of 17,300 pounds, with 865 pounds fat and 3.9 percent protein.

According to the family, Miss Fatima will probably return again to the Farm Show.

Continuing in the Jersey breed, the open division reserve senior and reserve grand champion was exhibited by Jeffrey and Michele Reasner of Shippensburg. The Reasners also exhibited the junior and reserve junior open division Jerseys, and were named premier exhibitors of the show.

The premier breeders of the Jersey show were Harold and Shirley Harpster of Boalsburg.

In the Jersey show youth division, the senior and grand champion was exhibited by Aaron Horst of Chambersburg; while the reserve senior and reserve grand champion was shown by Rebecca Cornman of Carlisle.

The junior champion Jersey of the youth division was exhibited by Jennifer Kellerman, Centre Hall; while the reserve junior champion was shown by Tori Jo Fuller, of Carlisle.

Ayrshire

In addition to Jerseys, the Reasners also own and exhibit Ayrshires.

Last year they showed Sunny Acres Misty Polly to win the Farm Show supreme championship. Polly had also set a new state 365-day production record for milk fat at 1,667 pounds.

This year, the Reasners showed Polly's daughter to win the Ayrshire grand championship, Jemi Heligo Pollyanna. The junior 3-year-old was last year's Farm Show junior champion Ayrshire.

In her first lactation, Pollyanna, sired by Bonnie Brae Heligo, made 18,773 pounds of milk, 782 pounds of fat and 554 pounds of protein.

The Reasners also raise and exhibit Holsteins, but none of their Holstein entries won championships at this year's Farm Show.

In other Ayshire breed show results, Delaware Valley College in Doylestown exhibited the reserve senior and reserve grand champion; Amber-Noll Farm of Bechtelsville exhibited the junior champion; and Susan Richardson of Fawn Grove showed the reserve junior champion.

The premier breeder and exhibitor was Audrey Rodgers of Belleville.

In the youth division of the Ayrshire show, the senior and grand champion was exhibited by Susan Richardson, while the reserve senior and reserve grand champion was exhibited by Rebecca Nolan of Quarryville.

The Ayrshire youth division junior champion was exhibited by Joseph Phillips, of Mertztown; while the reserve junior champion was shown by Rebecca Nolan.

Brown Swiss

In the open division of the Brown Swiss show, the senior and grand champion was exhibited by Robert and Joyce Wagner of Quarryville.

The 4-year-old Bo-Joy Lancer Joslyn had a projected 19,940 pounds milk, 680 pounds protein in her current lactation, begun as a 3-year-old.

The reserve senior and grand champion was shown by Anthony Mase of Lebanon, son of Gary and Patti Mase. The Mase family members have been regular and successful exhibitors at the Farm Show, as well as various Brown Swiss sanctioned shows.

Michael Kunkle of Jonestown, also a consistent exhibitor of quality animals, Brown Swiss and other breeds, showed both the junior and reserve junior champions.

The Wagners were named premier breeder of the show, while Dean and Brenda Daubert of McElhattan were named premier exhibitors.

In the youth division, Garrett Mase of Lebanon, also a son of Gary and Patti, exhibited the senior and grand champion. Lauren Daubert of McElhattan showed the reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

The junior champion of the youth division of the Brown Swiss show was exhibited by Jared Daubert, while Lauren Daubert showed the reserve junior champion.

Guernsey

The Rutter Dairy farm family in York exhibited the senior and grand champion of the Guernsey show, Rutter Brothers Perfectos Yogi Bear, and also received a plaque sponsored by the John W. Brackman family.

Yogi Bear was led by Cindy Rutter-Johnson, and Yogi Bear's granddam was also a Farm Show champion Guernsey in 1985.

son, exhibited the reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

Rutter Brothers received the premier exhibitor award, while Jan Snider of Snider Homestead Farm, of New Enterprise, was named premier breeder.

In the youth division of the Guernsey show, the senior and grand champion was shown by Aaron Gable, who received the Swickley Award, while the reserve senior and reserve grand champion was exhibited by Jan Snider. The Gable and Snider families are related and reside in New Enterprise.

The junior champion of the youth division was exhibited by Terri Johnson, while Kendy Gable showed the reserve junior champion.

Holstein

Elizabeth Walton of Carlisle showed the senior and grand champion Holstein in the open division show, a 4-year-old, Tower Vue Tab Jasmine.

Jasmine is currently in a second lactation, started at 3 years, 4 months, and has made 9,680 pounds of 4.1 percent fat, 3.5 percent protein milk. As a 2-year-old, she made 22,844 pounds milk with 3.8 percent fat and 3.5 percent protein.

Her dam, Tower Vue Aerostar Judy was classified Excellent-91, while Jasmine is a Very Good 87 points. A Kinstead Valiant Tab daughter, she is a sixth generation very good or excellent, and was the 1997 reserve All-Pennsylvania junior 2-year-old.

The reserve senior and reserve grand champion Holstein was exhibited by Dwight and Melanie Stoltzfus of Morgantown.

Premier breeder for the show was Daphne Doll; while the premier exhibitor was Scott Walton.

In the youth division of the Holstein show, Curtis Reichard showed the senior and grand champion, while Scott Walton showed the reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

The junior champion of the youth division was exhibited by Shane Hall; while Jessica Luckenbill showed the reserve junior champion.

Milking Shorthorn

The champions of the open and youth divisions in the Milking Shorthorn show were the same animals.

The senior and grand champion, a 4-year-old, Summit Vista Maria, owned by Jessica Whiting of Edinburg and Brian Scholl of Elizabethville. A 1996 reserve All-American, Maria won all three national junior (youth) shows that year. In her second lactation, the first on test, she is projected at 20,000 pounds of 3.9 percent fat, 3.1 percent protein milk.

Jessica was named premier breeder and exhibitor of the show.

The reserve senior and reserve grand champion was exhibited by Jason Heeter of Shade Gap.

The junior champion of the show was exhibited by Jason Nailor of Mechanicsburg, while Eileen Hostetter of Dover showed the reserve junior champion.

FFA Members Glimpse the 'Edge' Of Achievement At Convention

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Hundreds of FFA members, family, and friends witnessed what state FFA chaplain Daniel P. Kreider called a "perfect blend of agriculture and education" Monday night at the Farm Show.

Kreider welcomed 222 Keystone degree recipients, family, and friends to the Farm Show during opening ceremonies of the 70th Annual Pennsylvania FFA Mid-Winter Convention.

At the convention, Dr. Ferman B. Moody, Pennsylvania state director of vocational and technical education, spoke about his involvement in NFA and FFA for more than 50 years. He addressed the theme of the Mid-Winter Convention, "On the Edge . . . of Achievement," noting how FFA membership can provide opportunity to travel to the "edge of your dreams, to explore the unknown, to make a successful career for yourself and your family," he said.

"You are on the edge of the possible, of achieving your dreams."

Samuel Hayes Jr., state secretary of agriculture, reminded FFA members that their involvement in FFA allows them to position for the years ahead. Hayes noted this was the last time this century that FFA'ers would gather for the mid-winter convention.

The state FFA honored Hayes with the Honorary Service Award, given to an individual who has donated years of outstanding service to the Pennsylvania FFA.

FFA members, according to Hayes, are "well-schooled, well trained, and given the tools in hand to achieve success."

U.S. Sen. Rick Santorum (R), on the Senate Committee for Agriculture, spoke about the wonderfully supportive parents witnessing the convention and friends cheering them on "as dedicated to your success as you are to your success," he said. The families were gathered at the Large Arena Monday evening "to participate in it."

Chapters, students, and friends were honored at the convention for their support of state FFA.

State stars were presented. Winning the state star in ag production was William Leib, Cumberland Valley FFA, who will be traveling to Eastern States. The state star in ag sales and service was Tyler Swanson, Manor FFA, who also will be traveling to Eastern States. Winning specialized state star in agriculture was Janelle Hoover, Cloister FFA. And winning the state star in horticulture was Tanya Weaver, Grassland FFA.

Chad Kramer, Conrad Weiser FFA, won the Agri-Science Award.

Chapter safety awards were also presented. Receiving the first place award was Brothersvalley FFA. Second went to West Snyder FFA, and third to Lenape FFA. Fourth place went to Manor FFA.

The state officer team presented special awards for contests for Pennsylvania FFA members. Winners were Jessica Hyland, Derry FFA and Maria Trego, West Snyder FFA.

Gold award winners for outstanding FFA chapters were presented. They included a first place to the West Snyder FFA as being a model of innovation chapter at the national level. A second place award went to Twin Valley FFA and third to Lenape AVTS. Other chapters honored with gold included Brothersvalley, Conococheague, Cowanesque, Grassland, Manheim, Manor, and Selinsgrove.

Chapters receiving silver awards were Cedar Crest, Cloister, Greenwood, Hans Herr, Redbank, and Spud Growers. Bronze award winners included Bellwood-Antis, Central Columbia, Cumberland Valley, Little Lions, Shippensburg, Solanco, and Tyrone Area.

The state FFA presented a special award to parents who have already received the Honorary Keystone Degree and who are still devoting their time to help their children earn the Keystone Degree. The award was presented to Michael and Jo Ann Duran, H.G. Parkinson FFA, with children, Keith, '84; Laurie, '84; Greg, '87; and Joel, '99.

Parents who were honored with the Keystone degree were profiled in the Jan. 8 1999 issue of Lancaster Farming.

Southeastern Dairy Coops To Merge

RESTON, Va. – On Jan. 8, the board of directors for Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Cooperative Association–Inc. signed a memorandum of understanding to consolidate their business with Carolina Virginia Milk Producers Association.

Two day prior, on Jan. 6, the Carolina Virginia board of directors signed the merger proposal in Charlotte, N.C.

More milk marketing opportunities, increased operating efficiencies, and an expanded financial base are some of the reasons for merging the two associations.

With a Class I utilization over 80 percent. Carolina Virginia brings strong Class I customers to the table, while Maryland and Virginia provides a historical record of high returns from successful division and plant operations.

Together the cooperatives would market 3 billion pounds of milk for over 1,550 milk producers in ten mid-Atlantic states. In a consolidating industry, the cooperatives can better serve their customers and provide greater returns to their members.

A final proposal is expected by the end of February, followed by local informational meetings in March and finalized with membership voting by April 1. The "Maryland and Virginia" name and the current offices would be maintained.

General Manager George Walgrove said, "While increasing Southeast milk marketing opportunities and expanding our financial base, we can bring calculated growth to our membership and guarantee them a growing fluid milk market."

The two neighboring cooperatives have been business partners for may years.

President Jack Hardesty, a milk producer from Berryville, Va. said, "We've enjoyed a long standing relationship with Carolina Virginia, and we look forward to talking the business relationship to the next level."

"We believe a merger with Maryland and Virginia makes sense," said Clyde Daniels, a milk producer from Louisburg, N.C. and president of Carolina Virginia Milk Producers. His support is echoed by General Manger Jay Bryant who said, "As our customer base grows in the Southeast, a merger with Maryland and Virginia would provide a larger milk supply, and give our members greater access to the cooperative's seasonal balancing plants."

Carolina Virginia Milk Producers Association markets milk for 400 milk producers in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Alabama.

Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association, headquartered in Reston, Va., is a milk marketing and processing cooperative that markets milk for about 1150 dairy farmers throughout Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Delaware. The cooperative includes Marva Maid, a milk processing division in Newport News, Va., a manufacturing division in Laurel, Md.,, and an equipment division in Frederick, Md.

Beef Producers Invited To Meet In Winchester, Virginia, Look At Future

Winchester, VA : Beef cattle producers from the quad state area are invited to participate in a one-day conference on the future of the Beef Cattle Industry. The Virginia Cooperative Extension Service and the West Virginia University Extension Service are jointly sponsoring this opportunity for prroducers to listen to four regional experts provide an insight into the shape the beef industry will take in the future.

"The Beef Cattle Industry: What Does the Future Hold?" will address issues related to consumer demand, innovative marketing channels and emerging organizations that may change the industry forever. The conference will be held on Wednesday, February 10th at the Best Western Lee-Jackson Motor Inn in Winchester, Virginia. The conference will begin at 9:30 am with registration and end at approximately 2:30 p.m.

Four well-known experts from Virginia Tech and West Virginia University will present topics that define the problem with the beef industry and provide suggestions for change.

Dr. Wayne Purcell, Professor in the Department of Agricultural and Applied Economics at Virginia Tech, is nationally recognized for his expertise in commodity marketing, price analysis, and public policy. He published a staff paper in April of 1998 entitled, "A Primer on Beef Demand." The emphasis of this paper will be the focus of Dr. Purcellís presentation as he relates the essence of the wants and needs of the consumer.

Dr. Wayne Wagner, WVU Extension Livestock Specialist will relate the findings of the National Beef Quality Audit. The challenges related in this report affect the cow-calf producer Dr Wagner will provide ways the cow-calf producer can evaluate their herd and make through genetic selection.

Dr. Phillip Osborne, WVU Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist will relate marketing alternatives used in Virginia and West Virginia that can improve the quality and reputation of the beef cattle from the region. Dr. Osborne will also relate the experience of one group of producers who "pool" their cattle to improve each producers gross income.

Bill McKinnon, Virginia Cooperative Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist will discuss emerging organizations known as alliances McKinnon will identify these organizations and how they are being used in the beef industry

A registration fee of $12.00 will cover the cost of lunch and the proceedings from the meeting Contact your local Extension Office for a registration form or contact Craig Yohn, WVU Extension Agent- Jefferson County at 304-725-3744. Registrations must be mailed by February 1st.

Protecting Pennsylvania's Groundwater

HARRSIBURG (Dauphin Co.) - The recent release of the movie "A Civil Action" has raised concerns about groundwater contamination and what is being done to prevent it in Pennsylvania. There are communities in Pennsylvania that are taking extra steps to protect the source of their drinking water.

According the PA Department of Environmental Protection website over 140 Public Water Supplies and 16 Counties have initiated voluntary groundwater protection programs These Groundwater Protection Programs are a coordinated effort by local government officials and residents to identify the potential risks to the local groundwater and develop a plan to minimize those risks.

Management methods often include public education, groundwater monitoring and cooperative land use planning around the wells. "The implementation of an effective local Groundwater or Watershed Protection Program goes a lot farther to protect the public health than regulations ever could," states Joel Jordan, Groundwater Protection Specialist with the Pennsylvania Rural Water Association. "The key to a successful Groundwater Protection Program, though, is local involvement." Pennsylvania Rural Water Association provides onsite technical assistance to local groundwater protection committees

If you are concerned about your groundwater supply, contact your local water supplier and volunteer to assist with development of a local Groundwater or Watershed Protection Plan. If you would like more information concerning groundwater protection, call Pennsylvania Rural Water Association at (800) 653-PRWA

The Pennsylvania Rural Water Association is a non-profit member supported association of water systems, wastewater systems, industry suppliers and consultants

in the show ring. "There's not a bad ewe in there," he said.

Eric's homebred ewe was praised for its tremendous volume and way she handles herself on the hoof. It was the first time Eric showed a champion Dorset at Farm Show, but the family farm in Prosperity is known for its sheep. Parents are Bruce and Sandy and the family has 50 head.

Jessica's reserve Southdown Adriana is homebred and was said to be the most structurally correct Dorset in the ring.

Jessica is the daughter of Pete and Laurie Schmidt of Drumore.

Southdown competition was wrapped up by Jaime Fought, 14. Jaime, daughter of John (Speedy) Fought is a consistent winner. This was the second year Jaime showed Southdowns. The family is well-known for their Hampshires and raises60 brood ewes on their Sulfur Run Farm, Carlisle.

The reserve Columbia ewe was shown by Gabriel Bowman, Drumore, Lancaster County.

Here is a partial listing of show results.

Brothers Darin and Travis Crouse show the champion and reserve in the Merino competition. Travis also showed the grand champion in the Columbia breed.

Svonavecs Capture Market Lamb Championships

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — For the second year in a row, Heidi Svonavec and her brother Lucas captured both grand champion and reserve grand champion titles in the market lamb competition held at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

It was no easy feat. The extremely competitive show featured 195 head raised by 4-H'ers, who in most instances, have raised champions at the county level.

Judge Scott Greiner of Virginia said that all the sheep represented the things important to the lamb industry—structural correctness, size, muscling, balance, and firmness.

The secret to raising champion market lamb is "hard work" according to Heidi. And, those who know the Svonavec family agree.

"It couldn't happen to more deserving kids. They take sheep raising seriously," said a sheep industry leader.

The Svonavecs farm 150-acres in Somerset County, where they raise 35 bred ewes in addition to cattle and pigs.

Heidi's champion was a purebred Suffolk. Her brother's was a purebred Hampshire. Both had been purchased from Mike Stitzline, Ohio.

"We walk them at a fast pace daily and feed them balanced rations," Heidi said.

Eighteen-year-old Heidi, who was the 1998 Pennsylvania Lamb and Wool Queen, said that this will be her last year for showing sheep. She is studying animal science at Penn State Altoona Campus.

Lucas is 17. Another brother Gabe, 13, hopes to follow in his siblings footsteps. They are the children of Dave and Betty Lou Svonavec.

152 Breeding Sheep Compete At Junior Show

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Junior Sheep Breeding Show offered youth a chance to reap the rewards of many years of labor on Wednesday at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Many of the winners are from family farms who through selective breeding improve flock genetics.

Ron Miller, Farm Show director, said that the 152 head represented was of outstanding quality.

Basking in the rewards of their labors were Darrell and Laura Martin who took champion and reserve titles in the Corriedale division.

This was the first year in 10 years of showing that the Martin siblings clinched the champion and reserved titles.

With parents, Aaron and Lu Ann Martin, the family raises 40 head of Corriedales. The champion was a homebred ewe. The reserve had been purchased from California.

"We named her Calamity Jane because the first week we got her, she ripped off her ear tag, jumped out of her pen and broke her leg," Laura said. The year recuperated this past year and shows no side effects of her antics.

The win was a great way for Darrell, 18, and Laura, 17, to end their show career. She will study at Penn State Berks Campus. He will study at Pennsylvania College of Technology.

The Merino division was wrapped up by the Crouse brothers. Darin, 12, showed the grand champion, and Travis, 11, the reserve champion. Travis also showed the grand champion Columbia ewe.

The boys are the sons of Lew and Debbie Crouse of Hilltop View in Greene County. They have more than 100 head of homebred ewes made up of Merino, Rambouillet, Columbia, and Targees breeds.

The Crouse family are consistent winners of many of these breeds at the annual Farm Show and other competitions.

Billy Leib again clinched the grand champion reserve titles in Rambouillet and the grand champion in the Oxford competitions.

With his parents Bob and Suzie Leib, Billy raises 50 homebred ewes under the name Shepherd's Crook.

Maria Stoltzfus got the best birthday present when her Montadale took grand champion honors. It was the first time that the 18-year-old won championship honors at the Farm Show.

Polly, a yearling ewe, came from the McCauley's of Atglen. Maria raises 10-12 sheep on the family's Birch Lane Farm, Elverson, Chester County. Carl and Hilda Stoltzfus are her parents.

This is the last year of showing for Maria, who plans to be on a mission trip next year before starting college.

Cheviot champion and reserve titles went to Michelle Snyder, 18. She is a usual winner in her eight years of showing and expects this to be her last year. She and her parents, Jack and Donna Snyder, raise 45 Cheviots on their Snyder Valley Farms, Parker.

The grand champion Dorset was shown by Eric Cowder and the reserve by Jessica Schmidt. The judge deliberated for an extended period of time over the 20 Dorsets

Jessica McMurtice, Centre County, shows both the champion and reserve champion in the Shropshire division. Her brother Gregory is helping her.

Award winners of the Outstanding Young Shepherds are Michael Burrell, 18; David Neagley, 12; Jill Neiman, 15; and Amanda Miller, 13. The four received first place in their age divisions. Scores were based on an oral and written test, showmanship, and lamb type.

Darrell and Laura Martin show the grand champion and reserve Corriedales. With them are parents Aaron and Lu Ann Martin of Annville.

In her first year of showing Katrina Frey, Quarryville, took the champion and reserve champion titles in the youth Suffolk show.

New Cooperative Tobacco Auction Begins

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — On Wednesday, 312,000 pounds of tobacco went to auction at the first Pennsylvania Tobacco Marketing Association Cooperative here at the Orion Industrial Park.

According to Jane Balmer, cooperative board president, six buyers were on hand. As of Wednesday's auction, 560 growers were signed up in the cooperative, and seven million pounds of tobacco were committed.

The bidding started out at $1.30 a pound but soon dropped, leaving growers and cooperative organizers disappointed. Many farmers rejected the offered bids. Another auction was scheduled for yesterday. Several auctions will be held each week into February.

For more information about the auction, contact Dennis Hess, manager of the co-op, at the warehouse. (717) 355-5336.

Detwiler's June Heifer Captures Champion Banner At Farm Show

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Spending time with an early summer heifer calf, what exhibitor C.A. Detwiler calls "The June Heifer," and giving it lots of "work, time, and money," he said, paid off handsomely when the Angus champion brought home the supreme banner here at Farm Show Monday afternoon at the open beef show.

C.A., 18, son of Allen and Joy Detwiler, Roaring Spring, walked proudly away earlier on in the day with the champion heifer of the intermediate division. The senior at Northern Bedford High School purchased the animal from a breeder, Bolsen's Angus Farm, in Lovington, Ill.

The animal, Bolsens Golden Hannah (S: Bushes Montana Truck, D: Bolsens Taurus G12), won supreme at the Eastern National Angus Show in Timonium, Md., last fall. C.A. helps with his family's 30-head purebred Angus farm in New Enterprise.

When he hoisted up the banner for hundreds of spectators at the Farm Show, he said, "this is the best feeling I've ever had my whole life." He said this is the fifth year he has been showing at Farm Show and his first champion.

C.A. also said he brought eight animals to the show. He said he spends two hours a day with the heifer, since mid-November, getting her ready for a championship drive.

"Two years in a row!" shouted a friend, Martene Firestine, Womelsdorf, as Metzler accepted the banner.

Metzler said she intends to spend more time with her potato purchasing business in the future. This was her last time in competition at Farm Show.

Angus bull grand champion was Dale A. Rains, Mercer.

In other breed division competition, Cliff and Lynn Orley, Lebanon, swept the Charolais show held the previous day, winning champion heifer and bull.

In the Hereford division, Margeaux Firestine, 13, daughter of Mike and Martene Firestine, Womelsdorf, won grand champion heifer. A first for Margeaux, she won the breed division with a senior heifer calf, MAP Miss Kai-T (S: Boyd Pinnacle 34, D: BT Nan 57W).

In the Limousin division, Ron Kelly, of Maple Lane Farm, Enon Valley, swept both the bull and heifer classes.

In the Simmental division, Larry Hughes, Triple L Farms, New Oxford, won grand champion heifer with the champion heifer calf. Simmental bull champion went to Lee V. and Linda W. Snyder of Harvest Plantation, Franklin, for his summer bull calf, which won junior bull champion.

Following is a list of placings.

Oak Hall Farm Shows Supreme Draft Horse

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — A 4-year-old Belgian mare exhibited by a Centre County farm family on Sunday was named supreme champion of the 1999 Pennsylvania State Farm Show.

Jennifer Biddle, 26, of Oak Hall Farm in Oak Hall, a small municipality near State College, exhibited Orndorff's Supreme Delight to win the supreme champions from among the champions stallions and mares of each of the three major breed divisions of draft horses exhibited at the Farm Show.

The horse was bred by Corbin and Christine Orndorff of Waynesburg, and purchased by the Biddles as a foal.

According to Jennifer, the late Charlie Orndorff, Corbin's father, was one of the first to exhibit draft horses at the Farm Show and helped develop the show and generate interest.

They also showed another Orndorff-bred Belgian — Orndorff Eddie Debut, a stallion foal that won reserve grand champion stallion of its breed — and a homebred filly foal that won first in her class and reserve grand champion Belgian mare.

It's the third time the Biddle's have exhibited a supreme champion draft horse at the state Farm Show, all of them mares.

Three-year increments between supreme championships seems to be a developing trend for the Oak Hall Farm family.

Since winning their first in 1993, they won in 1996, and now in 1999. The family has been exhibiting Belgians for 21 years.

The Biddle family is comprised of Jennifer's parents, Lew and Gail Biddle; a sister Katie, 22, who showed Delight in the ring to win the supreme title and is a recent graduate of Penn State set to pursue a master's degree at Washington State and conduct mastitis research; and a brother Todd, 28, who works for Milton Hershey Schools, in charge of its livestock.

Jennifer said the family essentially owns 20 Belgian horses jointly, though they each have their favorites. They have 17 mares and three stallions that they raise, train and work on their 75-acre farm.

About 40 acres are in crops, primarily oats and alfalfa, and the rest is in pasture. The big horses eat a bale of hay per day, and a half gallon of prepared feed and grain. The operation is dependent upon purchased feeds, most of which comes from local farms.

Jennifer lives at home, and she and her father, who owns a plumbing and electrician business, concern themselves mostly with the horses. Together they decide the breeding program, and they also travel the July-to-December show circuit together, normally with a six-horse show string, such as the one they brought the Farm Show.

The family has also been involved in 4-H and other forms of youth development in agriculture.

Gail is a 4-H leader and she tends the farm's 40 head of milking goats.

Most of the goat milk is used by the family to make cheese, fudge, and for cooking, as well when weaning foals onto grain, and for sick animals. Friends with sick animals sometimes get milk from them, though it can't be sold.

Todd owns a number of the the dairy goats in the Milton Hershey School herd and owns Toggenburg, LaMancha, Nubian and Alpine goats. He was to exhibit some of them during the Farm Show goat show on Thursday.

Jennifer said that Todd's goats provide youth at Milton Hershey with an opportunity to have a project animal.

Jennifer and Lew also have been active in providing opportunities for local/area youth who have strong interest in draft horses.

Justin Gray, of the Oak Hall area, has been working with the Biddles for some time, and traveling the show circuit with Lew and Jennifer.

This past year Justin was named to the All-American showmanship team for the national Belgian association.

While the Biddles traveled to sanctioned Belgian shows in Ohio, Indiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, and Canada, Justin competed in youth showmanship as well.

Recently another youth has joined the Biddle family farm. Jessica Smoker of Lewistown was along with the Oak Hall Farm team and competed in the Farm Show youth draft horse showmanship event.

A licensed practical nurse, Jennifer graduated from Penn State University in 1997 and works for a nearby doctors' office as well as serving on-call with the local hospital on weekends. She said she also has a bachelor's degree in health education and can help teach people in pediatrics and oncology.

While Orndorff's Supreme Delight won the supreme championship of the Farm Show, the mare also had a fairly successful show season. She was first at the Michigan State Fair with a show with 600 animals; she was first at the 1998 Keystone International Livestock Exposition held October at the Farm Show Building; and she was second at the Royal Canadian Winter Fair.

Nominated for the breed's All-American award, the results are to be announced in February.

Capturing the supreme draft horse title on Sunday was icing on the cake.

"It's a great honor for our family," she said, adding that exhibiting at the Farm Show, while not a sanctioned show, has lots of extra special attractions.

"It'a a good end to the show year," she said. "It's nice to get a lot of attention and have a lot of friends rooting for us, and it's good for our breeding program."

While they could and do compete in hitched-team events, Jennifer said they elected to not get involved this year because of the extra work.

On the home farm they have a sleigh and cart as well as a plow for working the horses, and she said they do get worked.

"Our best show horses can and do pull a plow. They can do anything (draft horses) because their comformation allows them to do that."

In fact, she rides a Belgian in competition, jumping, barrel racing, etc. She entered the 1997 Challenge of the Breeds competition during the Keystone International Livestock Exposition for the first time, and although she didn't compete during 1998, she said she intends to participate in the next one. The event annually draws a large paying audience to the Harrisburg Farm Show Complex Large Arena.

From the left, state Secretary of Agriculture Samuel E. Hayes Jr. presents the supreme champion draft horse banner to Jennifer Biddle who holds the halter of her family's Belgian mare.

Jennifer said that growing up on the farm with draft horses, she and her sibling became familiar with them quickly. She said she was probably about 5 years old when her father handed her the reigns while riding together behind a team. "I was nervouse, but not really scared," she said, adding that "Everybody in the family knows how to handle a team."

She said the use of draft horse power seems to have been picking up in recent years.

Environmentally, a team of horses can work wet ground without compacting it. They are also good for dragging logs for timbering areas where the modern timbering machinery is unusable, or that would require the construction of heavy load bearing roads, in some steep areas, etc.

Dragging logs is a common exercise among some draft horse trainers seeking to develop their horses' skills and confidence as well as their muscle tone.

The Biddles also occasionally wil train horses, especially for those people who buy one of their young Belgians and then want them broken to halter.

But Jennifer said that she would like to build upon her foundation of experience in 4-H and her parents' example of being willing to help and educate others.

"I was in 4-H. Mostly the goat club, though I was in the horse club for a couple of years.

"That was a large part of our youth (as Biddle children). 4-H is a very good program," she said.

However, she said she would like to see a different approach with draft horses to help spark more interest and opportunity.

"I really would like to start a youth program in Pennsylvania involving mentoring with draft horses," she said, "to provide a way for continuing the tradition of draft horses in Pennsylvania."

Conceptually, the program would link interested youth with those who breed and train draft horses, similar to what the Biddle family has done.

According to Jennifer, money doesn't really have to be a limiting factor for becoming involved with draft horses, but mentoring could help even more in reducing the start up costs for a youth interested in the big equines.

"You can get a good, really well-bred draft horse filly (6-7 months old) for $1,500 to $2,000.

"A lot of light horses (those horses other than draft) are a lot more."

However, the mentoring project is something she would like to see established in Pennsylvania because it could help establish a rapidly growing trend in the draft horse showing community. Jennifer said, "A lot of kids on the national show circuit travel with someone (an established breeder)."

She explained that the scenario works more or less this way: A youth interested in the horses essentially exchanges doing chores around the barn and farm involving the animals for learning the finer points of care, training and handling from an established breeder and trainer.

Jennifer also said she would like to become a 4-H leader someday, following in her mother's steps.

The Biddles are friends with Abe and Gerald Allebach families of Windermere Farms in Spring Mills. The Allebachs are Percheron and Clydesdale breeders and have also won several supreme champion draft horse titles.

The two families are located close and they also encourage the interest, use and development of draft horses.

In other draft horse show results, Windermere Farms exhibited the best of the breed in the Clydesdale/Shire show, their grand champion mare, which was the junior champion mare.

The reserve grand champion Clydesdale/Shire mare was the senior champion mare exhibited by Robert Martin of Newport.

The reserve junior champion mare was exhibited by Norman Weber of Butler.

The reserve senior champion mare was exhibited by Tom and Shirley Young of Troy.

The grand and senior champion stallion was exhibited by Norman Weber, while the reserve grand champion was shown by Roger Thoms of Aaronsburg.

In the rest of the Belgian breed, the grand champion Belgian stallion was exhibited by Nathan Yoder of Peach Bottom, who also showed the junior champion stallion.

The reserve grand champion Belgian mare was exhibited by Jerry and Shirley Ray of Shelocta, Indiana County.

The reserve junior champion mare was exhibited by Raymond Lantz of Gordonville.

In the Percheron breed, Windermere showed a pair of 5-years-old and older mares to win senior and reserve senior and grand and reserve grand champion mare honors.

A number of the Percheron show's entries had genetics connected to Windermere's famous Blackhome Duke stallion, that Abe had purchased in Canada years ago and used as a foundation in the farm's breeding program, until he died several years ago.

Windermere also the senior and grand champion stallion.

The junior and reserve junior champion Percherons were exhibited by Walter and Lucille Rice of Delta. The junior champion was named reserve grand champion stallion.

Potato Grading Contest

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — George Leister, from Adams County, took high honors in the individual 4-H Potato Grading and Identification competition at this week's 83rd PA Farm Show. In addition to his individual efforts, he and his team members pulled together to claim the top high team A honors. The fellow team members were Jason Kraft, Bradley Orndorf, and Brian Baldwin.

The York County team A was awarded second place and was followed by the Lehigh County team A in third place.

Following George Leister in the high individuals was Lucas Kraft of York County in second place; Jason Keler of Adams County in third place; Katie Harwick of Lehigh County in fourth place; and Shelly Vandine of Lycoming County in fifth place.

In the team B competition, Lehigh County was in first place, Indiana County claimed second place, and Adams County was third place.

The Adams County team has prepared for the contest every week since the beginning of November. The coaches of the Adams County teams were Lela Reichart and Jerry Tyson.

Forty-three contestants entered the competition on Tuesday, January 12. In the competition, the contestants had to participate in three parts. The first part required them to identify defects. Such defects could be with the skin, diseases, insects, or shape. Each of these factors affects the grading of potatoes. In the next phase, participants must grade 100 potatoes within 3 minutes. Finally in the last phase, four plates of potatoes must be ranked in a first to fourth placing.

At the conclusion of the awards presentation Donald Wellbraock, the Department of Agiculture Fruit and Vegetable supervisor, talked with the youth about opportunities in the potato industry.

Placings are as follows:

Apple Pie Contains Surprise Ingredient

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Perseverance and creativity finally paid off for Judy Crawford of Franklin County.

After 11 years of entering the Pennsylvania Farm Show Blue Ribbon Apple Pie Contest, Crawford took first place for her unique pie that features both a layer of pineapples and a nutty layer with a touch of coconut.

The Chambersburg woman had won third place twice before.

"I toasted the nuts this year. It gives a different flavor combined with the pineapple and coconut," Crawford said.

She used a mixture of red and yellow delcious apples for the pie and decorated it with apple cutouts iced in different colors.

Crawford said that she bakes every day. "I have a big family—six married daughters and eight grandchildren," she reported.

To get ahead of bad weather reports, Crawford baked her pie the day before and traveled to the Farm Show. She, like other contestants, waited for hours while judged debated the merits of each pie.

"I was really nervous," Crawford said, "especially after I spotted a tip of the blue ribbon on my pie at least five minutes before they announced the winner."

Crawford received $100 for her pie. She and other contestants must have placed first at one of the state's 113 community fairs in order to compete at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

"These pies beat over 200-300 apple pies before they reached this

Wedding Cake Takes First In Chocolate Cake Contest

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — "I'm really sentimental and I just thought my cake had to win. It's the same cake recipe I used for my wedding cake two months ago," said Barbara Martin-Krapf of the cake that took blue ribbon honors at the Farm Show competition last Saturday.

Because of treacherous driving conditions due to snow and freezing rain, only 50 people showed up with entries, about half of what usually is entered. Despite the smaller number of entries, judging was not any easier.

"In 10 years of judging, this was the toughest decision ever," said Brad Fickes, Bucks County, of the annual contest in search of the Greatest Hershey Chocolate Cake. "Ten cakes could easily have been the top winner."

Fickes, and judges Martene Firestine, Berks County; Edward Hartman, Lehigh County; Lilli Ann Kopp, Lancaster County; and Karen Sandoe, Lebanon County selected the incredibly rich chocolate cake not only for its flavor but also because of its elaborate decoration.

Martin-Krapf accesorized the heart-shaped cake with red roses, ferns, and replica wedding bands saved from her wedding tiara.

To be eligible for the state Farm Show competition, contestants must first win at a county fair. Martin-Krapt of Lehigh County qualified at the Allentown Fair earlier this year. She had also qualifed a previous year, but this was her first time she entered the state contest.

Second-place Diane Miller qualified for state competition when she won at the Oley Fair. Miller said that she has been baking since she was 10 years old. This was her third year at the state competition but the first time she advanced to the top 10 before being selected as the second-place winner. She used a recipe from a family friend and decorated it with peanut butter frosting on top of chocolate fudge/mocha frosting.

Third-place winner Nettie Kauffman from Bernville, Berks County, had also qualified for state

Pennsylvania Deputy Secretary Zoann Parker congratulates first-place winner Katie Myers in Hershey's Best Chocolate Cookie Contest.

'Gooey Stuff' Wins Top Prize For Katie

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — When judges announced Katie Myers, Dallastown, as the grand prize winner of the Greatest Chocolate Cookie Contest, she was missing.

"She's showing cattle," someone called out.

The 14-year-old soon came bounding up the stairs to the Family Living Center where the annual contest was held. When Katie heard that she had produced the best cookies out of 39 entries, she burst into tears.

"I can't believe it. This is a big surprise. I didn't think I had a chance here because the competition is so stiff," Katie kept repeating as tears streamed down her face.

Although Katie has been showing animals for years and gathering ribbons, she said the baking contest was more exciting. "There are so many more competitors. It's nothing to win at small fairs, but to come here and win—WOW! I almost passed out!"

Katie lives in Dallastown, York County, but she qualified to enter state competition when she won the blue ribbon at the New Holland Fair.

"York Fair doesn't offer the competition. I show cattle at New Holland Fair and at the last minute I decided to whip up a batch of brownies," she said of the qualifying competition held in October.

Katie used an old recipe of her mom's that she improvised. "I knew that the judges up here like goey stuff so I just dumped everything that I liked into it."

By "everything" she means chocolate chips, peanut butter, and marshmallow creme.

For her efforts, Katie receives a weekend trip for four at the Hershey Lodge and Convention Center. She said that her mother Belinda Myers had won the identical prize last year for baking the best chocolate cake. Unfortunately, the weekend the family planned the Hershey get-away, her brother's fiance was killed in an automobile accident. Instead of vacationing, the family attended the funeral in Iowa.

Katie expressed her desire that she hopes this year her family gets to enjoy the prize.

Amanda Darr placed second this year. Two years ago, Amanda took third place at the state level.

The 16-year-old from Somerset County feared she'd never make it to the competition this year. "The roads were so bad that we were the only ones on the turnpike," she said of the trip.

Fortunately, the family made it in time for her to enter her Fudge Caramel Delights. "It's a recipe I found in a magazine and adapted.

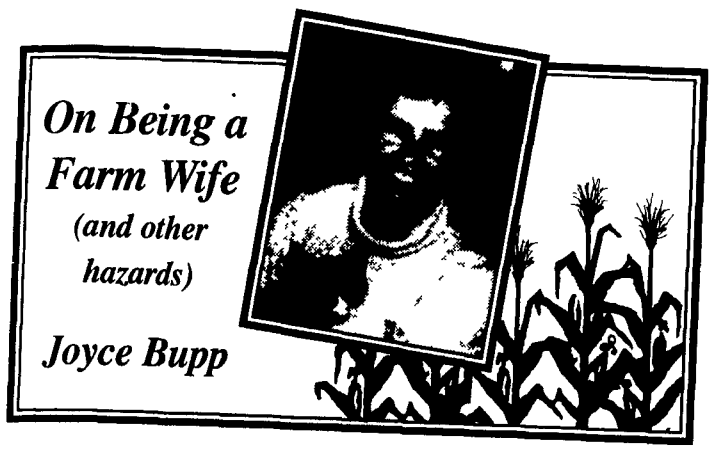
Homestead Notes



It becomes a matter of local pride.

"How's the winter been in your part of the country?"

So we reach for the extremes in a sort of "braggin' rights" contest about our weather endurance.

"Well, it was seven degrees when I left home early yesterday morning," I reply to that question put to me at a dairy meeting last week.

Seven degrees might win you braggin' rights if you're visiting with other locals or friends whose stomping grounds are more to the south.

But when you give that answer to fellow dairy producers from places like Minnesota or the Dakotas or Colorado, don't expect much sympathy. Indeed, they blow away any self-pity we Mid-Atlantic-located types might harbor over enduring single digit temperatures by recounting a string of temperatures in the sub-zero-category, complete with those ominous wind-chills of minus-30, minus-40, minus-50. Not that another 10 degrees make much difference at that point.

And emphasize the difference with tales of plugging in their tractors overnight so the motors wake up in the morning. And of burying water pipes to the barn 12 feet deep in the ground so they don't freeze.

Makes farming in southcentral Pennsylvania sound almost like a vacation in the Bahamas.

While 4:30 a.m. temperatures the likes of seven degrees or thereabouts sound pretty pioneering, that kind of Big Chill is hard to beat as a shock treatment for drowsy eyes that don't quite want to open and brain still foggy with sleep. Shivering our way to the barn, we try to remind ourselves that, for goodness' sake, it IS January and cold weather is the norm, rather than the exception.

Wondering all the while why anyone would even consider living in Alaska.

In reality, cold (within reason) is welcomed here on the farm because of its deterrent effect on the populations of some pest plants and pest insects.

Cold is necessary for the natural cycle of hibernation and hatching of some species, breaking dormancy in certain seed species. Cold is necessary in the cycle of blooming of tulips, daffodils, and other bulbs of beauty we will enjoy before all that long.

Cold gets rid of flies. At least temporarily. Since ordinary houseflies, an ongoing affliction of any place where animals and people exist, bug me, that's a personal benefit of winter.

Without cold, there would be no snow. No glittering ice. No whimsical paintings by Jack Frost on our windows.

No snowmen, no sledding, no ice skating, no skiing. No puffy, fluffy drifts against dark pine trees. No cottony tufts icing fence posts and electric poles. No swirling, curvaceous drifts piling up around house corners and banks.

Think how boring that would get, just days and days of warmth, and gentle breezes, and green grass . . . and hey, you, stop packing your bags!

Without cold, we would still be mowing our lawns and feeling pressured to keep the weeds pulled.

Without cold, there would be no justification to own those snow blowers or snowmobiles or plows for our lawn tractors or 4 x 4 sport utility vehicles.

Without cold, all those thermal underwear, wool sweater, insulated coverall, earmuff, boot and mitten manufacturers might be forced out of work while we spent our days hanging out instead in shorts and T-shirts. Think what that might do to the economy.

Without cold, those cups of hot chocolate laced with marshmallows would be considered a fattening extravagance instead of a healthful anti-freeze for the body and cozy lift for the soul.

Without cold, spring wouldn't be nearly as much appreciated.

I'll recite that mantra to myself the next time I'm on my way to the barn dressed in seven layers of clothes at 4:30 a.m. when the thermometer reads 7 degrees.

And hope it has a warming effect.

"I made it a lot for family and friends, and everyone always likes it," she said.

Third-place winner Erica Noll was also a previous contestant at the state level. The Clinton County 15-year-old said that when she was 12 years old, she was a top 10 finalist.

"I started baking one time when I was bored, and found out I was pretty good at it," Erica said.

Her Peanut Butter Cream Top Brownies is adapted from a recipe that she found in a magazine.

"I was looking for something unique. I made it seven times for my family, friends, and neighbors to try."

Her brownies almost did not make it to the Farm Show. "My dad said if the roads got much worse, he would turn around and go back home," Amanda said.

Judges for the event were Martene Firestine, Berks County; Edward Hartman, Lehigh County; Chris Fickes, Bucks County; Lilli Ann Kopp, Lancaster County; Karen Sandoe, Lebanon County.

Here are the recipes for the top three entries.

PEANUT BUTTER CHOCOLATE MALLO CREAM BARS
First Prize

Brownie bottom:
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 4 eggs
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1½ cups flour
- ½ cup baking cocoa
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup marshmallow cream

Peanut butter cream:
- ½ cup butter
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup sugar
- ¾ cup peanut butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ¾ cup flour
- 4 teaspoons milk

Chocolate glaze:
- 1 cup milk chocolate chips
- 2 tablespoons milk
- White chocolate, melted
- Chocolate leaf decorations

For brownie: Beat sugar and butter until fluffy in large mixer bowl. Add eggs and vanilla, mix well. Gradually add flour, salt, cocoa, and baking powder. Stir until well moistened. Pour batter into a greased 9x13-inch pan. Bake in a heated 350 degree oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Remove from oven, spread top with marshmallow cream, making sure it is even. Cool.

For peanut butter cream: Beat butter, sugar, and brown sugar until fluffy in medium mixer bowl. Add peanut butter and vanilla. Add flour and milk. Beat until creamy. Spread over cooled brownies. Melt chocolate chips in microwave bowl with milk. Add milk until mixture is of spreading consistency, about 1 to 1½ minutes. Stir and spread evenly over peanut butter cream layer.

Pipe diagonal strips of melted white chocolate over dark chocolate. Cut into squares. Place chocolate leaf in center of each square.

FUDGE CARAMEL DELIGHTS
Second Place
- ¾ cup baking cocoa
- 1½ sticks magarine
- 2 cups sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup flour
- 12 caramels
- ⅓ cup canned milk
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 cup chocolate chips
- 1 tablespoon canned milk

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease foil-lined 9x13-inch pan.

Cream together softened margarine, cocoa, and sugar. Add eggs and flour. Spread half the batter in pan. Bake 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, microwave caramels and milk on high for 2-3 minutes. Stir until smooth. Stir in nuts.

Spread caramel mixture on brownies. Sprinkle chocolate chips. Pour remaining batter in pan and bake 30 minutes more.

Remove from oven. Microwave the 12 caramels and 1 tablespoon milk on high for one minute. Stir until smooth. Drizzle over top of warm brownies.

Icing:
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 stick margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup milk

Cream shortening, margarine, and sugar. Add flour and vanilla. Gradually add milk. Beat until creamy. Spread mixture on brownies. Sprinkle with chopped nuts.

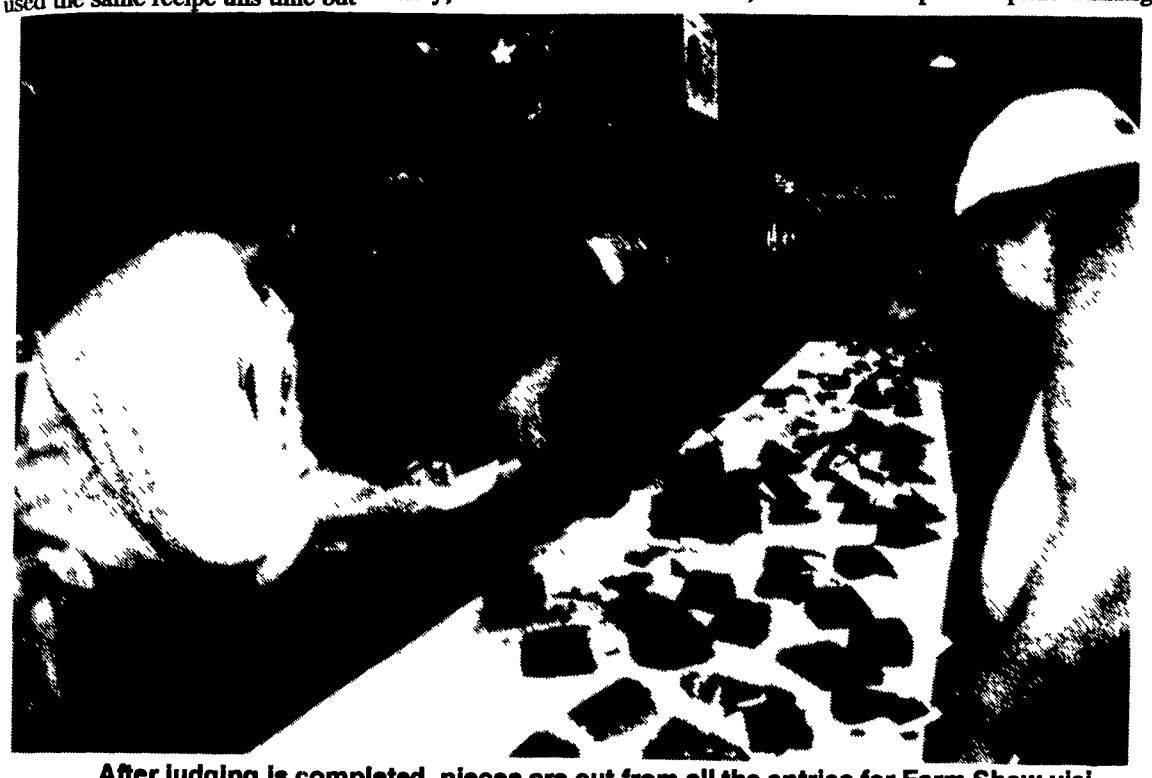
competition in previous years. This, too, was the first time that she made it to the winner's circle. "I used the same recipe this time but modified the icing. I used lots of butter because I'm a butter fanatic," Kauffman said.

"It's very simple but extremely tasty," Kauffman said of her cake, which was not decorated unlike the other top 10 entries.

Fickes said that he thought the third-place cake was the tastiest, but the top two prize-winning cakes received additional points for elaborate decorations.

Winner of the first-place cake received a weekend trip for four to the Hershey Lodge and Convention Center, Hershey. Second and third place winners received $50 and $35 respectively.

Here are the top three recipes.



After judging is completed, pieces are cut from all the entries for Farm Show visitors to sample.

DK'S SWEETHEART CHOCOLATE CAKE
First Prize

2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup baking cocoa
½ cup light cream
½ cup milk
3 teaspoons baking powder
3 teaspoons baking soda
¾ cup oil
1 cup strong coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Mix together all ingredients until bubbly. Pour into greased and floured heart-shaped cake pans.

Cream Cheese Filling:

12-ounces cream cheese, softened
1 egg
½ cup sugar
12-ounces chocolate mini-chips

Drop by spoonsfuls in different sections into the cake batter. Use a knife to gently swirl. Bake at 375 degrees in preheated oven for 35-45 minutes or until toothpick inserted in cake part comes out clean.

Frosting:

½ cup butter
½ cup Crisco
1 teaspoon clear vanilla extract
4 cups confectioners' sugar
¼ cup light cream

Cream together butter and shortening with mixer. Add vanilla. Gradually add sugar, 1 cup at a time, beating well on low speed. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl often. When all sugar has been added, icing will appear dry. Add cream and beat on medium speed until light and fluffy. Spread on cooled cake layers and use decorating bag to pipe decorations on top of cake. Sprinkle with edible glitter.

CHOCOLATE CAKE
Second Prize

2 cups granulated sugar
2 cups flour
¾ cup baking cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
½ cup canola oil
1 cup milk
1 cup dark, hot coffee
2 eggs, separated

Sift together first five ingredients. Add oil, milk, coffee, and egg yolks. Beat egg whites until foamy and stir into above mixture. Beat well. Batter will be thin. Pour into two 8-inch round cake pans. Bake at 300 degrees for 45 minutes. After cake is cooled, spread buttercream icing between the layers. Cover cake with chocolate fudge/mocha frosting, and decorate with peanut butter icing.

Beef: It's What's For Dinner

Beef contains more readily available iron than does nearly any other food source. That's important, since many people—especially women—often don't get enough iron in their diets.

Beef is also a great source of protein, B vitamins, niacin, riboflavin, and zinc.

Today's beef has 27 percent less external fat than a decade ago.

Did you know that a 3-ounce serving of cooked, trimmed beef top round has just 4 grams of fat and only 70 milligrams of cholesterol? The same size serving of baked, skinless chicken breast has 2 grams fat and 70 milligrams cholesterol.

Lean beef fits into the American Heart Association guidelines. Beef is a nutrient dense food, which means that it supplies significant nutrients for the calories it contains.

True, it's difficult to beat the flavor of traditional roast beef or grilled steak, but here are some recipes, mostly from the Beef Council, that are sure to vie for favorite standing in your mealtime repertoire.

FIVE LAYER DINNER

1 pound ground beef
¼ cup butter
1 small onion, chopped
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup chopped celery
4 cups julienned potatoes
1 cup uncooked rice
1 quart canned green beans, drained
3 cups tomato juice plus 1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup shredded cheese

Brown beef, drain off fat. In medium saucepan, saute onion, carrots, and celery in butter 3 to 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Set aside. In a large greased casserole dish or roasting pan, layer potatoes, rice, ground beef, carrot mixture, and beans. Combine tomato juice, water, and seasonings; pour over all. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 1½ hours or until potatoes and rice are tender. Top with cheese; cover and let set until cheese melts.

BLUE CHEESE TENDERLOIN STEAKS

4 beef tenderloin steaks, cut 1-inch thick
2 tablespoons cream cheese, softened
½ teaspoons crumbled blue cheese
½ teaspoons plain low-fat yogurt
2 teaspoons minced onion
Dash white pepper
1 large clove garlic, halved
½ teaspoon salt, divided
2 teaspoons chopped parsley

Combine cream cheese, blue cheese, yogurt, onion, and pepper; reserve. Rub each side of beef steaks with garlic. Place steaks on rack in broiler pan so surface of meat is 2 to 3 inches from heat. Broil 5 to 6 minutes. Season with ¼ teaspoon salt.

Turn and broil 3 to 4 minutes. Season with remaining salt. Top each steak with an equal amount of reserved cheese mixture. Broil an additional 1 to 2 minutes. Garnish with parsley. 4 servings.

Beef Council

BEEF CHILI

1 pound lean beef cubed steaks
2 teaspoons vegetable oil
4½ teaspoons Spicy Seasoning Mix*
1 medium onion, chopped
28-ounce can plum tomatoes, undrained
2 cups frozen whole kernel corn

Heat oil in deep large skillet over medium heat 5 minutes. Meanwhile cut each beef steak lengthwise into 1-inch wide strips; cut crosswise in 1-inch pieces. Sprinkle beef with 2 teaspoons spicy seasoning. Stir-fry beef and onion 2 to 3 minutes. Season with salt, if desired. Add tomatoes (break up with back of spoon), corn and remaining 2½ teaspoons spicy seasoning. Bring to a boil; reduce heat to medium-low and simmer, uncovered, 18 to 20 minutes. 4 servings.

*Spicy Seasoning Mix

3 tablespoons chili powder
2 teaspoons ground cumin
1½ teaspoons garlic powder
¾ teaspoon dried oregano leaves
½ teaspoon ground red pepper

Combine all ingredients. Store, covered, in airtight container. Shake before using to blend. Yield: about ⅓ cup.

Beef Council

Grecian Skillet Ribeyes can be prepared in 25 minutes using just eight ingredients.

BARBECUE BEEF CUPS

¾ cup lean ground beef
½ cup barbecue sauce
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1 can refrigerated biscuits
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Brown ground beef in skillet over medium heat until no longer pink; stir occasionally. Drain fat and rinse, if desired.

Combine beef with barbecue sauce and onion.

Separate biscuits and place each in an ungreased muffin cup. Press the dough up the sides to the edge of muffin cup.

Spoon beef mixture into cups. Bake 10 to 12 minutes until biscuit is golden brown. Top with shredded cheese. Return to oven until cheese melts. 10 servings.

Beef Council

GRECIAN SKILLET RIBEYES

2 well-trimmed beef ribeye steaks, cut 1-inch thick
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons feta cheese
1 tablespoon chopped, pitted black olives

Seasoning:

1½ teaspoons garlic powder
1½ teaspoons dried basil leaves, crushed
1½ teaspoons dried oregano leaves, crushed
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Combine seasoning ingredients: press into both sides of beef steaks. In large nonstick skillet, heat oil over medium heat until hot. Place steaks in skillet; cook approximately 10 to 14 minutes for medium rare to medium doneness, turning once. Sprinkle with lemon juice.

To serve, sprinkle cheese and olives over steaks; garnish as desired. Makes 2 to 4 servings.

Featured Recipe

For the contemporary crowd, a casual weekend supper for friends mean easy entertaining and fabulous food.

And when the main dish is a stunning Veal and Vegetable Lasagna, the rest is easy because you need only the simplest accompaniments like a salad and bread to round out the menu. Veal and Vegetable Lasagna is a star, both in flavor and ease of preparation. Made with lean ground veal, it's a delicious, contemporary rendition of the classic favorite.

Fore ease, this updated lasagna starts with a prepared garlic and mushroom pasta sauce, and uncooked lasagna noodles. By covering the uncooked noodles completely with the sauce as the lasagna is assembled, they will be al dente at the end of cooking time. Lasagna was never so easy.

VEAL AND VEGETABLE LASAGNA

Total preparation and cooking time: 1-3/4 hours

1-1/2 pounds ground veal
2 teaspoons olive oil
2 large yellow bell peppers, cut into sixths
1 package (10 ounces) fresh spinach, torn
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 jar (26 to 28 ounces) prepared garlic and mushroom pasta sauce
1 can (14-1/2 ounces) diced tomatoes, undrained
10 uncooked lasagna noodles (not oven-ready)
4 cups shredded smoked mozzarella cheese

1. Heat oven to 375°F. Heat oil in large nonstick skillet over medium heat. Add peppers; cook 3 to 4 minutes or until crisp-tender, stirring occasionally. Remove from skillet; set aside. Add spinach to same skillet; cook and stir 1 minute or until slightly wilted. Drain excess liquid. Remove from skillet; set aside.

2. Brown ground veal in same skillet over medium heat 7 to 8 minutes or until veal is no longer pink, breaking up into 1/2-inch crumbles. Pour off drippings. Season with salt. Stir in pasta sauce and tomatoes.

3. spread 2 cups sauce mixture in 13x9-inch baking dish. Place 4 noodles lengthwise and 1 noodle crosswise (break noodle to fit) in a single layer; press lightly into sauce. Layer spinach over noodles. Arrange peppers in single layer over spinach. Sprinkle with half of cheese. Spread 2-1/2 cups sauce over cheese. Cover with remaining noodles; press lightly into sauce. Spread remaining sauce over noodles.

4. Cover with aluminum foil; bake in 375°F oven 1 hour. Remove from oven. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Tent with aluminum foil; let stand 15 minutes before cutting.

Makes 9 servings.

Cooks Tips:

one (10-Ounce) package frozen leaf spinach, defrosted and drained well, may be substituted for fresh spinach.

Caring For Herbs All Winter

Plan now to join gardeners and herbalists across Pennsylvania for the first annual Pennsylvania Herb Festival on Saturday, June 26, at the York Expo Center, York. The herb festival will include an herb trade show and educational demonstrations and displays on the practical uses of herbs in the garden, in the kitchen, and through crafts and gifts.

By now perennial and biennial herbs should have a protective layer of mulch. This protective layer usually of organic materials should be used in all herb gardens, including raised herb beds, exposed to winter weather. Mulches commonly used include straw, oak leaves or evergreen boughs from a discarded Christmas tree. Snow provides a good insulating layer if snow remains on the ground well into March.

In general, herbs are shallow rooted, making them susceptible to heaving during spring thaws. A four-inch layer of mulch affords the best protection as long as it remains in place until signs of new growth appear on the herb plant. Removed too soon and many herbs show early frost damage.

For herb lovers, growing herbs year-round makes sense. With a little knowledge, most commonly grown herbs survive well indoors through the winter. Most herb types enjoy a sunny window facing south or west. Grow lights or fluorescent lamps provide even more light for good plant growth and color.

Transplant herbs or plant seeds in a well-drained commercial soilless mix. A sandy loam soil is preferred outdoors. Indoors, plant into a pre-moistened potting medium purchased as a pre-mix potting soil or make your own mix using two parts sterilized potting soil and one part perlite or coarse sand. Avoid mediums high in pest content.

To ensure good drainage, fill the container first with a thin (one-inch) layer of gravel. For planters and pots with drainage holes, no gravel is required. Herbs in clay pots and hanging baskets require more effort watering. To guarantee adequate moisture in homes with dry heat, mist plants often. Another option is using a tray of moistened gravel. Group similar herb plants together in the tray. The added humidity and improved drainage prevents soggy roots and overwatered plants. Water only when the soil looks and feels almost completely dry.

Some annual herbs are extremely tender while other are somewhat hardy outdoors all winter. In general, annuals can survive indoors without being transplanted outdoors. Annual herbs include sweet basil, chervil, coriander, dill and summer savory.

A few herbs like mint should remain in a pot indoors or out. When planted outdoors, this aggressive herb should remain in a three- or five-gallon pot with drainage holes and buried in garden soil. The pot's rim should remain one inch above ground to prevent above-ground runners from rerooting outside the pot. Prune any creeping stems as well.

Perennial herbs prefer some time outdoors, preferably in the summer. For example, a pot with sweet bay can be buried in soil up to the rim and kept in a protected location like a porch, patio or deck. Locate these herbs where some sunshines on the plant each day.

Herbs planted indoors like periodic light, light fertilizer and yearly repotting. Look for container herbs all winter long in garden centers and nurseries. A few favorites include purple ruffles and cinnamon basil, garlic chives, lavender, parsley, oregano and thyme.

Best Chocolate Cake

Chocolate Fudge/Mocha Frosting
⅓ cup butter
⅓ cup baking cocoa
2⅔ cups confectioners' sugar
4-5 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3-4 tablespoons instant coffee

Melt butter in small saucepan over low heat; add cocoa. Heat until mixture just begins to boil, stirring constantly, until smooth. Pour into a small mixing bowl and cool mixture completely. Add 3-4 tablespoons instant coffee to a little milk heated slightly to blend. Add confectioners' sugar alternately with milk, beating to spreading consistency.

Peanut Butter Icing
1½ cups confectioners' sugar
¼ cup smooth peanut butter
4-5 tablespoons milk

Blend sugar, peanut butter, and milk (gradually) together in a small bowl. Beat until smooth.

To use as a decorator icing, use less milk or a little more confectioners' sugar.

Buttercream Icing
4 tablespoons butter (room temperature)
1 cup shortening
3 pounds confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon clear vanilla
¾ cup warm water

Cream shortening and butter together in mixing bowl. Add confectioners' sugar and salt; stir with spoon. Add water and vanilla, stir, then beat with mixer until smooth and creamy. Add more water if necessary. Refrigerate leftovers.

MY BEST CHOCOLATE CAKE
Third Prize

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup ganulated sugar
½ cup butter
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup baking cocoa mixed with 1 cup boiling water to make a smooth paste
½ cup sour milk
3 teaspoons baking soda
2 cups flour
1 cup boiling water

Cream sugars and butter, add beaten eggs, and mix well. Add cocoa mixture. (Mixture will become very thin). Mix sour milk with baking soda. Add flour and milk alternately. Add 1 cup boiling water last. (Mixture is very thin). Pour into two 9-inch cake pans that have been greased and flour and lined with wax paper. Bake at 350 degrees for 35-40 minutes.

Chocolate Frosting:
¾ cup butter, softened
5 cups confectioners' sugar, sifted
⅓ cup light cream
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup baking cocoa

Blend together butter and sugar on low speed of mixer. Stir in half the cream. Add cocoa. Blend in remaining cream. Beat on medium speed until fluffy and smooth. Yields enough frosting for two 9-inch layer cake.

QUESTION — Darvin Moyer, Johnstown, would like a recipe for the beef and lamb mixture used to make Greek Gyro sandwiches. How is the meat ground and pressed and what spices are added to the mixture?

QUESTION — Krista Schaible, Riegelsville, would like a recipe to make granola.

QUESTION — Anna Showalter, Weyers Cave, Va., would appreciate a pork roll bologna recipe that tastes like that made in Lancaster County.

QUESTION — Grace Ikeler, Bloomsburg, would like a recipe for pumpkin soup.

QUESTION — Herman Ikeler, Bloomsburg, would like a recipe for dried cured pepperoni.

QUESTION — G. Sweitzer, Airville, wanted to know what temperature and for what length of time should field corn be roasted in an oven prior to grinding into roasted corn meal. Can the unground roasted corn be kept for a year or more in an airtight container?

QUESTION — Janet Huber, Williamstown, wants a recipe for chocolate banana cookies.

QUESTION — A long time reader from Ticonderoga, N.Y., would like recipes that use northern-hardy kiwi, which is small and grapesized with a smooth skin. It grows on clusters of vines.

QUESTION — Bernie Seeko, Hackettstown, N.J., would like to know how to keep raisins, nuts, or berries from settling in the bottom of cakes when baking. She's tried coating them with flour just before baking with no luck.

QUESTION — A Shippensburg reader would like a recipe for corn crackles.

ANSWER — A reader from Finger Lakes, N.Y., wanted a recipe to can together sliced onions and green bell peppers (not pickled). I'm not sure if this is what she had in mind, but here is a recipe for marinated peppers to can with onions, which is very good.

Marinated Peppers

4 pounds firm bell peppers
1 cup bottled lemon juice
2 cups white vinegar (5%)
1 tablespoon oregano leaves
1 cup olive or salad oil
½ cup onions, chopped
2 cloves garlic, quartered (optional)
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish (optional)
Yield: about 9 half-pints

Select firm peppers, wash, remove cores and seeds, slice in shape desired. Mix together remaining ingredients in a saucepan and heat to boiling. Place ¼ garlic clove (optional) and ¼ teaspoon salt in each half-pint jar or ½ teaspoon per pint. Fill jars with peppers, add hot, well-mixed oil/pickling solution over peppers, leaving ½ -inch headspace. Adjust lids and process jars in boiling water bath for 15 minutes for halfpints or 20 minutes for pints.

ANSWER — Betty Lou Gambler, Concord, wrote that her mother purchased a pickle compound at the former People's Drug Store during the 1940s and 1950s. There were four packages in one recipe and contained rock salt, saccharine, clove oil, and an acid of some kind that was mixed into 1 gallon of cold vinegar and poured over pickles. The pickles were ready to eat within several days and tasted delicious. She has tried many stores and has not been able to locate the pickling compound. Another reader from Orange County, N.Y. wanted a recipe for Half Sour Pickles, which are soaked in brine overnight and can be eaten the following day. The canning season is past, and we did not receive answers to these questions. However, in order to have help for the next pickling season, we suggest that you call The Heinz Company. You can speak to a representative about this or other pickling questions by calling (212) 878-4672. Also, a free canning and pickling guide is available for requesting the "Heinz Successful Pickling Guide and Alltrista's Consumer Newsline," both informative resources filled with canning tips and recipes. Make your request for these free guides to Best Picks for Canning & Pickling, P.O. Box 57, Pittsburgh, PA 15230.

ANSWER — Helen Hertzler, Morgantown, wanted a recipe for pizza crust in which the dry ingredients can be mixed and stored until ready to use. Thanks to Wendy Furie, Frederick, Md., for sending a recipe.

Pizza Crust Fixings Mix

5 pounds all-purpose flour
2 cups instant nonfat dry milk
1 cup sugar
7½ teaspoons salt

Combine ingredients and store in airtight container for up to six months.

To make pizza crust:
2 cups fixings mix
1 teaspoon quick-rise yeast
⅔ cups water
1 tablespoon melted butter

In a mixing bowl, combine 1 cup fixings mix with yeast. Add water and butter; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining fixings mix to form a soft dough. Turn onto a floured surface; knead until elastic, about 4-6 minutes. Cover and let rest 10 minutes. On floured surface, roll dough into a 14-inch circle, then transfer to ungreased pizza pan. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Top with pizza sauce, cheese, and other desired toppings. Bake 10-15 minutes longer or until golden brown.

Beef: It's What's For Dinner

WARM BEEF AND HERB SALAD

1 pound beef flank steak
½ cup red wine vinegar
2 cloves garlic, crushed
2 teaspoons dried basil leaves
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
6 cups torn mixed salad greens
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 medium onion, cut into thin wedges
1 medium red bell pepper, cut into strips

Cut beef steak lengthwise into 3 strips; slice across the grain into ⅛ -inch thick strips. Combine vinegar, garlic, basil, sugar, and salt; reserve. Place salad greens in serving bowl. Heat oil in large nonstick skillet over medium-high heat. Stir-fry beef strips (half at a time) 1 to 2 minutes. Remove with slotted spoon; keep warm. Add onion and bell pepper to same skillet; stir-fry 2 to 3 minutes or until crisp-tender. Return beef to skillet with reserved dressing; heat through. Spoon beef mixture and hot dressing over salad greens. Toss and serve immediately. Season with pepper, if desired. 4 servings.

QUICK FAJITAS WITH PICO DE GALLO

1 pound well-trimmed boneless beef round or top sirloin steak, ¾ -inch thick
8 small flour tortillas, warmed
Marinade:
2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
2 teaspoons vegetable oil
2 large cloves garlic, crushed
Pico de Gallo:
1 cup seeded, chopped tomato
½ cup diced zucchini
¼ cup chopped fresh cilantro
¼ cup prepared salsa
1 tablespoon fresh lime juice

Place beef steak in plastic bag; add marinade ingredients, turning to coat. Close bag securely and marinate in refrigerator 20 to 30 minutes, turning once.

Meanwhile in medium bowl, combine Pico de Gallo ingredients; mix well.

Remove steak from marinade; discard marinade. Place steak on rack in broiler pan so surface of meat is 2- to 3-inches from heat. Broil 12 to 13 minutes (9 to 12 minutes for top sirloin steak) for medium rare doneness, turning occasionally.

Trim fat from steak; carve crosswise into very thin slices. Serve beef in tortillas with Pico de Gallo. 4 servings.

Armstrong County Farm Wins Champion Fleece At Farm Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Burkes Little 20 Sheep Farm of Freeport, Armstrong County took top honors in the wool judging competition at the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Reserve grand champion went to Frank Davis from Slippery Rock, Butler County, with his reserve champion breed fleece. The wool competition is designed to encourage the production of better wool, to promote proper handling, grading and preparation for market, and to create an awareness of the many qualities of wool and its uses.

Thomas McIlwain of North Apollo, Armstrong County, contest judge, has been judging wool for nearly 40 years. He looks at how the fleece is tied; the amount of foreign material in the fleece; the length, strength, and kinks of the staple; and the amount of yellow color, or yolk, in the fleece. He also examines the fleece for second cuts, indicating a mistake in shearing, and if the wool is in the correct class.

Other winners include Kayley Lin Scott of Pulaski, Mercer County, who won reserve champion farm flock fleece, reserve champion breed fleece, and champion and reserve champion natural colored fleece. The top county wool exhibit went to Lawrence County. More than 100 fleeces were entered in the competition.

PEANUT BUTTER CREAM TOPPED BROWNIE
Third Place

½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons water
1½ cups semi-sweet chocolate chips
2 eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
⅔ cup all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking cocoa

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Grease 9-inch square pan. Combine sugar, butter, and water in saucepan. Cook over low heat until mixture boils. Remove from heat. Add cocoa and chocolate chips; stir until melted. Add eggs and vanilla; beat with spoon until well blended. Stir together flour, baking soda, and salt; stir into chocolate. Mix. Pour into prepared pan. Bake 25-30 minutes. Cool. Spread peanut butter cream on top. Refrigerate until set. Cut into bars; cover with the following.

Peanut butter cream:
¼ cup butter
⅔ cup peanut butter
1½ cups confectioners' sugar
3-4 tablespoons light cream

Beat together butter and peanut butter. Alternately add powdered sugar and light cream. Beat.

Chocolate glaze:
2 tablespoons chocolate chips
2 teaspoons butter or peanut butter cream.

Melt ingredients in microwave for 45 seconds. Drizzle on top of peanut butter cream.

Creative Cheese Carving

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — "Behold the Power of Cheese" was the theme for the first Pennsylvania Farm Show Creative Cheese Carving Contest at the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show.

The event featured the talents of six amateur contestants demonstrating their cheese-carving skills to create a work of art based upon the phrase "Behold the power of cheese."

Each contestant was provided one hour to sculpt an image from a five-pound block of cheese. When the carving was complete, the team of Steve Mohn and Kevin Sattazahn of Berks County was named the winner and received the $150 first-place prize.

Second place went to the team of Heather Koepf and Laura Santos of Cumberland County who received $100, and third place went to Bill Horstman of Washington County who received $75.

Among the works of cheese were a milk can, a goat, a barn, a "Real Seal" symbol, a train engine, and a football.

Judges for the event were Sue Gleiter of the Harrisburg Patriot News; the PA Dairy Princess Jennifer Dotterer, and Chef Mike DeVeny of the Yorktowne Business Institute.

Chef's Choice Served At Farm Show

Harrisburg (Dauphin Co.) — Whether you crave the taste of succulent lamb, creamy cheese fondue, or a slice of roasted emu, chefs at the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show are guaranteed to satisfy all hungers.

Cooking demonstrations in the Family Living and Agricultural Learning Center at the Farm Show Complex offered dozens of new ways to prepare some of Pennsylvania's finest agricultural foods.

Chef Michael DeVeny from the School of Culinary Arts at Yorktowne Business Institute kicked off the demonstrations with a new twist on roast lamb. DeVeny commented that overcooking is the most common mistake consumers make when preparing lamb.

Audience members had an opportunity to taste-test five different sauces served with lamb: mint pesto, walnut pesto, pepper jelly, pumpkin seed cream, and mango chutney, the crowd favorite.

In a cooking demonstration devoted to cheese, Chef DeVeny encouraged onlookers to dust off their fondue pots in predicting that "dip dining" will make a comeback this year. This new wave of fondue frenzy includes a greater diversity of ingredients. Audience members sampled such exotic flavors as Honey-Blue Cheese Fondue and Red Pepper-Dill Swiss Fondue.

The cheese fondue demonstration was sponsored by the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program and the Middle Atlantic American Dairy Association.

In another corner of the Farm Show, chefs from the Pennsylvania College of Technology Schooi of Hospitality prepared a flavorful "Pork Roast with Molasses Rub".

The special rub mixture in which the pork loin is marinated includes black peppercorns, coriander seed, molasses, brown sugar, garlic, and orange zest. Smoking and then roasting the meat results in a dark carmelized exterior that enhances the pork flavor

The Pennsylvania Pork Council, Golden Barrel Molasses, Garland Industries, and the Juniata Stinking Rose Company donated the products used in this event.

A wide variety of other cooking demonstrations, featuring recipes using blackened catfish, mushrooms, vegetable strudel, emu, turkey, and wild game were used throughout Farm Show Week.

Striving For Quality? Take It Easy On The Hay, According To Halifax Producer

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HALIFAX (Dauphin Co.) — Don't over-rake it. Don't beat it. Get it baled dry enough and as soon as possible.

Above all, to get good hay, you have to feed it.

"Fertilizer pays. It doesn't cost you," said Joel Steigman, who farms 250 acres at two separate sites below Broad Mountain near Halifax.

Steigman took home champion honors in Class 4, alfalfa grass mixed, later cutting, field dried, at the 1998 Hay Show during this year's Ag Progress Days.

All the alfalfa hay on the farm was topdressed with 0-15 30, in addition to soil testing recommendations where needed, according to Steigman. An important ingredient for champion hay, besides good soil tilth and pH, is the use of manure.

Steigman applies layer manure to the fields as needed. "I soil test all the time," he said.

He applies manure from 40-some head of feeder cattle, in addition to chicken manure, which is worked into the soil on a rotation. He maintains some cows and calves and buys feeders.

He also maintains test plots of new alfalfa varieties on his farm. About seven acres with six different varieties are kept at the farm. The test plots are looking at the correct seeding rates for the hay. Photo by Andy Andrews

Nutrient Management

Did you know that Pennsylvania is the 10th largest producer of hay in the United States? I didn t!

Based on results from the Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Department on an annual basis Pennsylvania produces 4 7 million tons of hay on nearly 2 1 million acres

Alfalfa is the state s largest single forage crop, making up slightly more than 800 000 acres and more than one half the total hay production In addition to hay production, there are more than 2 3 million acres of pasture in Pennsylvania.

The forage industry is a major agricultural enterprise in Pennsylvania and the northeastern United States About 60 percent ($1 9 billion) of the total cash receipts from the sale of agricultural products in Pennsylvania are derived from meat and milk sales In Pennsylvania there are approximately 720,000 milk cows, 216,000 beef cows, and 134,000 sheep Forage crops constitute the major feed component in the diet of these animals, making forages the backbone of Pennsylvania s agriculture and rural economy In addition forages are environ

Pennsylvania Farm Women Hold 80th Convention

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Society of Farm Women of Pennsylvania held its 80th annual state convention on Monday.

Members attended morning and afternoon sessions in the state forum building, then traveled to the nearby Radisson Penn Harris Convention Center for the evening banquet.

About 225 members of the state organization that has a total membership of 2,639 attended the day-long events.

Members debated whether or not the traditional day and evening event should be shortened so that more of its aging membership could attend. At one time, the Forum was the ideal spot for the large membership to gather, but membership has dwindled in recent years. Some expressed concern that the Forum is much larger than needed and is drafty and difficult to maneuver for elderly members. Others upheld tradition and said that age is no excuse.

It was determined that the change would need to be handled as a by-law change. After much discussion, members wrote down opinions to be reviewed by the advisory committee to determine future action.

Nominated to fill director positions were Martha Reed, Dauphin County, and Emma Spencer, Bedford County. Nancy Barmount of Fulton County will finish out the secretary's term, from which Dorothy Caskey resigned.

A memorial service was held for members who died during the past year. A donation of $66 was given to Habitat for Humanity.

A representative from Habitat for Humanity explained how the organization was founded in the mid 1970s and how it provides housing for the needy. Recipients must provide sweat equity before moving into a home. They pay a mortgage that covers the cost of materials with no added interest.

Pennsylvania Dairy Princess Jennifer Dotterer challenged members to imagine a world without milk and the disasters that would result. She reminded members of the many nutrients found in milk to keep people healthy.

Cindy Thoman of Fulton County reminded members to continue farm safety programs as farm accidents happen so quickly. Cindy's husband was injured Oct. 26, when he got off the tractor. The tractor started drifting. Although he attempted to get out of the way, the half-filled wagon knocked him over and ran over him. She recounted a series of "God incidents" that enabled him to be speedily airlifted to Hershey Medical Center. He is expected to fully recover from 12 broken ribs, a collapsed lung, torn ankle ligaments, and trauma to the face.

Naomi Bupp presented a $8,000 check for the scholarship fund. The money is from the cookbook the society printed eight years ago and continues to sell. More than $88,000 has been raised and 22,000 copies sold. Another reprinting will be requested this year.

Presidents from each county society reported on members activities throughout the year and the many ways they fulfilled their project to spread acts of kindness.

The Spring Rally will be held at the Holday Inn West, 5401 Carlisle Pike on Route 11. Sponsored by Cumberland Farm Women, reservations must be made by April 26. Tickets are $15 each. Seating will be limited to 625.

Entertainment was provided by Lee Moyer of Lebanon, The Hungry Three, a brass band, and by Dale Snyder from Zoo America who talked about endangered species.

Ruth Martin said Franklin County's 10 societies with 174 members invite handicapped children to enjoy a day on her family's farm.

In memory of members who died during the past year, money was donated to Habitat for Humanity. In charge of the memorial service are Dauphin County members, from left, Ethel Cline, Mary Pankake, Martha Reed, and Sharon Strite.

4-H Club Receives $2500 Grant To Feed Hungry

RUTGERS, N.J. — National 4-H Council, in partnership with Kraft Foods, Inc., has selected Hunterdon Bullseyes 4-H Club to administer an annual grant of $2,500. The grants range from $500 to $2,500 and were awarded to programs that involve youth and adults as partners in learning experiences that address local hunger problems.

The focus of the "Feeding the Hungry" program is to promote youth/adult involvement in local food banking, outreach and public awareness efforts. Program goals include increasing the food supply available to those in need and educating the public about hunger and food supply issues.

"Feeding the Hungry" programs will also help youth build the foundation skills and competencies which will be required of them in the workplace of the future. Projects will be implemented in the community and in collaboration with 4-H work. Youth were actively involved in writing the grant proposals and will be instrumental in project decisions, designs and implementation.

The Bullseyes' grant involves increasing the amount of protein donated to the Norwescap Food Bank which serves Hunterdon, Warren and Sussex Counties. The food bank has a constant shortage of protein (meat). More than 500 companies, organizations, and individuals donate to Norwescap but donations of meat are rare.

The Bullseyes 4-H Club has joined forces with the Hunters Helping the Hungry, a group of adult volunteers dedicated to donating venison to the food bank. The Hunters Helping the Hungry and the 4-Hers are soliciting hunters to donate venison as well as soliciting funds to pay for processing. Each deer provides approximately 50 pounds of meat. The cost of processing each deer is approximately $50.

The goal of the project is to provide 20,000 pounds of meat. This means the funding need is $20,000. The National 4-H Council Grant provided by Kraft Foods, Inc. will pay for the processing of 2,500 pounds of meat. The 4-H youth have also pledged to donate 100 pounds of non game meat.

The overpopulation of deer in Hunterdon County is responsible for millions of dollars in loss of agricultural crops, landscaping, and automobiles each year. Deer are also responsible for loss of human life in automobile accidents they cause. This project is a great way to provide food for those in need while hopefully reducing the unhealthy overpopulation of deer. It is a great example of youth and adults working together to help those in need while addressing a community problem.

Dried Food Can Last A Year Or Longer

Normally, the recommended period to store dried foods is one year. Foods stored longer than that probably will be safe, because the lack of moisture reduces the chance that enzymes or bacteria can do their dirty work. But after a year, the food could lose flavor and darken in color, deteriorating in quality.

If you really go gang-busters with that dehydrator, you can freeze dehydrated food for an indefinite period of time. The nice thing about dried food is that it shrivels up so much that it takes very little space in the freezer or wherever you store it.

Be sure to store foods as quickly as possible after they're dried, because dried food will immediately start to pick up moisture from the air. You can store dried food in airtight, sterilized glass jars, in heavy-duty, vapor-proof plastic bags, or in metal tins with tight fitting lids. Some experts favor tins because they keep light out, and light causes vitamin loss. But if you use tins, line them with brown paper bags so the food doesn't touch the metal and react to it.

Also, plastic bags are often touted as better than glass jars, because you can squeeze excess air out of bags. You'll want to avoid letting dried food have too much contact with air — and the natural moisture that's in it.

Some other tips:

•Avoid storing dried food in the refrigerator, especially if it's not in an airtight container. Refrigerators are humid environments and could rehydrate your dried food.

•Check occasionally for mold. If you spot some, throw out all the food in the container.

•Store one type of food per container, and store in small quantities. That way, if one package spoils, you only have to throw out a small amount.

For more information, Ohio State University Extension has a fact sheet on Drying Foods (HYG-5347-97) available free at Ohio's country Extension offices or on Ohioline, its website (http://ohioline.ag.ohio-state.edu/), under "Food."

point," said Frank Long, president of the State Association of County Fairs.

Although 98 pies were pre-registered for this year's competition, only 39 entries were received. Icy road conditions combined with fog prevented many travelers from arriving for the 10 a.m. competition.

Second-place winner was Pam Paulsell, Chadds Ford, Chester County.

Paulsell has entered the contest for five years and won first place in both 1993 and in 1996. She uses the same classic apple pie recipe every year. She got up at 4 a.m. to bake the pie before bringing it to the Farm Show on Saturday. She received $60 for second place.

Third place and $40 went to Dottie Weber, East Petersburg, Lancaster County.

It was the first time Dottie competed at the state level after qualifying at the Manheim Farm Show. She used the old-fashioned variety of Cortland apples she obtained from neighboring Rohrer's Orchard.

Judges included Vicki Inscho, home economics teacher; George Shoemaker, restaurant owner, and Joanne Keher, home economics teacher.

Pies entered are judged on overall appearance, crust color, flavor, texture and doneness, filling consistency, and creativity.

The annual contest is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Pennsylvania Apple Marketing Program and the State Association of County Fairs.

Here are the recipes for the winning entries.

First Place

Crust:
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅔ cup shortening
- ⅓ cup cold water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix flour, salt, and shortening until crumbed. Stir in water and vanilla. Form dough into ball; set aside.

Apple Pie Filling:

Peel and slice 8-10 red and yellow delicious apples. Add:
- 1 cup water or apple juice
- ⅔ cup sugar
- Cinnamon to taste
- Few grates fresh nutmeg
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Cook until soft but not mushy. Add:
- 1 tablespoon Clear jel or cornstarch
- ½ tablespoon minute Tapioca mixed in
- ¼ cup water

Cook mixture until it thickens. Set aside. Cool.

Pineapple layer for bottom.
- 1 small can crushed pineapple, drain and reserve juice

Mix juice with the following:
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch or Clear jel
- ⅓ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- Cinnamon, sprinkle

Cook until thick, add drained pineapple. Set aside. Cool.

Nutty layer:

Toast one-half cut chopped pecans
- ¼ cup grated coconut in skillet
- Add 1½ tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1½ tablespoons honey. Cook until bubbly and sugar is dissolved. Set aside. Cool.

Roll half of the pie dough to fit a 9-inch pie pan. Put the pineapple filling on the bottom. Layer nuts and coconut and the apple pie filling.

Roll the remaining half of dough to cover the top.

Cut slits to vent or put on a lattice top.

Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Reduce heat and bake an additional 20-30 minutes or until crust is brown and filling is bubbly.

Use left over crust to decorate top of pie, if desired.

CLASSIC APPLE PIE
Second Place

Pie filling:
- 6 cups pared and thinly-sliced tart, firm apples
- Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Mix together:
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup light brown sugar
- ¼ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- Dash salt
- 3 tablespoons butter

Mix the dry ingredients, blend in butter. Toss over apples while preparing the crust.

Pie crust for two-crust 10-inch pie:
- 2 cups unbleached flour
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅔ cup plus 2 tablespoons vegetable shortening
- ¼ cup cold water

Blend dry ingredients and shortening. Slowly add only enough water to mix in dry ingredients for easy handling. Divide dough in half and roll out bottom crust. Add the apple filling. Roll out the second half of dough and place on top. Crimp and seal. Brush lightly with evaporated milk and bake at 425 degrees in preheated oven for 50-60 minutes. Protect edges of crust with foil during the first 30 minutes of baking.

CARAMEL APPLE PIE
Third Place

Pie Crust:
- 3 cups all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons shortening
- 8-10 tablespoons water

With pastry blender, mix flour, salt, and shortening into pea-size crumbs. Add 1 tablespoon of water at a time until dough is moist and forms a ball. Roll out on a floured surface to desired thickness. Makes 3 pie crusts.

Apple pie:
- 6 apples, peeled and thinly sliced
- ¼ cup granulated sugar
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- ¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon

Mix dry ingredients and add to peeled apples. Place in unbaked pie shell.

Crumbs:
- ¾ cup flour
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ¼ cup brown sugar
- 6 tablespoons butter

Mix together flour and sugars. Add butter and blend until crumbs form. Place on top of apples in pie shell. Cut out apple stencils and place around the edge of pie.

Bake at 425 degrees for 10 minutes; reduce temperature to 350 degrees for 50 minutes.

Caramel topping:
- 10 caramels
- 1 tablespoon cream

Melt caramels in microwave. Streusel on top of baked apple pie.

Duroc Rises To Swine Forefront At Farm Show Gilt Contest

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) -- Only the following adjectives need apply:

"Muscle dimension." "Complete." "Aggressive."

Those are the words that defined a champion Friday afternoon last week when swine judge Kim Brock, Stillwater, selected the champion of the Duroc class at the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show Bred Gilt Show.

On Saturday morning last week, Brock, swine herdsman at Oklahoma State University, selected the same Duroc February gilt shown by Ken, Jamie, and Dan Wetzel, Rossiter, as supreme overall champion.

Reserve Berkshire at Farm Show went to Arlie Cornbower.

After the selection, the annual gilt sale was held at the Farm Show Complex.

During opening of Farm Show festivities Saturday, the judge selected the grand champion from the previous day's show.

Following is a description of Brock's selections in each of the individual breeds exhibited at the show.

Berkshires

A March gilt shown by Todd and Cheryl Bennecoff, Kutztown, captured the attention of Brock. The gilt exhibited "more total muscle dimension and openness of rib" compared to its competition, Brock noted, a February gilt.

The March gilt, TLB8 Miss Extender, was "a little more maternal in appearance and a little more fuller today" than the February gilt for champion.

The reserve champion was a February gilt, RUS8 Eastern Belle, shown by Arlie Cornbower, New Freedom.

Chester Whites

Brock appreciated the February gilt shown by Ken Wetzel and family, Rossiter, and selected her champion. He said while the January and March gilts were big in terms of length of body and full framed, the February gilt "is maybe the most complete," he said. "With its thickness, it's really complete."

The February gilt champion shown by the Wetzels was KWF 18 ATP 16-8 (S: 39-2 SC7 Austin '97, D: 75-6 P&R6 ATP).

Brock said the champion is "most exciting in breed progress and overall completeness."

Reserve champion went to the "really sound, functional, broody appearing" January gilt shown by the Ken Wetzel Family, according to Brock. "How big and sound and good she is." The Wetzels showed KWF 18 ATP 9-9 (S: WTX7 Texas Ranger, D: P&R6 ATP) to reserve.

Duroc

Before announcing the winners of the Duroc class, Brock spoke to the exhibitors about looking in new directions for their genetic stock.

"Despite the hog prices where they are, now may be the time to invest in new genetics and take on new opportunities," he said.

A February gilt shown by Ken, Jamie, and Dan Wetzel, Rossiter, showed Brock a lot of dimension and ruggedness, he said. "The February gilt is tall, full-fronted

The Wetzels showed WETZ HP Red Ace (S: NIC17 HP Red Ace, D: WETZ7 Ms Tool Box) to champion of the Duroc class.

Reserve went to a nice-bred gilt with "a lot to offer," said Brock.

That gilt was also shown by the Wetzels, WETZ8 MS ULTRA 8-10 (S: NICJ7 HP Red Ace, D: HP7 Ms Ultra).

Hampshire

Brock was intrigued the the February gilt, what he considered the "most correct one" of three classes in this division.

Though a close call, the February Hampshire gilt shown by the Ken Winebark family of Winebark's Hampshires, Myerstown, was "more correct everywhere in terms of soundness of underline and muscle." The Winebarks showed KLW8 Ritzy Supreme 1-12 (S: LMM6 The Ritz 26-6, D: KLW4 Supreme Miss 1-3) to champion.

Brock picked the January first place gilt as reserve. Brock said the gilt was a "very feminine gilt that has (good) frame size." The gilt, CWM8 Hi-Sharon 1-3 (S: LD6 Mantis 15-11, D: CWM5 Hi-Sharon 2-3), was shown by Clyde McConaughey Jr. of Mahoning Creek Farms, Smicksburg.

Landrace

The March gilt exhibited by Grant A. Lazarus III, Germansville, had a combination of traits that Brock liked the best. The gilt's tall front and good hip and muscle volume worked to make her champion.

Grant Lazarus showed LAG8 Data Aris 15-2 (S: LAG7 Data Aris 10-5, D: LAG7 Ms. Omar 3-6) to champion.

Reserve champion also went to Lazarus for a January gilt that exhibited "heavy structure, was wide-ribbed, durable, and sound," said Brock. That gilt was LAG8 Data Omar 3-3 (S: LAG7 Data Aris 10-8, D: LAG4 Ms Omar Dunn 6-3).

Poland China

A gilt that impressed Brock with its good underline was champion in this division by Cheryl Bennecoff, Kutztown. The January gilt was CAB8 Awesome Win 3-8 (S: DDP6 Awesome 23-5, D: CAB6 Ms Whinney 5-6).

Brock noted the March gilt, also shown by Bennecoff, "most closely follows the champion," he said, "is leanest and most correct in terms of its underline." The reserve went to CAB8 Awesome 7-8 (S: DDP6 Awesome 23-5, D: CAB7 Gold Rush 6-10).

Spotted

When it came to making a difficult decision, Brock noted the difference he found in this division was a gilt that was "a little longer-bodied, with a cleaner underline, and leaner." The January gilt shown by Lazarus Brothers, Germansville, exhibited a "broodiness of length and underline."

The gilt was LLB8 President's Chad 2-1 (S: REW6 President 67-2, D: LLB5 Standards Chad 32-5).

The reserve champion was the second place January gilt, LLB8 President's Chad 2-3 (S: REW6 President 67-2, D: LLB5 Standards Chad 32-5), also shown by Lazarus Brothers.

3rd Progeny Test Again Points To Genetics

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Where to place the blame for success?

Jim Parlett says "genetics."

A Yorkshire purebred gilt captured champion of the third annual Swine Progeny Test on-foot contest at this year's Farm Show, owned by Jim Parlett of Parlett's Durocs, Yorks, and Club Pigs of Airville.

Last year, Parlett won reserve champion of the on-foot evaluation segment of the show.

Parlett said the July gilt champion this year had an average gain per day of 2.4 pounds and an excellent rate of gain.

Again, a combination of genetics, said Parlett, and feed also worked to garner a championship.

"It's the same feed, the same facilities, the same everything," he said, that went into the contest.

The sire of the hog is co-owned by Parlett and Henry Holloway, from SGI. The dam was out of the champion boar from the National Barrow Show from September 1996 in Austin, Minn.

Penn State's Meat Evaluation Center in State College takes the hogs at 60 pounds and places them on test. They are fed out and weighed every two weeks. The hogs are checked for rate of gain, feed efficiency, and other factors.

Parlett said he uses the information on the champion in marketing his hogs.

The progeny test included four pigs per pen (20 pens total, barrows or gilts) beginning on Oct. 8, 1998. The test was concluded on Dec. 31, 1998 after which at least two of the pigs (of the producer's choosing) competed in an on-foot show (judged by Henry Halloway, Darlington, Md.) at the Pennsylvania Farm Show on Jan. 7. The pigs were then slaughtered at Hatfield Quality Meats and carcass data were collected.

Producers were eligible for premiums based on live and carcass placing.

Parlett's on-foot champion exhibited a loin eye area of 7.6 with a .9 at 10th fat (fat depth measured between the 10th and 11th ribs), and 52 percent lean. Lean gain per day was 1.030 pounds.

Arlie Cornbower, New Freedom, showed the on-foot reserve champion. The hog had a loin eye area of 6.4, 1.5 at 10th Fat, and was 44.70 percent lean. Lean gain per day was .884 pounds.

Overall champion after evaluation was Brian Lake, with a loin eye area of 8.6, .7 at 10th fat, 55.44 pecent lean, and a 1.059 lean gain per day. Overall reserve went to Parlett with the on-foot champion.

Test station manager Glenn Eberly and his staff collected the growth and feed data. Penn State Instructor Keith Bryan provided computer expertise for the feedlot portion of the test. Penn State Swine Extension Specialist Ken Kephart supervised the live show. Senior Extension Association Bob Mikesell collected the carcass data with assistance from Fayette County 4-H Leader Gary Poole and Berks County Agent Clyde Myers.

Yorkshire

Again, Brock reminded those at the show that it may be time to "take advantage of investments and add to your genetics."

Champion of the Yorkshire division went to what Brock considered "really an enormous female — really powerful out here," he said. "Its volume and soundness and total package makes it quite outstanding."

The champion was shown by Rattlesnake Mountain Farms, Charles and Mark Hall, Julian, a February gilt, CBH8 Tillie 10-6 (S: HOE6 Irish 25-1, D: CBH6 Tillie 14-5).

Reserve went to the second place February gilt, CBH8 Sue 20-7 (S: HOE6 Irish 25-1, D: CBH6 Sue 14-3), also exhibited by Rattlesnake Mountain Farms. Brock selected the hog because of her "length, soundness, durability, and muscularity."

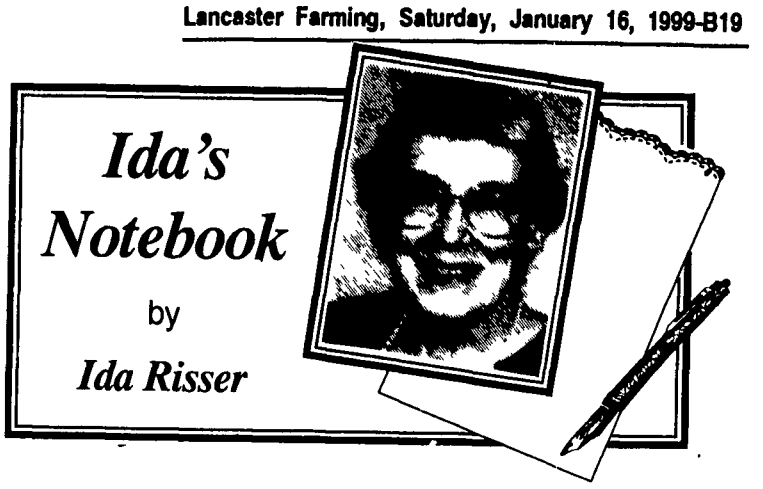
Promoting the Eastern Bison Association are, from left, Stuart, Kaitlyn, and Debbie Cutler from N.Y. and Joanne Forbes with grandchildren Ryan, Tyler, and Kyle from Newcastle.

Enjoying Farm Show food are Tracy Colbin, Erie County; Pat McGuire, Waterford; Riley Colbin, Kristine and Suzanne McGuire.



The Christmas tree has been moved to the backyard for the birds. It is such a thick tree and should give them some shelter.

There were many gifts under the tree and we had to find a place for all of them. Some were small and some were large. Our son, Kenneth, gave us a case and a half of organic eggs, which we shared with relatives. There is a bread maker on my counter top and I shall have to experiment with recipes. An air filter sits on the floor and is the size of a humidifier.

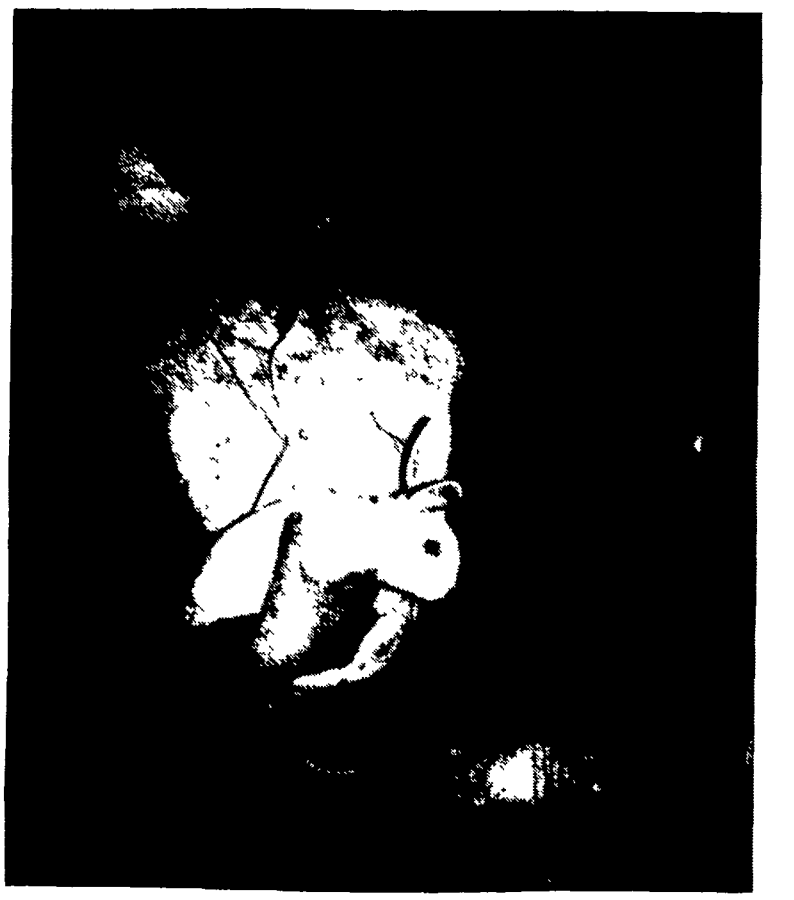
Some gifts are edible and won't last very long. There is a small cloth sack of buckwheat flour, a big box containing a variety of coffees and lots of candy. Ornaments for the tree and family photos will last a long time.

One of my sisters gave a birdhouse that she made and decorated. Another sister gave a silver spoon pin, while still another gave me a photo album which I really needed. Allen got a clock-radio, tapes, and a folding basket made of wood.

The three-D dimensional puzzle that we got was very difficult to assemble. That is it was until the grandchildren came to visit. First two boys put it together and then their 8- and 10-year-old cousins did the same thing. They are smarter than I give them credit for being.

Somehow, I managed to get a bad cold after Christmas and then shared it with others. This made me feel very bad as some youngsters got sick. But, we all kept going and enjoyed several meals together. One day 17 of us ate at two different tables. My girls did a lot of the cooking and I did the cleaning up afterward.

It was a very busy but pleasant time as we also visited some tourist spots.



With his New Zealand whites, Dennis Dunmire, 15, of Monogahela, took first place in the youth meat division.

Birds Return To Farm Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The birds returned to the 83rd Pennsylvania Farm Show!

Last November, Agriculture Secretary Samuel E. Hayes Jr. announced that poultry exhibits were eligible to compete at this year's Pennsylvania Farm Show and about 1,100 entries were exhibited. An outbreak of avian influenza caused the poultry show to be cancelled at the 1998 show.

Among the 1,081 birds exhibited this year were 79 geese entries; 235 duck entries; 420 bantam or small chicken entries; and 347 large fowl entries.

The grand champion bantam honor went to Dick Horstman of Burgettstown, Washington County. He also exhibited the grand champion large fowl.

Donald Krahe from Erie, was the poultry judge for this year's show. The job requires a great deal of experience in the poultry industry. Judges look for an appearance of the ideal bird of each species and compare each to the standard to determine champion poultry entries.

You ask You answer

This column is for readers who have questions but don't know who to ask for answers.

"You Ask—You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and Answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask—You Answer, Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. Attention: Lou Ann Good.

Do not send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for a reply. If we receive the answer, we will publish it as soon as possible. Please include your phone number because we sometimes need to contact the person to clarify details. We will not publish your phone number unless you request it.

QUESTION — Anna Mary Lehman, Manheim, would like to know where to purchase buckwheat hulls.

QUESTION — Mabel Zimmerman has a problem that she hopes will be read by the couple she needs to contact. She needs the couple who wanted the Boyer farm painted on a milk can and saw to contact her at (717) 354-8536, as she doesn't know how to contact them.

QUESTION — Samuel Blank, Narvon, has an old tin truck that he used to play with as a child. He would like to see his children play with it but the wheels are broken. Does anyone know where he can buy 2½ -inch rubber or plastic wheels to fix the truck?

QUESTION — Marie Martin, Lititz, wants information on the Daniel Kreider family buried at Risser's Mennonite Church Cemetary, near Elizabethtown. The death date of Daniel, his wife, three daughters, and one son is the same—July 7, 1893. Marie would like to know if this was the entire family? What happened? She was told there is a song or poem connected to the event. She would like the words and any information possible.

QUESTION — Roger G. Young, Westover, is searching for a short dialogue, "The Tax Collector." His wife used this for a short skit about 50 years ago at a Grange visitation meeting. The Youngs have tried to relocate the script to no avail.

QUESTION — Bill Russell, Carlisle, would like to buy old books "Motorcycle Chums," "The Big Five Motorcycle Boys" and "Tom Swift and His Motorcycle," which were published about 1913-1920. There are several in each series. Write to him at 3305 Enola Rd., Carlisle, PA 17013.

QUESTION — Susan McKinsey, Windsor, would like to know where to purchase cards, note pads, note cards, and stationery with Holstein cows on them.

QUESTION — B. Light, Lebanon, wants to know where to obtain dolls and colored milk filter pads to dress dolls with them. Lee Wards no longer sells them.

QUESTION — Henry Swareys, Mifflintown, has an old game called Wildlife, made by E.S. Lowe Co. The game has play money and animal cards, but the rules are missing. Does anyone have a copy to send to the Swareys at R.2, Box 522, Mifflintown, PA 17059-9649. They have no phone.

QUESTION — Rose Diehl, Bloomsburg, wants to know how to clean cast iron butchering kettles.

QUESTION — Lucinda Martin asked why all their spring frogs disappeared from their pond about three years ago. She misses their croaking and wonders how to get them back.

QUESTION — A Shippensburg reader would like help with her Majesty potted palm. The leaves are turning yellow and brown and drying up. She keeps it out of direct sunlight and gives it plenty of water and fertilizes it once a month. She transplanted it into a larger pot, but it hasn't helped.

QUESTION — Mike from Pottsville would like information on Black Welsh Mountain sheep and where they can be purchased.

QUESTION — Annie Stoltzfus, Quarryville, would like to purchase a wooden butter churn or know of someone who could make a paddle for a churn. State condition and price when writing to her at 793 Robert Fulton Hwy., Quarryville, PA 17566.

QUESTION — Edward Banning, Bridgeville, DE, needs help in tracing his great-great grandfather and grandmother. Their names were Isaac and Mary Lehman, who moved from Chester Co., Pa. to Federalsburg, Caroline County, Md., where they purchased a track of farm land in 1867. Isaac was born June 9, 1824 and his wife was born July 29, 1832. Banning wants to know how to go about tracing the ancestry and any other helpful information.

QUESTION — Joseph Rosin, Middletown, would like to know where he could purchase cheese curds. He lives in Frederick County, Md., and would like the source to be relatively nearby. Call him at (301) 371-4537.

QUESTION — Kathleen Reiff, Stevens, would like a source to purchase Broad and Narrow Way posters, which were printed in Germany but is now said to be out of print. She is also looking for copies of "Favorite Hymns of Praise" published by Tabernacle Publishing Co., Wheaton, IL.

QUESTION — Lamar Reiff, Stevens, needs a radiator cap for his Farmall B Tractor. He also wanted to know how barley straw is used to control pond algae. According to a recent article in this column, a bale is dropped into the pond in early spring before the algae begins to form.

QUESTION — Eleanor Stewart, 360 Summit Rd., Bellefonte, PA 16823, would like to find a green book with the name Stuart on the front. The book is about the Stuart descendents of the Canesteo Valley about 1850-1900.

QUESTION — Rachel Rudolph, New Oxford, wants to know where she could buy a new or used 18-quart Farberware kettle.

QUESTION — Mrs. R. Strauss, Ephrata, wants to know who repairs Monarch Coal Kitchen Ranges. Hers has some rust damage on the back part of the stove.

QUESTION — Evan Weidman, Newville, would like to know where to get a boor or whatever its called to shell dried beans.

QUESTION — M.W. Hamilton, Thornton, is looking for a source to purchase full-size models of plastic swans.

QUESTION — A reader from Leola area would like to know where to get flails for an Agri-Tech model #GS20120 finish mower, new or used.

QUESTION — Mike from Pottsville wants the name of a company that sells egg cartons and will print the farm logo on the cartons.

QUESTION — Susan Forry, 25 Woodward Court, Annapolis, MD 21403, is searching for information on how old a two-story house located on Burma Road in Columbia (West Hempfield Township is. A barn and tobacco shed once stood on the 80-acre property that is approximately 3/10 mile off the road.

Prior to its present owner (Daniel Forry) it was owned by the following people: Robert Garber, Elmer Garber, Paris H. Garber, Aaron Herr, Rudolph Herr. It was possibly owned by Henry S. Eshleman (1851), Henry Neff (1853) Henry Hogendobber (1856), Abraham Metzyer, Andrew Bowers (both 1856), Jacob Reitzell (1823), and or John Reitzell.

QUESTION — A New Tripoli reader would like to purchase barley straw to control algae in the pond. She wants to purchase the straw in the New Tripoli area.

QUESTION — Shirley Runk, Mount Union, would like to know where to purchase plastic lids with a spout that are used on one-gallon Sun-tea jars.

QUESTION — Leon Stoltzfus, Leola, would like to know where to purchase the round juicing disk for an Atlas Juicer made by Juice Master Mfg., Co., Model 36. No. D12041.

QUESTION — A reader recently purchased a small farm in Lancaster County with a 4,000 square foot tobacco barn on it. The barn is in excellent condition. Can anyone suggest an appropriate charge to rent out the tobacco barn?

QUESTION — Amos Stoltzfus, Blain, is interested in languages and recently acquired what appears to be a school reader in the Polish language. It is copyrighted 1853. He'd like to know if there is a Polish-American who would translate a poem or two for him. If so, write to Amos at R.1, Box 106 SR 17, Blain, PA 17006-9714.

QUESTION — Kenneth Hixon, Warfordsburg, would like the address for "Progressive Farmer."

QUESTION — Doris Hellerick, Dublin, is interested in purchasing a life-sized plywood black and white cow for lawn display.

ANSWER — In answer to ridding ponds of algae, Sara Piko, East Berlin, recommends using Blue Stone, available at Agway and other farm supply stores. It is a powder to scatter across the pond and is more effective if used before rainfall. She found the answer of using barley straw preposterous, but according to several readers and an extension agent's scientific explanation, barley straw is really an effective treatment to eliminate pond algae.

ANSWER — Durwood Tuttle, Knoxville, writes that several of his questions were answered by people who contacted him personally after his questions were printed. He is grateful for the answers and we are glad he left us know. Several readers write to tell to remove their questions after they receive personal replies. Whenever possible, we like the answers to be included in this column, but realize sometimes this is impossible. If your question is answered, please let us know so that we can remove your question from this column.

ANSWER — Pam Eyer, Carlisle, wanted a source to buy stationery items such as notecards, mailing address labels, and Christmas cards with pictures of Jack Russell Terriers on them. Thanks to Doris Egner, Quakertown, for sending the following information: Jack Russell note cards and Christmas cards are available from The Jack Russell Store, 2510 Bounty Court, Bel Air, MD 21015 or phone (410) 734-7875 for a catalog. Jack Russell mailing address labels are available from Colorful Images, 2910 Colorful Ave., Longmont, CO 80504. Phone for a catalog is 1-800-458-7999.

MAKE A SICK HOUSE WELL with the LIVING AIR XL-15

According to the EPA, indoor air pollution is our nation's biggest pollution problem. Modern homes and buildings are so energy efficient they block out nature's air cleaning agents and trap pollution inside–inside where you probably spend 90% of your time. What can you do? Ventilation systems can be expensive, and filters provide only a partial remedy. Why not look at nature? Living Air looked to nature before designing the revolutionary XL-15, an electronic thunderstorm in a box. A thunderstorm is nature's most powerful air cleaning activity. Why not take the test? Ask for a free, no obligation demonstration of the powerful Living Air Xl-15.

CORN TALK

PENNSYLVANIA MASTER CORN GROWERS ASSOC., INC.

Corn Talk, Lancaster Farming, Saturday, October 10, 1998

PMCGA's First President A 'Student of Corn'

RANDY WELLS
Indiana Co. Correspondent

DAYTON (Armstrong Co.) — Despite the relatively dry weather this summer in Armstrong County, George Rumbaugh was able to walk into one of his corn fields near here on the first day of September and gaze up at the green stalks stretching well above his head. The ears had filled out nicely, too, he noted, and he predicted his crop would probably yield 80 or more bushels per acre.

Rumbaugh probably knows as much about growing corn as any farmer in his county and perhaps the state. He had not only been growing corn but studying it for years when he was asked in the early 1970s to serve as the first president of the newly-formed Pennsylvania Master Corn Growers Association (PMCGA).

"George was a student of corn. He not only grew it, but he watched it to see how it reacted to weather and soil conditions," said Bill King, a retired Armstrong Penn State Extension Service agent.

Rumbaugh lives on the Wayne Township, Armstrong County farm his great-grandfather bought in 1857, and he lives in a 131-year-old brick farm house along with a two-lane blacktop that winds through the rolling farmland.

Eventually the farm was divided between his grandfather and his great-uncles — "In those days you could raise a family on 50 acres," Rumbaugh said — and today at age 76 Rumbaugh operates part of the original farm with his son David. Their 360-acre spread has about 260 acres of tillable land.

Lush, alternating contour strips of corn and hay swirl across much of the 360-acre Rumbaugh farm in eastern Armstrong County.

Rumbaugh was taking a critical look at his corn crops even before PMCGA was started. Rumbaugh, along with extension agent King and Willard Kimmel, another Armstrong County farmer, conducted some of the first interval corn planting tests in the state.

Despite the conventional wisdom of that time that corn should not be planted before mid-May, the three men started planting corn as early as mid-April — six rows each of the same seed variety in the same field — and continued the weekly plantings through May. The results

30,000 Could Be Corn's Optimum Population Rate

ANDY ANDREWS

PEACH BOTTOM (Lancaster Co.) — Producers often seek that "optimum population rate." That rate is the amount of corn seeds to put down per acre

(Turn to Page 9)

In several planting demonstrations involving grain and silage corn, the optimum population rate could be 30,000 seeds per acre. The best stands were planted this year at that rate, according to Ed Herrmann, adviser to the Solanco Young Farmer Association.

President's Message

Chris Krimmel
President, PMCGA

Another growing season is coming to an end — and it's been a very active spring and summer for the PMCGA and the NCGA.

The ethanol battle was won once again. Special thanks to all of you who took time to send a seed corn tag, with your "Save Ethanol" message to your congressional leaders.

Because of our combined efforts, ethanol production will use more than 600 million bushels of corn each year, adding 43 cents per bushel or given Mueller's ... it comes to dairy production, our custom... demand quality in their cooling and storage vessels. They know Mueller has always been the company to set this standard worldwide.

WE'VE ALWAYS BEEN GOOD.

NOW WE'RE EVEN BETTER.

REALLY GO...

Dependable and durable, our milk coolers will provide you with years of trouble-free performance as well as low operating cost, precise temperature control and a wide range of standard features.

"BETTER", to the employees and engineers at Mueller, means constantly improving our already great products. We have added convenience to our tank washer system by attaching the motor to the side of each milk cooler smaller than 3,000 gallons. At the same time, we have added quality by installing the most effective interior washing device in the industry. Mueller's tank washing spray dish is an innovative, one-of-a-kind design which more evenly distributes the cleaning solution throughout the tank's interior. It prevents clogging and offers maintenance-free cleaning. This high-performance process will give you extra clean tanks.

For the BEST products with the best performance, you can always count on Mueller. For more information see your nearest dealer or call 1-800-MUELLER.

Pond Management Seminar

GREENSBURG (Westmoreland Co.) – Do you have a pond on your property or have you always wanted to build one? You may have the pond for practical purposes such as a water source for fire protection or irrigation water. Or maybe you just want to enjoy it for fishing, swimming, or as a wildlife habitat.

Regardless of the may reasons for owning a pond, there are many important details you need to know about construction and maintenance of the pond

That is why you won't want to miss the Pond Management Seminar at the Greensburg Garden and Civic Center on Thursday, Feb. 4, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. This seminar will cover everything you need to know about planning, building, and maintaining a pond

Expert speakers on a variety of pond management topics come from the Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, and the Westmoreland County Conservation District.

The morning begins with a discussion of permits required before building a pond with Jim Pillsbury, engineer, Westmoreland County Conservation District. Then Wes Gordon of the Natural Resources Conservation Service will explain site selection and pond construction.

Now that you have a pond built, Wayne Bogovich, area engineer with NRCS, will tell you everything you need to know about operation and maintenance for maximum enjoyment. The morning concludes with Rick Lorson of the Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission, Somerset Office, explaining the intricacies of fish population management in pond. A catered lunch will be served and is included in the registration fee.

Without careful management, ponds can become clogged with weeds, so the afternoon program features Mark Hartle of the Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission explaining how to control aquatic vegetation.

Wrapping up the day will be Tony Quadro, forester with the Westmoreland County Conservation District. Most pond owners appreciate the wildlife value afforded by pond, so Tony will discuss plantings you can make around the pond to provide wildlife food and cover.

Cost is $15 if preregistered by Jan. 27 or $20 at the door. Contact Penn State Cooperative Extension (724) 837-1402, RR 12, Box 202E, Greensburg, PA 15601, for registration forms and information. This seminar is cosponsored by the Westmoreland County Conservation District, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, and Penn State Cooperative Extension. There will be three category 09 (aquatic vegetation) credits awarded for commercial pesticide applicator license updates.

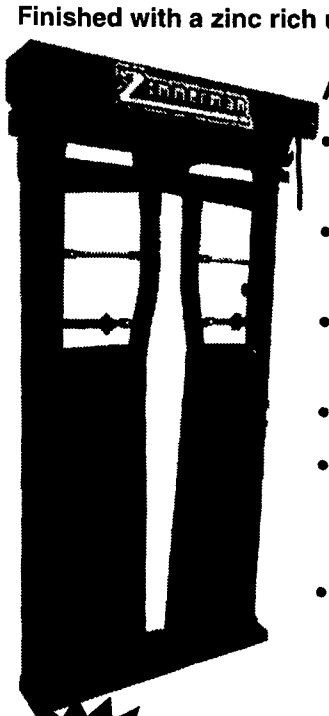
Automatic Headgate

Finished with a zinc rich undercoat & TGIC polyester topcoat



Advantages:

- Durable 2 coat finish that stands up to daily use.
- Full roof cover for outdoor protection.
- Heavy duty latch for positive locking.
- Double linkage for extra stability.
- Fast, easy adjustments to match animal size & neck size from 5" to 7"
- Handle for manual operation for slow or horned cattle.

Two Coat Process!

Added Value With Our 2 Coat Process!

1. Five step metal preparation, including iron phosphate conversion coating, to enhance adhesion & prevent undercoat corrosion
2. Zinc rich epoxy powder undercoat
3. TGIC polyester powder top coat, baked at 400° to fuse coats, forming a cross link molecular bond

Leister Wins Potato Grading Contest

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — George Leister, from Adams County, took high honors in the individual 4-H Potato Grading and Identification competition at this week's 83rd PA Farm Show. In addition to his individual efforts, he and his team members pulled together to claim the top high team A honors. The fellow team members were Jason Kraft, Bradley Orndorf, and Brian Baldwin.

The York County team A was awarded second place and was followed by the Lehigh County team A in third place.

Following George Leister in the high individuals was Lucas Kraft of York County in second place; Jason Keler of Adams County in third place; Katie Harwick of Lehigh County in fourth place; and Shelly Vandine of Lycoming County in fifth place.

In the team B competition, Lehigh County was in first place, Indiana County claimed second place, and Adams County was third place.

The Adams County team has prepared for the contest every week since the beginning of November. The coaches of the Adams County teams were Lela Reichart and Jerry Tyson.

Forty-three contestants entered the competition on Tuesday, January 12. In the competition, the contestants had to participate in three parts. The first part required them to identify defects. Such defects could be with the skin, diseases, insects, or shape. Each of these factors affects the grading of potatoes. In the next phase, participants must grade 100 potatoes within 3 minutes. Finally in the last phase, four plates of potatoes must be ranked in a first to fourth placing.

At the conclusion of the awards presentation Donald Wellbraock, the Department of Agiculture Fruit and Vegetable supervisor, talked with the youth about opportunities in the potato industry.

Placings are as follows:

Raising Early Sweet Corn Could Give Marketing Edge

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Plastic mulch could help sweet corn growers in Ohio and surrounding states get a jump on the market, said Ohio State University horticulturist Mark Bennett.

The mulch – basically sheets of plastic – traps heat from the sun and warms the soil underneath faster than normal to the 55 degrees Fahrenheit required for sweet corn seed germination. Soil under the plastic mulch is 2 to 5 degrees above normal in the mornings and 5 to 12 degrees warmer by mid-afternoon, Bennett said. Under normal weather conditions, this allows growers to harvest sweet corn 10 to 12 days earlier from plantings made in late March in southern Ohio and into April in the north.

Bennett will discuss methods and advantages of raising early sweet corn at the 1999 Fruit and Vegetable Growers Congress in Toledo at 9:45 a.m. on Feb. 5. The congress runs from Wednesday, Feb. 3 through Friday, Feb. 5.

Having sweet corn ready early allows growers to hit a profitable window before the market in flooded with corn from other nearby growers or shipped in from other parts of the country, Bennett said. Growers can usually sell the early corn for a little more than usual by beating the supply glut.

It's costs about $240 per acre for material and labor to apply plastic mulch," he said. "At that price, a grower needs to pick up about 80 dozen ears of sweet corn more than normal to break even."

Buyers who come for early corn also may come back for more corn or other products later in the summer. So it's a good way to draw in customers, Bennett said. And, sweet corn planted under plastic mulch usually produces about 10 to 15 percent more corn because of improved seedling establishment.

But like most aspects of farming, there are gambles involved. If there is a warm spring, soil temperatures may heat early naturally, and the money spent on plastic mulch could be wasted, he said. In fact, if it gets too warm, the increased heat under the plastic could even damage the corn if the plastic is not cut.

For this reason, Bennett suggets sweet corn growers use plastic mulch on only about 10 percent of their acreage – just enough to supply people who will want to buy corn early. The rest of their acreage can be planted at normal dates to supply corn for the rest of the summer.

"Plastic mulch is used widely, especially in Canada, but there are a lot of little tricks and you have to consider the whole system," he said. "Results will vary year to year based on temperatures and how close they are to normal."

The 1999 Fruit and Vegetable Growers Congress is scheduled at the Toledo SeaGate Centre in conjunction with the Roadside Marketing Conference and at the Ohio Grape-Wine Short Course. More than 1,600 growers and industry-affiliated personnel are expected to attend the joint conferences and trade show.

For more registration information on the Ohio Fruit Growers Society at (614) 249-2424. For information on the Ohio Grape-Wine Short Course, contact the Ohio Wine Producers Association at (800) 277-6972.

Sheep Sheering School

I just received notice of this year's Professional Sheep Shearing School. A two-day workshop has been scheduled for March 13 & 14 at the Cornell University T & R Center in Dryden, New York. Even though many of you would not be interested, you may know of somebody who is shearing sheep in your region and would be interested in improving upon their sheep shearing skills. These workshops are organized to allow all participates to receive basic hands-on instruction in the areas of proper animal restraint, shearing techniques, equipment maintenance, and wool preparation.

Mr. Doug Rathke, a professional shearer of Hutchinson, MN will be conducting the two-day workshop. The course will be limited to 16 shearers on a first-come basis. Deadline for registration is February 15, 1999.

To register send your name, mailing address, phone number and a check or money order made out to Doug Rathke and mail to Doug at 61231 MN Hwy 7, Hutchinson, MN 55350. Doug will send a confirmation of your registration and further details on the workshop upon receipt of your check.

You may contact Doug direct at (320) 587-6094 should you have any questions.

Jere High elected to NALMA Board

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) – Jere High, Lancaster DHIA Lab Manager, was recently elected to the 5 member board of the North American Lab Manager Association (NALMA) during their recent meeting in Minnesota. The NALMA Board is the advisory group to National DHIA for approximately 60 Labs with whom it is associated. NALMA's objective is to have quality Labs generating data for the farmers they serve. Jere was involved with the development and installation of the Lancaster DHIA Lab in 1994. The Lab has achieved 100% certification score since inception, with a growth from 48,000 samples per month to present level of 75,000 samples per month.

Ohio's Agricultural Future Could Depend On Livestock, Poultry

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Expanding livestock and poultry production is the most promising way for Ohio to reverse its declining share of U.S. agricultural output, said Ohio State University agricultural economist Luther Tweeten.

From 1950 to 1996, Ohio's share of the nation's gross and net farm income fell from 3.3 percent to 2.5 percent. A large reason for this was the decline of livestock's share of total farm receipts within the state from 69 percent to 37 percent.

Livestock products typically are of higher value than those produced from crops. Tweeten said. The added value of raising more livestock could return Ohio's share of U.S. agricultural output to its previous level.

"Farmers are always looking to add value to the products they produce, and livestock offers the best hope for producing value-added products," Tweeten said. "The difference in agricultural receipts and income between Ohio's grain producing counties and similar counties that produce livestock is huge."

For example, Van Wert and Mercer counties border each other in western Ohio. The agricultural land in the counties is similar in acreage and quality, and they have similar crop receipts. But Mercer County has livestock receipts of $147 million and agricultural receipts of $214 million, while Van Wert only has livestock receipts of $7 million and agricultural receipts of $70 million.

"The value-adding livestock industry in Mercer County not only added farm jobs, it also added jobs and income in service, financial, processing, retailing, and other sectors,"Tweeten said. "Farm receipts are three times greater in Mercer County than Van Wert County, and I suspect net income figures are even more than 3 to 1."

But the number of family farms producing significant quantities of livestock and livestock products in Ohio is falling rapidly. Since 1950, the percentage of Ohio farms raising cattle has dropped from 79 percent to 47 percent, hogs from 55 percent to 15 percent, dairy cattle from 72 percent to 10 percent, and egg-laying hens from 77 percent to 5 percent.

While the steadily increasing size of farms during this time period has helped offset the decline in the number of livestock farms, overall state production of these commodities has dropped, Tweeten said. Cattle farms have increased production from about 50 cattle and calves per farm in 1950 to more than 140 per farm, but total production and Ohio's share of U.S. cattle and calf production have fallen, especially in the 1990s. Since 1990, production has dropped from more than 700 million pounds per year to less than 500 million, and Ohio's share of national production went from about 2 percent to 1 percent.

Ohio hog farms have increased from 20 pigs per farm to nearly 140, but total production has fallen by almost 400 million pounds. The state's share of U.S. pork production has dropped from more than 5 percent to about 3 percent.

Dairy farm size has doubled from about 20 cows per farm to about 40, but milk production has gone down from more than 5.2 billion pounds to less than 4.4 billion. Ohio's share of U.S. milk production dropped from almost 5 percent in 1950 to less than 3 percent.

In contrast, Ohio's egg production has increased dramatically from about 3.5 billion eggs in 1950 to more than 6 billion and Ohio's share of U.S. egg production has risen from about 4 percent to more than 8 percent. The improvement is as result of average farms increasing from about 100 laying hens per farm to more than 5,000. But the improved poultry production has not been enough to offset the overall decline of livestock production within the state. Tweeten said.

"Ohio, the Corn Belt and the Northeast have lost livestock production shares to the Great Plains, Mountain states, and the South," he said. "Livestock producers are moving to these areas because they either have more open spaces where it's easier to deal with environmental issues or a cheaper labor supply."

Another key issue is that Ohio has an aversion toward industrial farming which has caused Ohio livestock farms to grow slower than may other states. Most all Ohio operations are smaller than the national average, except for poultry, Tweeten said.

"We're still small in many ways compared to what other states are doing," he said. "For example, Ohio beef cattle and calf herds average 43 per herd, while the U.S. average is 85 per herd. Given economies of size, that's a huge disadvantage.

There is good potential in Ohio to expand existing livestock farms or add more. Ohio is located in an area that produces a surplus of livestock feed, it's near major markets so Ohio products can reach 60 million people from Chicago to New York in a day, it has an excellent transportation system, major resources such as abundant water and less permeable soils that offer manure handling and disposal advantages, and the state has a tradition of raising livestock.

Increasing livestock production also would provide more jobs and income and offer opportunities to recycle nutrients in manure back to crops. Tweeten said.

"In today's market, the traditional family farms that raise relatively small numbers of several types of livestock do not do well," he said. "The choice may not be small farms versus large farms, but instead integrated operations and modern production methods or none at all. The traditional farmer using traditional methods cannot compete."

But it's important to point out that while they are larger, more productive and profitable, many of Ohio's farms that have already expanded are still very much family farms, Tweeten said. They are operated by a father, mother, children, and perhaps some hired labor.

To expand livestock production in Ohio, the state needs the proper regulatory environment. That means one that is stable, predictable and fair, but not lax on environmental standards, he said. Producers also need to "keep their house in order" because carelessness by a few operations can create a public relations backlash that could be harmful to all agricultural producers.

Expanded or new operations need to be located away from urban areas or heavily populated rural nonfarm areas, where people are unaccustomed to livestock. Potential areas include western Ohio from Greenville to Bryan where there is a lot of feed available; among the Amish were there is a tradition of livestock husbandry; or in southern Ohio, especially east of state highway 62 where there is a grain surplus and no major urban centers, he said.

Entrepreneurs who use modern methods and techniques need to know they are welcomed and appreciated as new sources of jobs and community income. "We need those types of people to step forward, and if we beat them down, they're going to step back," Tweeten said.

Continued scientific and technical research also are important to improve production and market efficiency, control disease, improve waste disposal, control odors and flies, and increase crop production that assures low cost feed.

"Livestock requires a lot of resources, but the net benefit is such that the rewards are substantial if we can properly deal with environmental, labor, and other issues." he said.

Berry Farmers Could Become 'Pharmers'

COLUMBUS, Ohio – Berry farmers could some day become "pharmers" by growing berries for medical uses, said Winston Bash, director of Ohio State University's Food Industries Center.

Ellagic acid, a substance found in high amounts in the seeds of raspberries, strawberries, and blackberries, is just one natural food source that scientists have proven to inhibit the development of cancer.

"It's great ellagic acid is found in the seeds because they are the one part of a berry that is usually discarded," Bash said. "If a product can be developed form ellagic acid that helps prevent cancer, then growers can sell the pulp and skin of their berries for juice or other traditional products and sell the seeds for ellagic acid use."

Growers would get a higher value out of their berries, he said.

Bash will discuss the status of ellagic acid research at Ohio State and the impact it could have on berry growers in the future at the 1999 Fruit and Vegetable Growers Congress in Toledo at 10:45 a.m. on Feb. 4. The congress runs from Wednesday, Feb. 3 through Friday, Feb. 5 at the Toledo SeaGate Centre.

Bash has been studying ellagic acid in berries for three years. He first determined what part of a berry produced ellagic acid and at what stage of growth. Now he is looking at which berries have the strongest ellagic acid content.

In addition, Bash and Ohio State University horticulturist Dick Funt are raising, harvesting, and processing berries for use in ongoing ellagic acid studies being conducted by Ohio State University cancer researcher Dr. Gary Stoner. The ellagic acid preparation involves removing berry seeds, then grinding and freeze-drying them into a form that is fed to laboratory rats.

Stoner began studying ellagic acid as possible cancer inhibitor in 1984 His need for product to study is what got Bash and Funt involved in growing and processing the various types of berries.

Stoner has found that ellagic acid prevent some forms of cancer in laboratory rats and is interested in developing pure compounds for use with people at high risk of getting cancer. High-risk individuals include people from families with a history of cancer, those with a high exposure to carcingoens such as smokes, people with precancerous lesions that could lead to cancer, and those previously treated for cancer.

"There are other substances within berries involved in the cancer prevention process in addition to ellagic acid, and we're tying to find out what they are and isolate them right now," Bash said. "If all goes well, we should have some pretty good information withing two years."

The 1999 Fruit and Vegetable Growers Congress is being held in conjunction with the Roadside Marketing Conference and the Ohio Grape-Wine Short Course. More than 1,600 growers and industry-affiliated personnel are expected to attend the join conferences and trade show.

For more registration on the Ohio Fruit and Vegetable Growers Congress and Roadside Marketing Conference, contact the Ohio Fruit Growers Society at (614) 249-2424. For information on the Ohio Grape-Wine Short Course, contact the Ohio Wine Producers Association at (800) 277-6972.

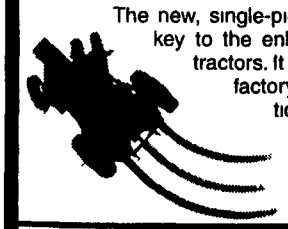
The Shortest Turning Large Tractor You Can Own Today! Simple, User-Friendly Operation.

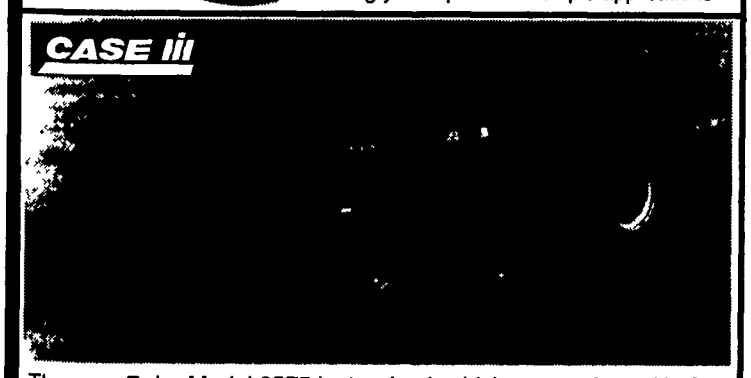
Industry Leading Turning Radius

The revolutionary chassis of the MX Series Magnum improves your overall performance and productivity. In fact, the innovative Surround frame allows for the tightest turning radius in the industry, even with front duals!

Thanks to axle improvements, engine placement and a sleek hood design, the MX Series Magnum can easily turn into 12 30-inch rows with all row crop tire configurations on true 60-inch tread settings



The new, single-piece, sculpted, cast iron Surround frame is the key to the enhanced capabilities and performance of these tractors. It enables the MX Series Magnum to offer the first factory front duals, dramatically improving both traction and flotation. By balancing the chassis, we've significantly reduced the amount of front ballast required. And the frame easily accomodates mounted chemical tanks or loaders, allowing you to perform multiple applications



This new Baler Model 8575 just arrived, which we purchased before the price increase and we will pass the savings on to you! 1000 lb. dry bale weight, capable for high moisture baling, 31.5"x34.4" chamber with adjustable bale length up to 98", automatic density control, center lube system, roller bale chute. Buy Quality - Buy Case IH! Reel Time Savings to Real Farmers

"We feed 100 milk cows and a total of 150 animals with four loads per day at three different locations. We save 1½ - 2 hours of feeding time every day with our Knight Reel Auggie tow"

Russ and Kris Schroeder
Agriprize Holsteins – Horicon, Wisconsin

"We feed a total of 140 head with 52 milking Before our Knight Reel Auggie, feeding a TMR took us 1½ hours twice a day Now each feeding takes approximately ½ hour"

John and Harry Nooyen
Brabantdale Farms – Narvan, Ontario, Canada

"We feed about 200 head per day with an average of 100 miling We owned a 4-auger midxer before Our Knight Reel Auggie has a shorter mixing time with a superior blended ration."

Wayne and Bradley Beidel
Beidel Brothers – Newbury, Pennsylvania

"We mix 5 loads per day to feed 650 head Our Knight Reel Auggie mixes faster and unloads faster than the auger mixers that we previously owned Drive through feeding with our tow model has cut our feeding time by two-thirds"

Warren and Dave Otto
Otto Farms – Valders, Wisconsin

The 3000 Series KNIGHT Reel Auggie® is available in tow, truck, and stationary models.

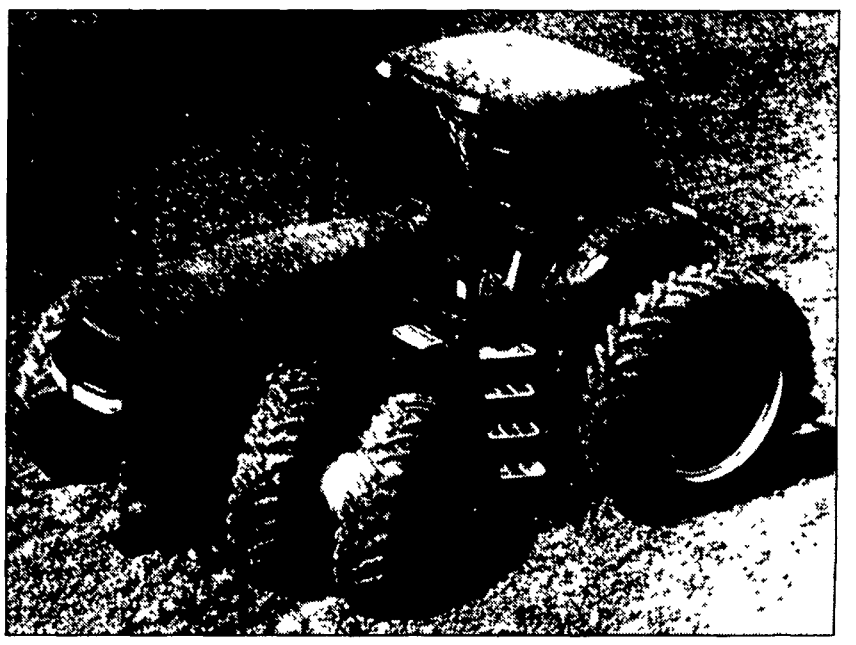
BETTER THAN NEW



All NEW CASE III Tractors Are Not Equal

When you buy a new Case IH tractor from Hoober, Inc., you get a tractor that's better than new. That's because at Hoober you get more than just a quality tractor.

Experienced Sales Staff

Hoober salesmen have the experience and knowledge to make sure you get the tractor that's right for your field and applications. Hoober salespeople know farming, they know tractors and they know which tractor will work best for you.

Hoober Modifications

Hoober will make sure to ballaste your new tractor properly. That means less wear on your tires and less wear on the tractor itself. And less wear means your tractor is delivering maximum productivity.

Service Support

Hoober has unmatched service support. Each of Hoober's three locations has tractor specialists on-site who work extensively on tractors. But that's not the end of the Hoober service story. Hoober tractor specialists are microspecialized. Some tractor specialists at Hoober work exclusively on four-wheel drives, still others work only on hydrostatic transmissions.

Inventory

Hoober, Inc. is the largest dealer of Case IH tractors east of the Mississippi. If you're in the market for a Case IH tractor, Hoober will be able to meet your need.

Trust

You know Hoober stands for quality before and after the sale. If you have any problems with your tractor, you can be confident that Hoober will provide the solution. With Hoober, you know you'll be treated right.

NOBODY DOES HAY BETTER

AJ01

Stronger than our equipment, more innovative than any technology, are the relationships we have with our customers. That's why we invite you to attend John Deere Day 1999. It's our best opportunity to show how much we appreciate you and your business. Plus, it's a chance for you to preview new equipment and see where our partnership will take us in the years ahead.

Please plan on joining us for John Deere Day 1999 to celebrate this long-lasting relationship.

Super Boom™ is best

When you're looking for a skid-steer, there's the challengers and then there's the champ. Well say hello to the undisputed champ in the all-new Model LX885 New Holland Super Boom™ skid-steer loader.

It has a 60-horsepower, turbocharged diesel engine for the ultimate in power. Its massive 2,200-lb. operating load picks up where all others leave off. Of course, it has the features you expect from New Holland, such as the best speed, stability, visibility, lift height and dump reach in the industry. Add that to the Pick Up 'n Go™ universal attachment system and there's nothing it can't handle.

Stop by today and see for yourself why no other skid-steer can compare.

Why choose a New Holland skid-steer loader?

- Superior visibility
- Unbeatable stability
- Faster speeds
- Superior dump height & reach
- Greater bucket & lift capacity
- The most attachments
- Unmated dependability

GET PRECISE APPLICATION CONTROL

New Holland side-delivery spreaders provide the most material control. Whether you're light top dressing, laying down a heavy layer, or anything in between, the Model 3110 puts the right amount of material right where you need it.

- Handles a wide variety of material – slurry, gutter material, cow manure, even poultry litter.
- V-tank design delivers material to the auger fast.
- Heavy-duty round-core auger produces less drag.
- Double-acting hydraulic cylinder moves auger up and down to keep material flowing.
- Hydraulic gate and specially designed expeller give precise application control.
- Backed by a 10-year warranty against tank rust-through.

See us for all your spreader needs.
New Holland Box Spreaders also in stock.

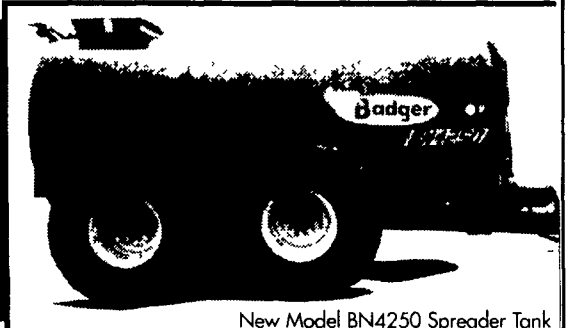
MANURE HAPPENS!

Badger

Badger's new liquid manure tanks handle it faster than ever before!

Badger tanks are built to load fast, spread fast - they'll cut your field and tractor time like never before.



New Model BN4250 Spreader Tank

From 4250 to 0 gallons in less than six minutes!

- Cor-Ten Steel Construction - makes tanks 20% stronger and 8 times more corrosion-resistant than tanks made of 1/4 in mild steel, yet it's lighter in weight for fuel savings
- Heavy-Duty Undercarriage and Drawbar are ruggedly designed to give you many years of trouble-free use High ground clearance makes it easier to haul over rough terrain
- High Flotation Tires - help reduce fuel consumption and ground compaction
- Heavy-Duty Impellor - features four cutting blades that chop up bedding, long straw and weeds to provide trouble free spreading
- Liquid Level indicator - shows manure level at all times
- Discharge Nozzle - provides wide angle, uniform 30-50 ft spread pattern, depending on liquid content and impellor operating speed
- Rear-Mounted Injectors - available as an option
- Best Warranty in the Industry: 10 year full price warranty on barrel

For complete information on Badger's full line of spreader and vacuum manure tanks, see your Badger Dealer today because manure happens!

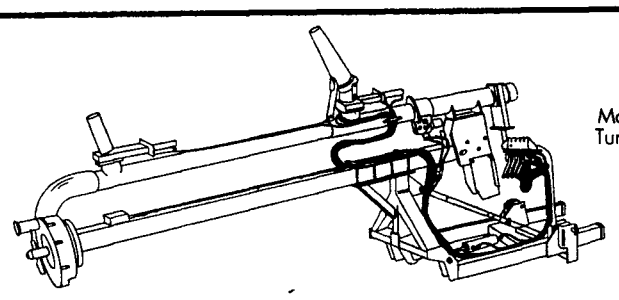
Badger

Badger's New Turbo Pit Pump is designed to handle it!



Model BN500 Turbo Pit Pump

NEW Model BN500 Turbo Pit Pump!
The pump designed for the big, tough jobs!

- Here it is! The pit pump with the agitation capacity of 4 - 5,000 GPM. Here's a pit pump that is built farm tough to last year after year
- The 6-blade impellor and a turbo flow pump inlet provides maximum cutting action and aggressive flow at maximum pressure.
- The lower bearing is designed with a 5-seal system and a totally enclosed oil-bath housing A conveniently located reservoir, grease lines and fittings make it easy to maintain
- The tapered upper nozzle is designed with a stainless steel ball pivot with a vertical range of 55 degrees to break up and blast through thick crust.
- The hydraulic control console features a 4-spool valve that controls all pump agitation requirements, putting all the major pump controls in the hands of the operator at one location

For complete information on the new Badger BN500 Turbo Pit Pump, see your Badger Dealer today because manure happens! Every day!

GEHL®

PROVEN PERFORMER

Scavenger® Spreader

Gehl's Scavenger® Spreader delivers the performance you need year after year, with increased durability and outstanding application control. All thanks to the following features.

- Heavy-duty round core auger with segmented paddles to blend manure. Powered both up and down to ram through heavy loads and break up bridging.
- Special "V" tank design to handle solid, heavy bedded, semi-solid, self-leveling and liquid manure.
- Adjustable auger and expeller speeds spread more types of manure.
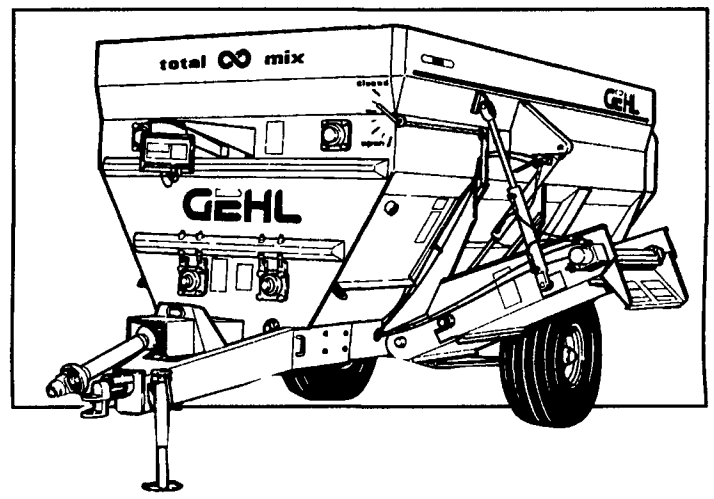
- Variflow™ discharge featuring square-tooth expeller paddles for smooth,e ven spreading at the rate you choose.
- Improved drive system with heavier final drive chains and enhanced idler system.

TMR "Total Mix" Mixer Feeders



"Total Mix" TMR mixer feeders let you mix more long-stemmed hay into your ration - up to 30% by weight depending on hay type and mositure content.

- "Hay - slicer auger" - Incorporates knife assemblies into the two bottom augers.
- Better mixing action - Four-auger design creates a double figure - 8 mixing pattern for fast and complete mixing of all feed ingredients.
- Five sizes - 150 to 455 cubic feet capcities.

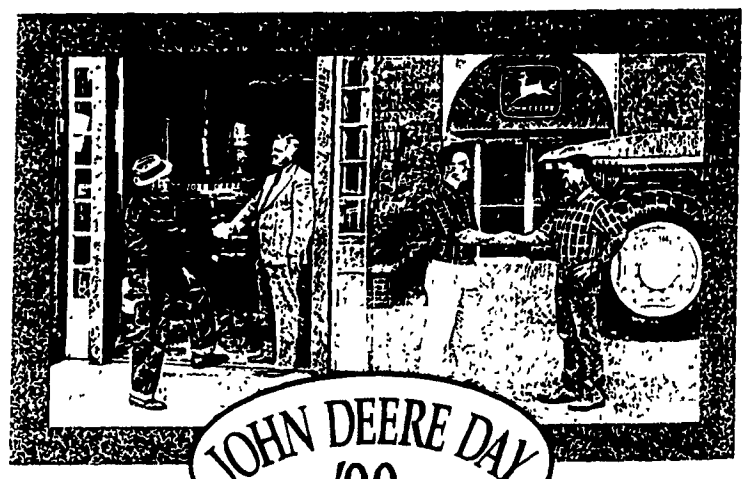
ONE OF OUR GREATEST INNOVATIONS HAS BEEN AROUND A LONG, LONG TIME



Stronger than our equipment, more innovative than any technology, are the relationships we have with our customers. That's why we invite you to attend John Deere Day 1999. It's our best opportunity to show how much we appreciate you and your business. Plus, it's a chance for you to preview new equipment and see where our partnership will take us in the years ahead.

Please plan on joining us for John Deere Day 1999 to celebrate this long-lasting relationship.

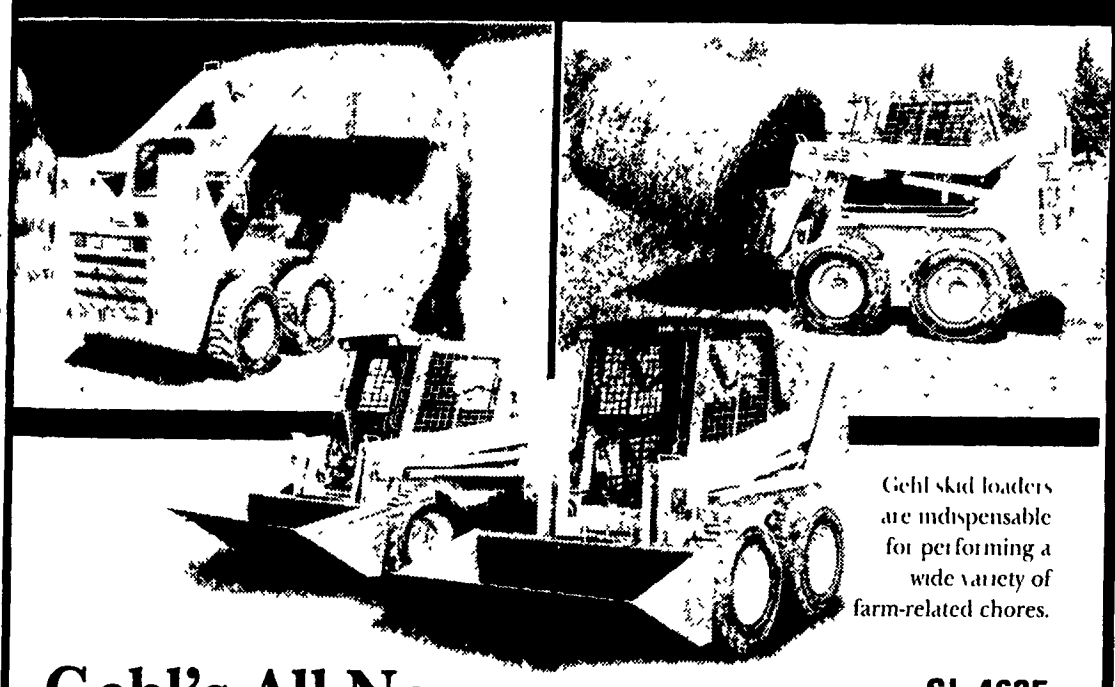
DESIGNED WITH THE FARMER IN MIND!



Gehl skid loaders are indispensable for performing a wide variety of farm-related chores.

Gehl's All-New SL 4635 & 4835 "35 Series" Skid Loaders

Today's farmsteads require a versatile and powerful machine to handle a broad range of material handling jobs. And Gehl's 4635 and 4835 "35 Series" skid loaders fit those needs in more ways than one. Easy to maneuver with high all-around visibility, Gehl skid loaders get the job done in the tightest confines. Plus they offer the power and stability needed to lift your heaviest loads and dig through hardpacked materials. Requiring little maintenance and with built-in features for operator comfort and safety, Gehl's 4635 and 4835 skid loaders are the unit of choice for a wide range of agriculture applications.

SL 4635

From CONSOLIDATED NUTRITION, L.C. RESEARCH

TRANSITION STARTER PAC

For use in dairy cows during the critical transition period.

The Transition period is the most critical period in a cow's lactation, because it directly affects peak milk, reproductive efficiency, and is directly related to metabolic disorders.

TRANSITION STARTER PAC

has been developed using the latest data from Consolidated Nutrition research to:

- Increase Dry Matter Intake
- Improve fiber digestion
- Minimize Ketosis
- Aide in fat metabolism
- Stimulate rumen function
- INCREASE MILK YIELD!

TRANSITION STARTER PAC:

- Can be used in conjunction with DCAD products
- Can be used as a topdress or in a TMR
- Economical, low inclusion, high quality product.

FEED AT THE RATE OF 1 1/4 LB. PER HEAD PER DAY FOR 3 WEEKS PRE FRESH AND 3 WEEKS AFTER FRESHENING to help your cows achieve peak performance during the most critical phase of lactation.

'Calling' On His Best Friend Lends York County Boy Supreme Champion Swine

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — About an hour before he received the supreme champion junior swine banner, a reporter was asking Rick Jones the question: What did you name your hog?

In a pinch, all Rick could think of was his best friend, named "Nike." So the name Nike stuck — so did a middleweight crossbred champion. And so did the supreme champion of the junior swine show Tuesday afternoon at the Farm Show.

Rick, 12, is the son of Rich and Carol Jones, East Berlin. Rick, in the sixth grade at North Salem Elementary, is a member of the York County 4-H Swine Club.

A first-time Farm Show champion for Rick, he has succeeded in recent memory at his local fair, the York Fair, picking up reserve grand champion with a lamb.

This time, Rick selected the hog from the Jim Parlett Farm in Airville. The crossbred hog weighed 235 pounds and was middleweight class winner.

Judge Tom Baas, Iowa State University Extension swine specialist, noted it was a combination of factors that influenced his decision to name the Jones hog champion overall. "It's a combination of length of body and dimension of muscle in a well-balanced package," he said.

When awarding the supreme champion, Baas called the hog "sound, lean, and extremely muscular."

As for reserve, Baas pointed to the 260-pound heavyweight crossbred market hog shown by Lori Connelly, Pennsylvania Furnace. The Hampshire crossbred is "long-bodied, lean, muscular, and still sound."

Lori, 17, is the daughter of Ron and Denise Connelly. Lori, a senior at State College Area High School, has been involved in the Centre Hall 4-H Club for nine years.

Lori said she is in competition with her sister, Keri, at the Centre County Grange Fair and Farm Show. Her sister has done well and placed tops at Farm Show. So, for once, Lori won the competition.

The hog, Lori said, was from Roger Bentley in Sabrina, Ohio.

High School Rodeo Championship

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — High school students from states across the northeastern United States competed this week at the Pennsylvania High School Rodeo Association Championship Rodeo at the 1999 Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Events included break-away calf roping, in which the rider must rope the calf from horseback; pole bending in which the rider must direct the horse in a pre-selected pattern; and steer wrestling where the rider must jump from horseback and wrestle a steer to the ground. These events require a combination of skill, patience and quickness because the events are timed and judges deduct points for mistakes.

Among the Pennsylvania winners was Brian Steinham of Tionesta, Forest County, in the bareback bronco-riding event.

In pre-show events, Kristen Crotta of Bethany, Conn., got a chance to rope Gov. Tom Ridge before he officially opened this year's edition of the Farm Show.

"I am very excited and have a few butterflies in my stomach about participating in this event since this is my first time competing in a high school rodeo competition," said Katie Zyskowski of Saratoga Springs, New York.

Roundup Ready Corn Scores As High As Beans

MARIETTA, Ga. — In its first year on the market, Roundup Ready corn has demonstrated excellent weed control and crop safety, and initial yield results are encouraging.

Satisfaction levels for the new technology are as high as they were for Roundup Ready soybeans when that crop was introduced in 1996. More than nine out of 10 growers surveyed gave Roundup Ready corn high marks in a recent independent survey.

The Roundup Ready system did great across all areas and all weather conditions. Jeff Maurer in Iowa called the Roundup Ready system "excellent" for weed control and rated his comparison program as just "fair." He said Roundup Ultra gave excellent control of yellow foxtail and lambsquarters, while Liberty™ and atrazine failed to control those weeds.

More than 200 growers in Monsanto's Innovator program are giving Roundup Ready corn a comprehensive field trial to compare weed control data, yield, and return-on-investment against traditional corn programs. These corn producers rated the Roundup Ready weed control system as "Excellent" with a score of 3.94 out of 4 for crop safety and 3.71 out of 4 for overall weed control.

Comparison programs were more often rated as "Good" or "Fair" — scoring 3.46 for crop safety and 3.2 for weed-control. The Innovators represent 11 states, stretching from Nebraska and the Dakotas east to Ohio, with 50 growers in both Illinois and Iowa.

"The Roundup Ready corn is the cleanest corn I've got and with the least in chemical cost," said Ohio Innovator Lonnie Printz.

Michigan Innovator Tim Stutzman said, "Roundup Ready corn is an excellent way to clean up your field. It's an economical way to control weeds."

DeKalb was the sole U.S. marketter of Roundup Ready corn seed in 1998. In 1999, Monsanto will provide the Roundup Ready corn tolerance trait to seed companies in a full range of 83- to 116-day corn hybrids.

Monsanto and DeKalb Genetics Corporation have signed a broad licensing agreement to ensure that the trait can be marketed to the entire seed industry. At least 100 seed companies will sell Roundup Ready corn in 1999.

Deere Adds New Family Of Rakes To Hay, Forage Line

MOLINE, Ill. – John Deere has announced the addition of a new family of rakes to its premier line of hay and forage products.

The John Deere 705 Twin Rake and the 702 and 704 Wheel Rakes offer unmatched productivity and versatility for making windrows.

The large-capacity John Deere 705 Twin Rake can handle 9-, 12-, 14-, or 16-foot swaths of cut hay, this large capacity means fewer trips around the field. Hydraulic motors drive each basket and keep the basket speed independent of the ground speed to accommodate varying crop conditions.

Hydraulic windrow width adjustment allows producers to easily change windrow width from 3 feet to 6 feet to match their harvesting capacity. An adjustable tooth pitch makes it possible for producers to adapt the shape and density of windrows to varying speeds and hay conditions.

The new John Deere 702 and 704 Wheel Rakes are available in five configurations, offering producers a wide range of choices for raking windrows together.

The 702 Carted-Style Wheel Rake, offered in both 8- and 10-wheel versions, is an economical answer to raking tow windrows together or gathering a tedded or mown crop into windrows. Raking wheels are mounted on arms that pivot to follow ground contour. Either side of the rake may be locked in a raised position to turn a single windrow. Windrow width is manually adjustable to match the pickup size of the baler.

The 704 Pull-Style Wheel Rake, which is available in 10-, 12-, or 14-wheel versions, has independent raking wheels, each independently suspended to follow the contour of the ground. The 704 Wheel Rake offers greater raking width compared to carted-style rakes, and raking width is hydraulically adjustable. Windrow width can be manually adjusted to match the size of the pickup.

Both the 702 and 704 Wheel Rakes offers an optional center kicker wheel for fluffing the center part of the windrow. The center kicker wheel can be used in applications after mowers or tedders, or when raking three windrows together.

Mid-Range Utility Tractors Meet Demand For Cab, Platform Models

ATLANTA, Ga. — "Today's small farm and light utility operators are looking for tractors in the lower horsepower categories with large tractor features for greater productivity and efficiency — including comfortable cabs and convenient controls," said Richard Petree, Massey Ferguson product marketing manager.

"MF 2200 Series tractors are completely new. They introduce many large tractor features into the utility tractor class, and are available in both cab and platform models to meet the widest range of user requirements," said Petree.

The MF 2210 (49 PTO hp) and MF 2220 (58 PTO hp) are four-wheel drive tractors with new features that advance utility tractor performance to a higher level of productivity and reliability:

- New Perkins 900 Series engines feature Fastram design pistons for improved engine efficiency and reduced emissions.
- New 12x12 transmission couples a three-speed gearbox for range selection with a four-speed synchromesh gearbox and forward/reverse synchromesh shuttle for a wide selection of usable ground speeds and easy direction changes.
- An optional creeper gear with eight ultra slow speeds is available for fine seed bed preparation, planting or harvessting specialty crops, and turf jobs such as golf course aeration.
- Three-point hitch controls supply draft, position, intermix, and response control for improved performance.
- A fully independent, electro-hydraulically controlled 540 PTO achieves full PTO speed in standard mode at 2070 engine RPM, and at 1339 engine RPM in Economy mode for decreased fuel consumption, engine wear, and noise.
- A dual-element, gear-type hydraulic pump is standard. The primary element provides a dedicated flow to power steering, PTO, 4WD and Hydralock. The secondary element provides hydraulic oil for the auxiliary spool valves and 3-point hitch.
- Two open center type spool valves are standard and a third valve is optional to provide hydraulics for a wide variety of applications.

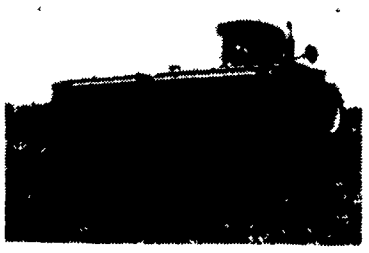
Soybean Machines More Accurate, Efficient

SALINA, Kan. — Great Plains introduces a new line of soybean machines: the 1515, 2015 and 2515. With increased accuracy and capacity, these new models meet the needs of today's farmer.

The soybean machines feature planter-style row units. With parallel-linkage mounts and V-style closing wheels, the row units provide better depth control and seed-to-soil contact than many planters.

In terms of productivity, Great Plains soybean machines have planters beat hands down. With a total capacity of 57.6 bushels, the 2515 model has 50 percent more capacity than a 24-row planter with hoppers. The result is increased efficiency and productivity.

With row spacing fo 15 inches, Great Plains soybean machines also will out perform planters in yield trials. Testd data consistently show that 15-inch beans yield higher than beans planted on 30-inch rows and wider.



With 25 feet of working width and 57 bushels of seedbox capacity, the three-point 2515 soybean machine covers fields fast.

Available in 15-, 20- and 25-foot widths, Great Plains makes a soybean machine for any size operation. Optional lift assist makes the soybean machines a light load for almost any tractor.

Markers, coulters, and a heavy-duty-spring package are available. Prices start at $18,000.

Badger Brings On New TMR Mixers

ST. NAZIANZ, Wis. — Badger Farm Systems has added a new TMR mixer product line to its equipment offerings for dairy and livestock producers.

New Turbo/4™ TMR mixers feature a four-auger system that mixes feed vertically and horizontally, providing operators a real advantage. This designs move material in a spherical pattern for faster and more complete mixing.

Wherever feed ingredients are added, they are quickly distributed throughout the batch. And Turbo/4™ units can be filled to greater capacity than reel-type models which begin to throw feed overboard with their vertical lift mixing pattern. Augers are equipped with hay relief notches. Lower auger rotates against a shear bar to tear apart slabs of baled hay during the mixing process.

Loading is more convenient with a low profile design that allows medium size skid steer loaders to easily reach the top of the mixer. Yet its long discharge conveyor with hydraulically adjustable height can deliver feed into a 40-inch bunk at a 30-degree angle. The extra-wide conveyor moves high volumes of feed quickly. An optional chute at the conveyor end can be outfitted with a powerful, wide magnet to collect foreign metal objects, and has a hydraulic fold option to decrease transport width.

The scale package includes weight bars and a choice of three monitors with available remote controls for the monitors.

Two-Speed Drive Available On Gehl Skid Loaders

WEST BEND, Wis. – Gehl Company announces the availability of a two-speed drive option on their tow largest skid loaders, the models 5635 and 6635. This two-speed option allows standard working speeds from zero to eight miles per hour plus a higher traveling speed up 12. 5 miles per hour.

"Our new two-speed drive delivers over 56 percent more ground speed," said Kelly Moore, Gehl skid loader product development manager. "That translates into more productivity by minimizing travel time around the job site."

The Gehl Model 5635 is available with either a 60-hp or 80-hp turbo-charged oil-cooled diesel engine and has an SAE operating capacity of 1,800 pounds. The Model 6635 features the 80-hp turbo engine and a big 2,300 pounds SAE operating capacity. Optional counter weight kits raise the capacities to 2100 pounds on the 5635 and 2,600 pounds on the 6635.

Lester Building Systems, FFA Celebrate Golden Anniversary

LESTER PRAIRIE, Minn. — Lester Building Systems and Butler Manufacturing Company celebrated their 50th year of sponsoring the National FFA Award Winner's Breakfast at the National FFA Convention in November 1998.

This golden anniversary represents the importance Butler and Lester place on the youth of this country. For the past 50 years, the Butler Foundation has sponsored this event and given to the general fund for FFA.

"The roots of Butler and Lester are in the agricultural market," said Marc Hafer, president of Lester Building Systems. "While both companies have expanded into markets outside of agriculture, we still believe the National FFA Organization is worthy of our support. It's an organization that truly develops the leaders of tomorrow — leaders both inside and outside of the agricultural sector."

Lester and Butler will continue their sponsorship of the National Award Winners' breakfast in 1999 at the convention in Louisville.

"We look forward each year to meeting the outstanding members of the FFA organization," said John Hill, vice president of sales/marketing for Lester and members of the National FFA Foundation Board. "As this year's breakfast speaker, Orion Samuelson, put it, the FFA convention is 'a time to re-energize.' Just being around the young people and seeing their energy and enthusiasm for life and the future is a breath of fresh air."

Lester and Butler are proud to have sponsored the FFA organization for 50 years and plan to continue to support this worthwhile group.

THINK CONCRETE WHEN PLANNING YOUR FEED STORAGE!!

"This is the kind of silo you need to protect your valuable feed."

"HOW WILL YOU BE STORING YOUR VALUABLE FORAGES AND GRAINS IN THE 21ST CENTURY?

It's not too early to begin planning your storage and feeding systems for the year 2000 and beyond.

As margins narrow, dairymen need to invest in efficiency; this can have as great an influence on PROFIT as milk price changes

Protect your valuable feeds from the elements... increase the efficiency of your feeds, your animals, and your labor.

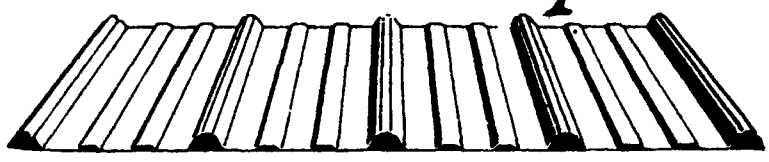
Rural Economy



Cost-efficient Centurydrain® roofing and siding is on some of the best looking buildings in the country.

Build with Centurydrain roofing and siding and you've built a money-wise structure. Full-hard, high tensile galvanized steel, and an exclusive drain channel for a dry interior give you a building that'll handle years of hard duty and hard weather. Good looking, too. Crisp lines and plenty of bright, long-lasting colors make Wheeling Centurydrain as handsome as it is economical.

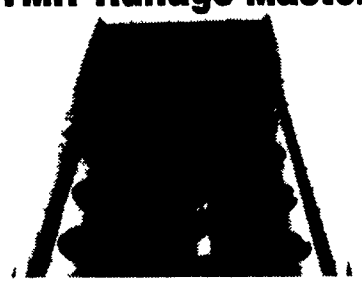
YOU JUST CAN'T MATCH

OUR MIX

TMR Ruffage Master

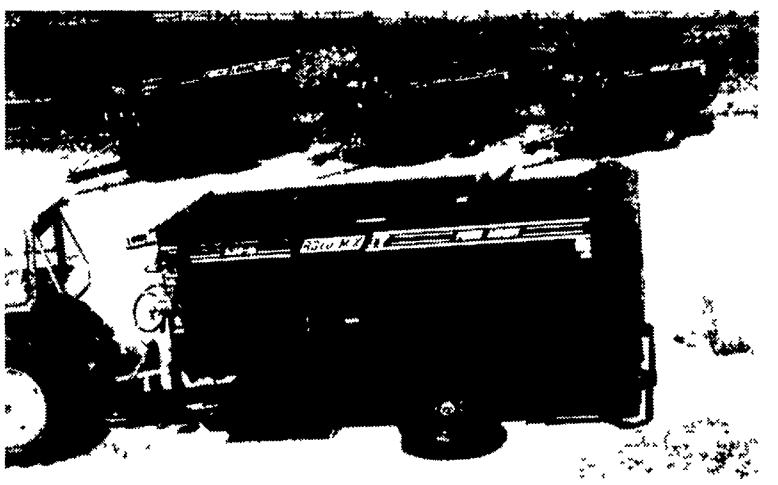
These new Oswalt four auger Model 200/250 mixers are designed to process and mix all feeds, including baled hay, into a fully-blended TMR...better than anyone! The aggressive, notched, 20-diameter, full-pitch, four auger mixing pattern.



OSWALT
Mixers by J-STAR

and exclusive, self-lubricating Tuff-Glide® liners help feed materials flow more freely, reducing horsepower requirements and virtually eliminating material hang-ups and dead spots. The end result A better quality of mix! See your Oswalt Dealer today!

ROTO-MIX FEED MIXERS



The ROTO-MIX professionals know that quality feed means increased consumption, therefore, higher product on levels With ROTO-MIX IV you reduce fines, minimize shrinkage, and eliminate dead spots The gentle tumbling action mixes fragile flaked and high-moisture ingredients without grinding, resulting in a fluffier, more nutritional ration Nothing robs a ration of nutritional value more than fines Conventional auger mixers use pressure to move the feed through the mixing chamber, thus crushing the feed and creating fines But the ROTO-MIX patented mixing system uses a rotor to gently lift the feed past the wedging point of the lower side auger, keeping fines to a minimum and reducing nutritional loss Even the most nutritious ration is effective only if the cattle eat the complete ration Improperly mixed feed allows the cattle to "nose out" what they don't want, disrupting the balance of nutrients But the ROTO-MIX end-to-end side-to-side mixing system provides the most thorough TMR available, ensuring that your cattle will consume a balanced ration of nutrients in every pound of feed they eat.

Check all the ROTO-Mix advantages... the bottom line is what counts.

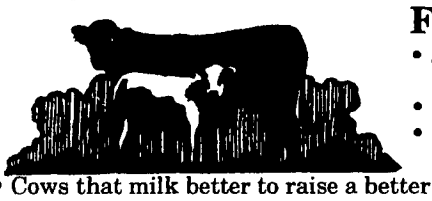
SWEETCAKE 16NU
FEED SUPPLEMENT BLOCKS FOR THE LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY
• High Natural Protein • No Urea • Fat Enhanced
• Balanced Supplementation • Safe For All Livestock Classes

Sweetcake Advantages
- Aids in making the best use of your available forage
- Promotes a more even herd consumption, with 24-hour availability to all cattle
- Reduces labor to save you money and give you more time to make important management decisions
- Supplies much-needed vitamins and minerals that forage lacks to help your cattle perform to their genetic potential
- Supplies fat in most formulations to enhance energy intake

For Dairy

- Replacement heifers that grow out soundly and economically
- Body condition on dry cows so they can return to lactation, producing at the maximum potential
- Healthier herds, with essential trace minerals that help prevent metritis, retained placenta and other health problems
- Prompt re-breeding, thanks to essential nutrients

For Beef



- Stronger, healthier calves at birth
- Heavier Calves at weaning
- Cows that cycle better for improved conception rates
- Cows that milk better to raise a better calf

- AVAILABLE IN 200 LB. SIZE -

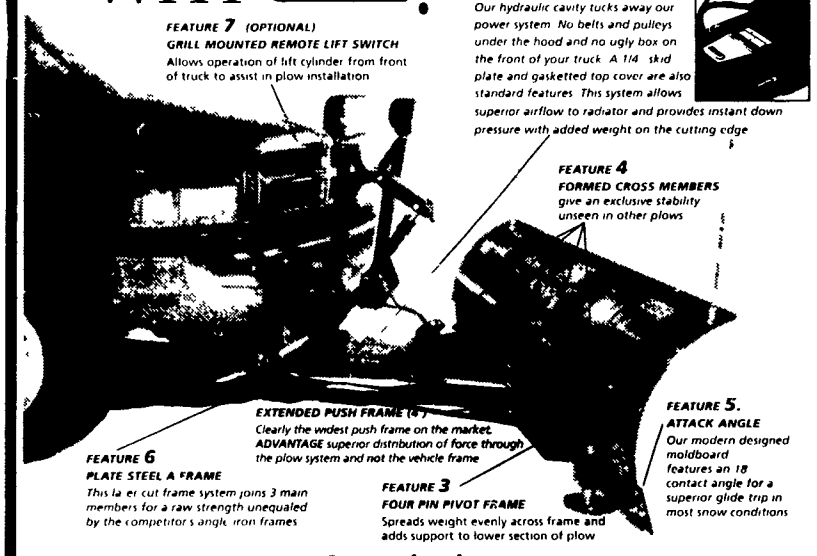
WHY CURTIS?



FEATURE 1
HIDE AWAY HYDRAULICS
Our hydraulic cavity tucks away our power system. No belts and pulleys under the hood and no ugly box on the front of your truck. A 1/4" skid plate and gasketted top cover are also standard features. This system allows superior airflow to radiator and provides instant down pressure with added weight on the cutting edge.

FEATURE 7 (OPTIONAL)
GRILL MOUNTED REMOTE LIFT SWITCH
Allows operation of lift cylinder from front of truck to assist in plow installation

FORMED CROSS MEMBERS
give an exclusive stability unseen in other plows

EXTENDED PUSH FRAME (6")
Clearly the widest push frame on the market. ADVANTAGE superior distribution of force through the plow system and not the vehicle frame

FEATURE 6
PLATE STEEL A FRAME
This la er cut frame system joins 3 main members for a raw strength unequaled by the competitor s angle iron frames

FOUR PIN PIVOT FRAME
Spreads weight evenly across frame and adds support to lower section of plow

FEATURE 5.
ATTACK ANGLE
Our modern designed moldboard features an 18° contact angle for a superior glide trip in most snow conditions

PURINA DAIRY HERD PROFILE

21,000 LBS. HERD AVERAGE

The Donald Speakman family has a century of farm life in their blood. They farm 300 acres in Chester County to provide forage for their 105-head commercial Holstein milking herd and young stock replacements. Their farm is located right along Route 41 in the little town of Chatham just north of Route 1.

Donald Sr. and Donald Jr. both are enthused about the increase in milk production and improvement in herd health, especially breeding efficiency since they started feeding Purina feeds two years ago. From an 18,000 lb. herd average as recently as 18 months ago, they now have a 21,000 lbs. herd average with individuals producing over 100 lbs. per day and individual records completed over 25,000 lbs. The Speakmans are not only pleased with the custom 32 percent concentrate Purina has developed for their farm, they have benefited from Purina's over-all herd management program and the close ties with their local veterinarian.

"Not only has Purina given us an excellent feed and feeding program with a concentrate that has our name on it, to balance our corn silage, rye haylage and high moisture corn, they have worked with our veterinarian to improve herd health with vaccination and reproductive programs," Donald said. "The intensity of Purina's research behind the feed and dairy management programs are second to none. I certainly can recommend Purina because they have helped us."
